Shammon,

Hey Dude! It's been real. I'm really glad I got to meet you in teeny's even though you're a TAD strange. Hopefully next year we'll be in some classes together. On second thought, maybe I don't want you in my classes because your strangeness might rub off on me. Oh no!! Well I hope you have a great SENIOR summer & stay cool.

To a very special girl I got to know alot better this year. Thank for all the laughs we had by our locker. I can't believe that there's actually a girl in this school that loves soccer so much. I hope you have a wonderful summer and don't work too hard because money isn't everything. Who knows maybe I could end up coaching you next year. Don't worry you not as strange as everyone thinks.

No Easy Solutions

MATH

To graduate from Sterling, students needed to acquire two math credits. To help fulfill that requirement, 14 different math classes were offered at SHHS during the 1987-88 school year.

A total of 1,581 students were enrolled in the math program. That means about 79 percent of the student body were taking some kind of math course.

Choices ranged from Basic Math to accelerated Calculus. Geometry, with a total enrollment of 285 students, was the most popular choice in 1987.

The next most popular class was Algebra II, taught by Mrs. Kekovich. "I particularly like teaching Algebra II," commented Mrs. Kekovich, "because I can have such a positive influence on the lives of so many young people."

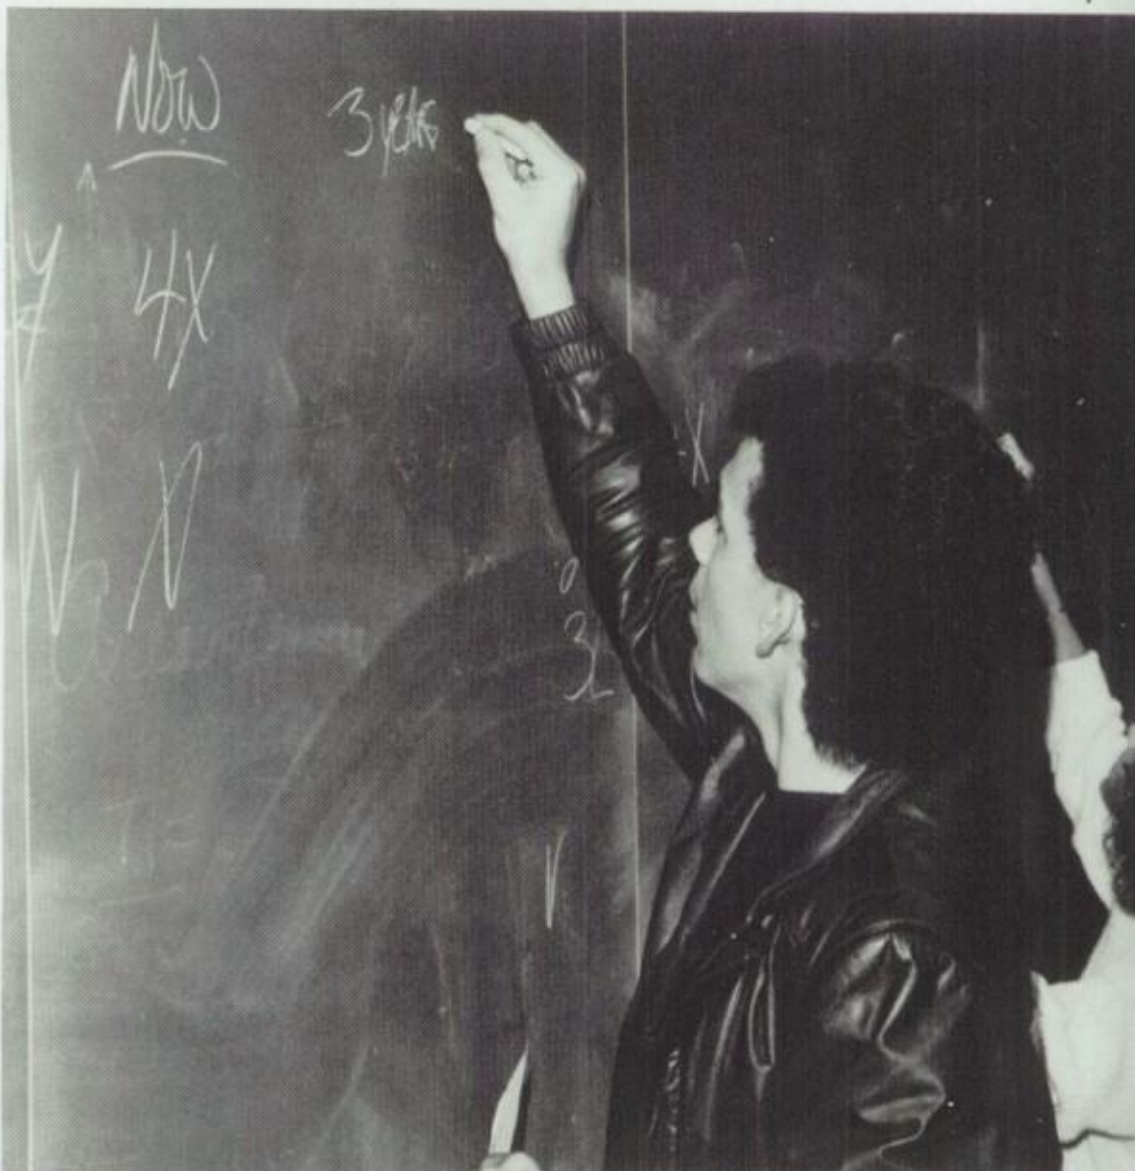

Many students take classes beyond the basic requirement to prepare for some of the demanding programs that may lie ahead. "I took math, even though I already have the required amount of credit, because I know that engineering in college will demand a solid math background," explained Sheila Duda.

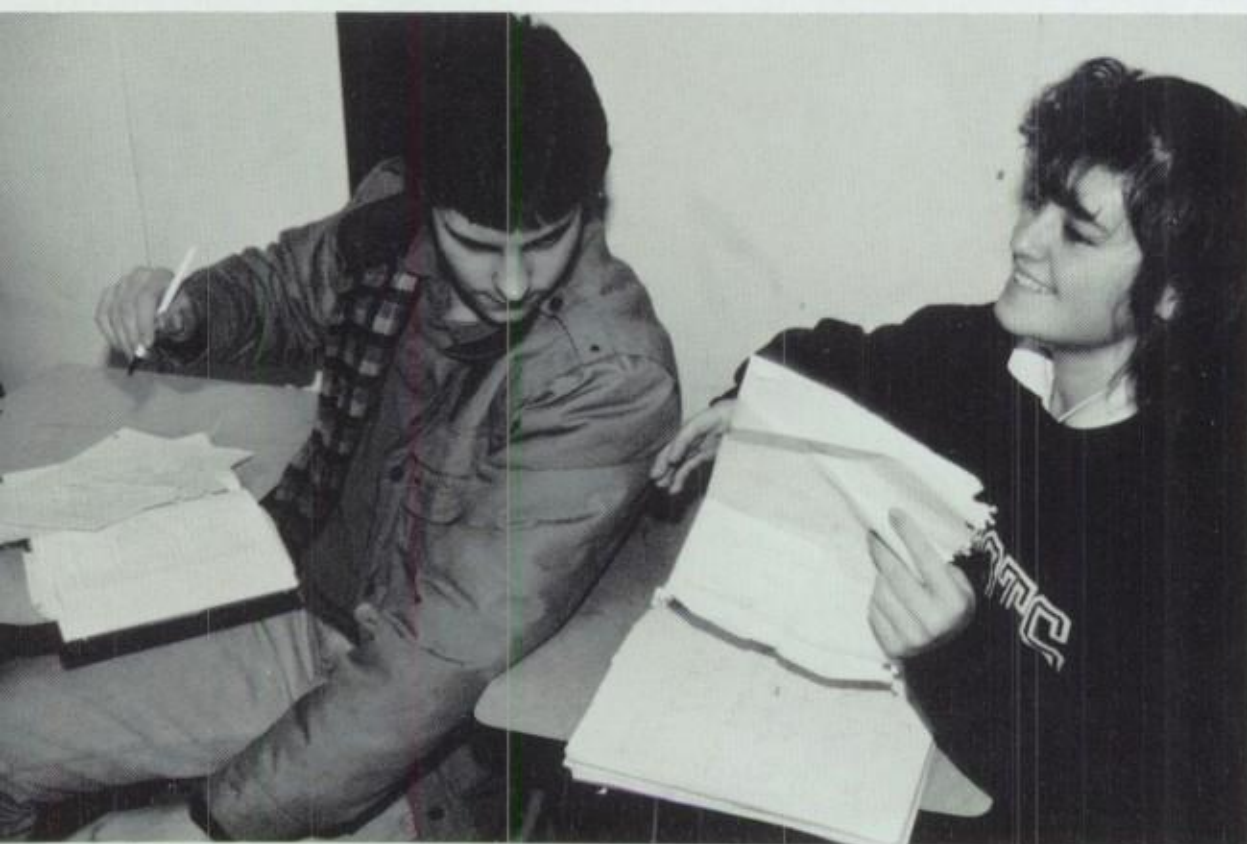

Basic Programming and Personal Computer Application were also offered through the math department.

The Math Club also offered math enthusiasts a chance to develop their proficiency while competing with others with similar interests.

1. Marco Begola uses a protractor to solve a problem. 2. Tom Kirkpatrick transcribes a homework problem to the board. 3. Bill Fohriep and Sherilyn Bashaw compare notes. 4. Susan Chojnowski likes to be precise with her graphs. 5. Brook Springer shows Kristi Borch the new technical functions on her calculator.

Don't Change That Channel TV

It's one thing to sit back and watch your favorite daytime soap, the news, or a Piston game. It's quite another to be behind the scenes, operating a camera, conducting an interview, or editing a special broadcast.

Students enrolled in Mr. Haralson's TV classes (TV 1, TV 2, and TV 3) learn what it is like to produce actual TV shows. From 9:30 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Channel 6 airs a message board providing community information.

Other types of programming include sporting events like Girls Basketball, Wrestling, and Volleyball, coverage of chorus and band concerts, and talk shows concerning topics of community interest.

Total enrollment in the different sections of the class numbers above 150 students. How does Mr. Haralson feel about his present classes?

"I have some very talented students in TV 1, TV 2, AND TV 3," remarked Mr. Haralson.

Two of the highlights of the season included working on the press coverage of the Pope's visit to Detroit in September, and conducting an interview with Isaih Thomas.

"We had to make a lot of phone calls and we had to get out of several classes in order to film the Pope," commented Laura Knight, a student in TV 2.

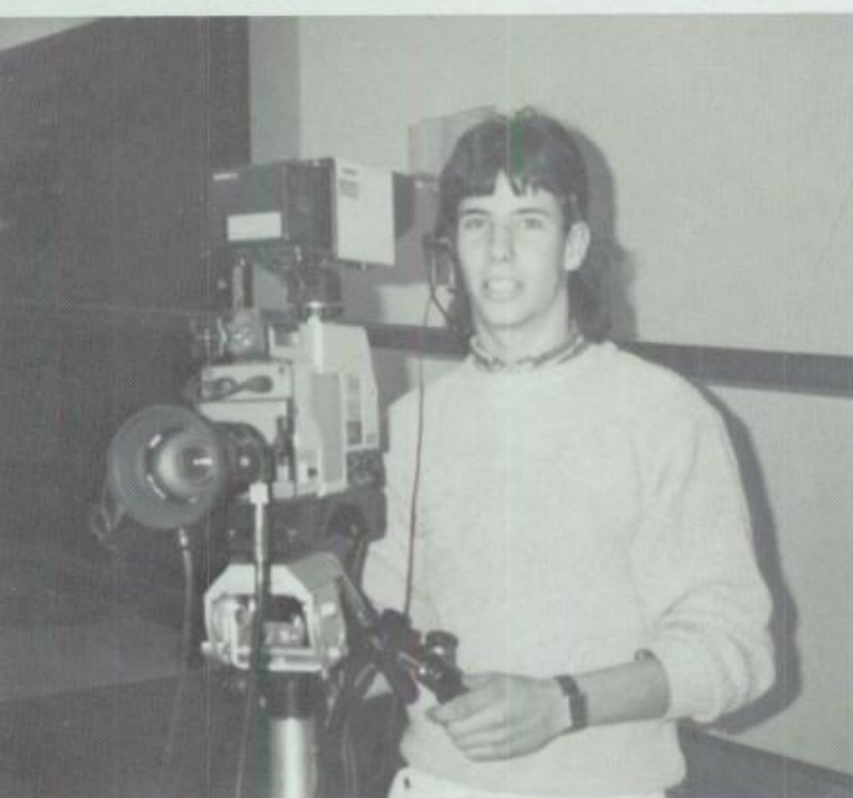

Channel 6 is looking into the possibility of doing some selected programming for Channel 56, the Detroit based PBS station. The work of the TV classes may even be aired on national TV sometime in the future. Making a Big Splash!

SOCIAL STUDIES

Psychotic. Neurotic. Schizophrenic. Paranoid. You began to grasp the scope of deviant behavior — all thanks to the new terminology you acquired through Psychology. With a total enrollment of close to 400 students, Psychology was one of the more popular offerings in Sterling's social studies curriculum.

"Most people take courses like Psychology for self-awareness and self-discovery purposes," commented Mr. Bolla. "I think everybody wants to find out more about themselves."

Law Enforcement was another popular class. Mr. Gose invited guest speakers ranging from military police to officials from the Justice Department to help students understand the nature and scope of the legal system.

Leadership Class once again played a key role in helping to promote student government while coordinating a variety of school activities.

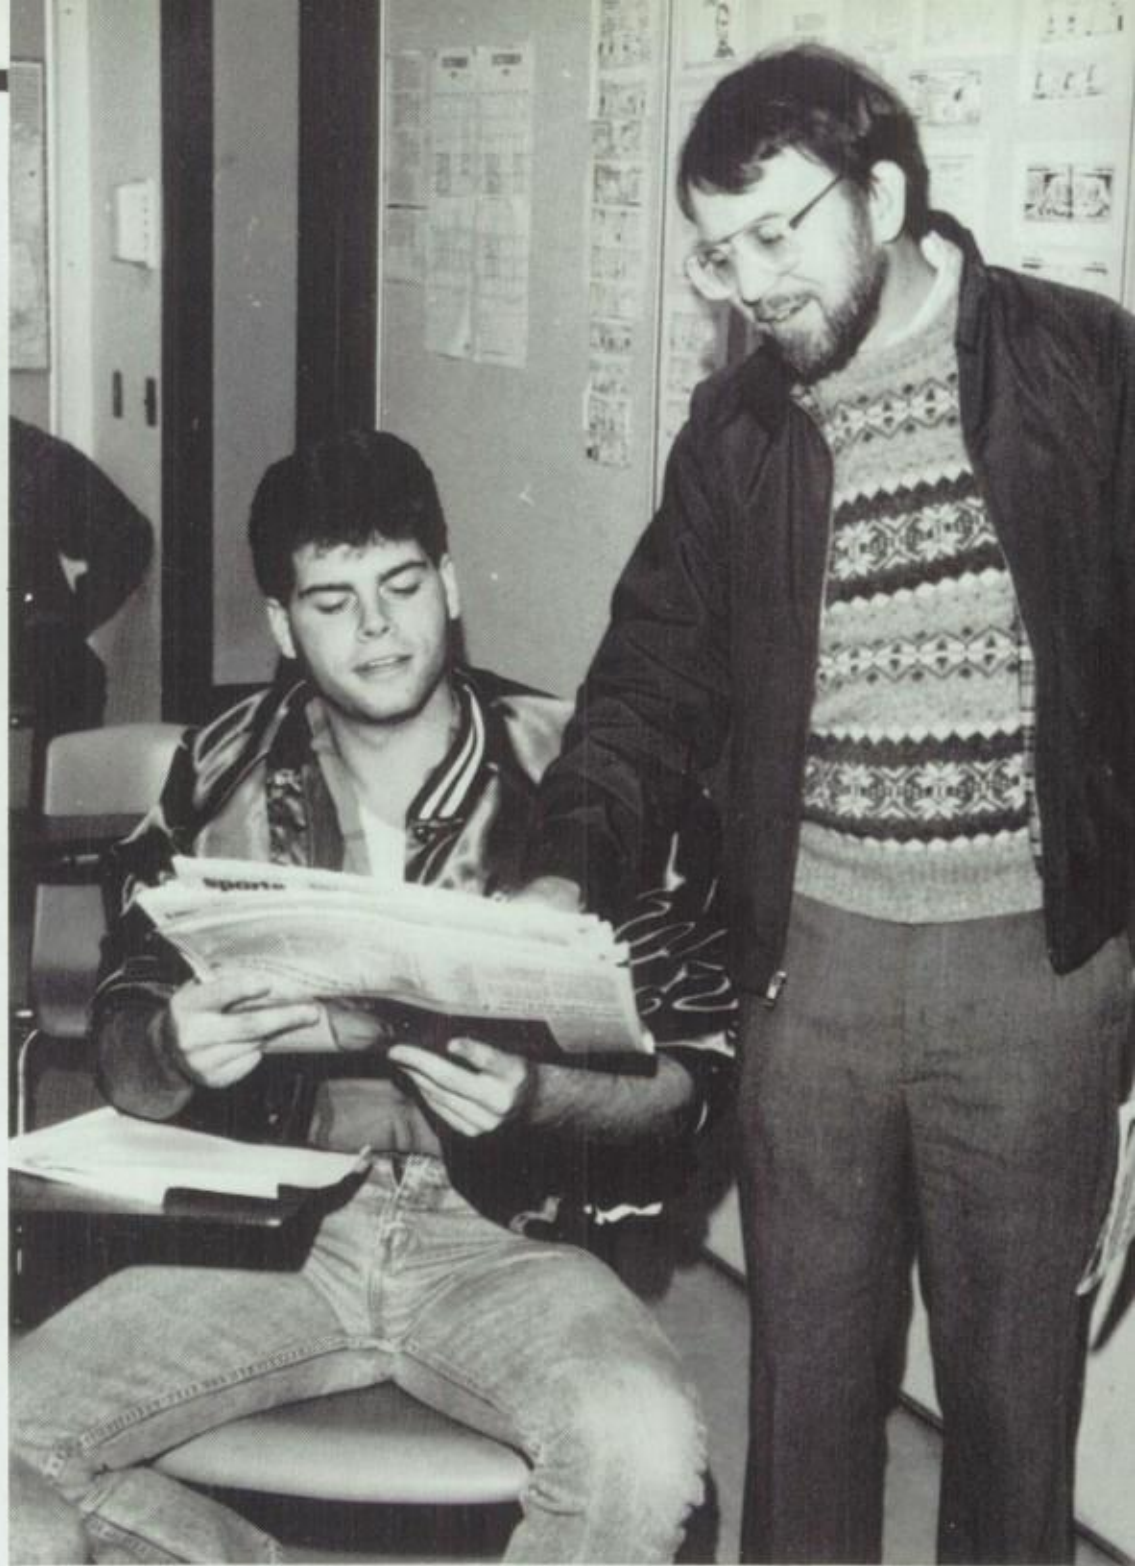

American History and Government remained classes that were required for graduation, but China became a new two-hour elective which introduced students to both the culture and the language of China.

Economics helped students understand some of the more complex aspects of family finances, while also introducing many to various business concerns, like the stock market, which are often puzzling.

Mrs. Radlinski helped many students, through her Personal Growth classes, to better understand themselves and the problems of growing up.

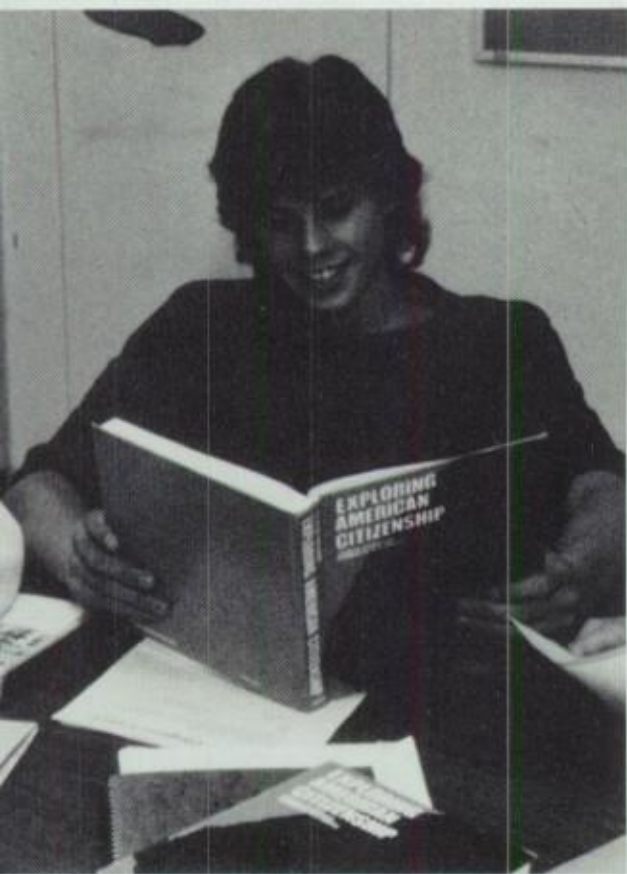

Computer Application in Social Studies, taught by Mr. Perry, was a new offering within the department. One of the assignments required students to write letters to government officials, then report back to class on the responses they received.

1. Steve Angeli catches up on current events in Mr. Hungerford's contemporary problems class. 2. Mr. Sayers helps Mike Suede with the correlation between taste and smell. 3. Mr. Perry's class really "digs" Anthropology. 4. Brian Kanigowski focuses his attention on the Bill of Rights. 5. Ho Ta practices writing his Chinese figures. 6. Dennis Cibor, Scott Riopelle, Michelle Domanski, Scott Lucaj and Susan Cummings learn about growing up in the 80's in Mrs. Radlinski's Personal Growth class.

Now You're Cooking! HOME EC

Cooking and sewing are just two of the many areas taught in Home Ec classes. Other topics include child care, contemporary consumerism, interior design, child development, foods, family living, and life skills.

Classes are taught by Mrs. St. John and Mrs. Isaacson. Over 400 students are enrolled this year.

Speakers are common in the various classes. They can tell of experiences they have had and share advice.

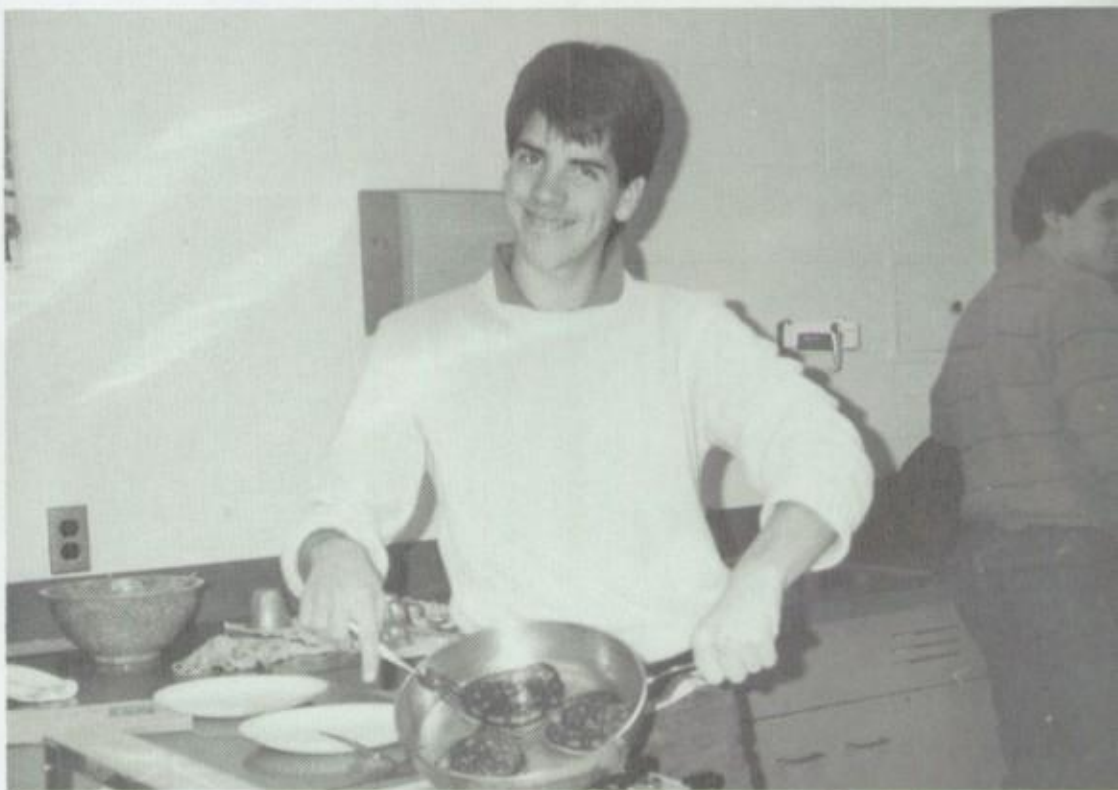

A project in Contemporary consumerism consisted of finding a job, buying a house, and paying the bills.

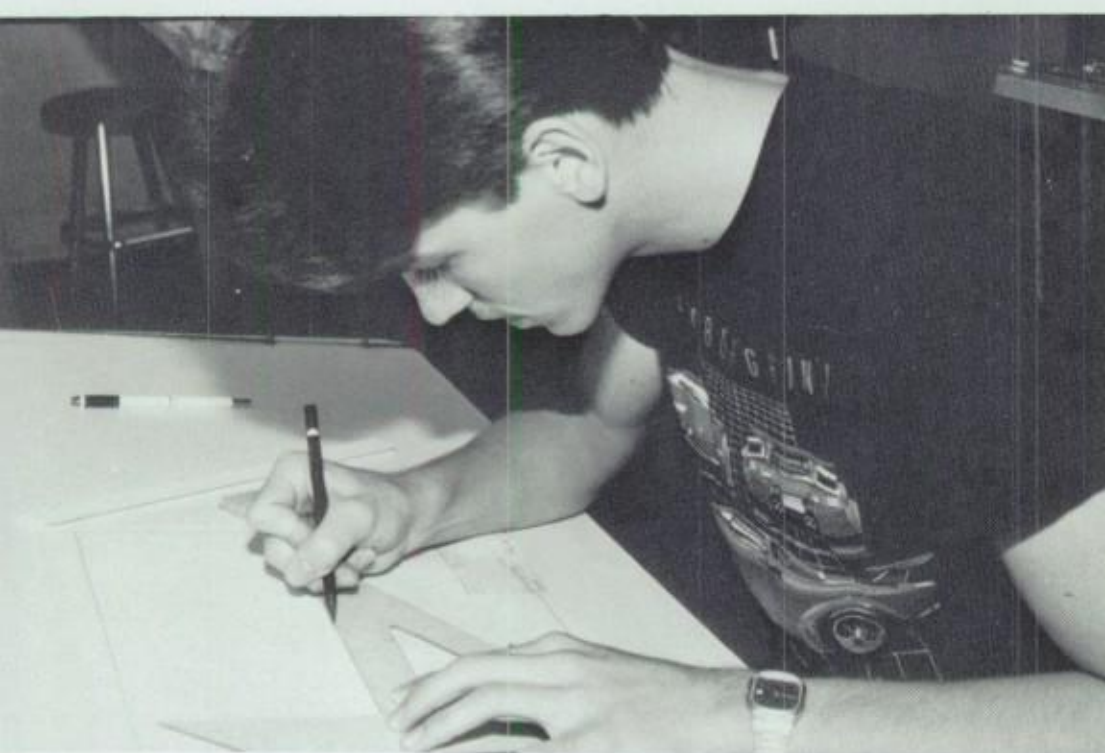

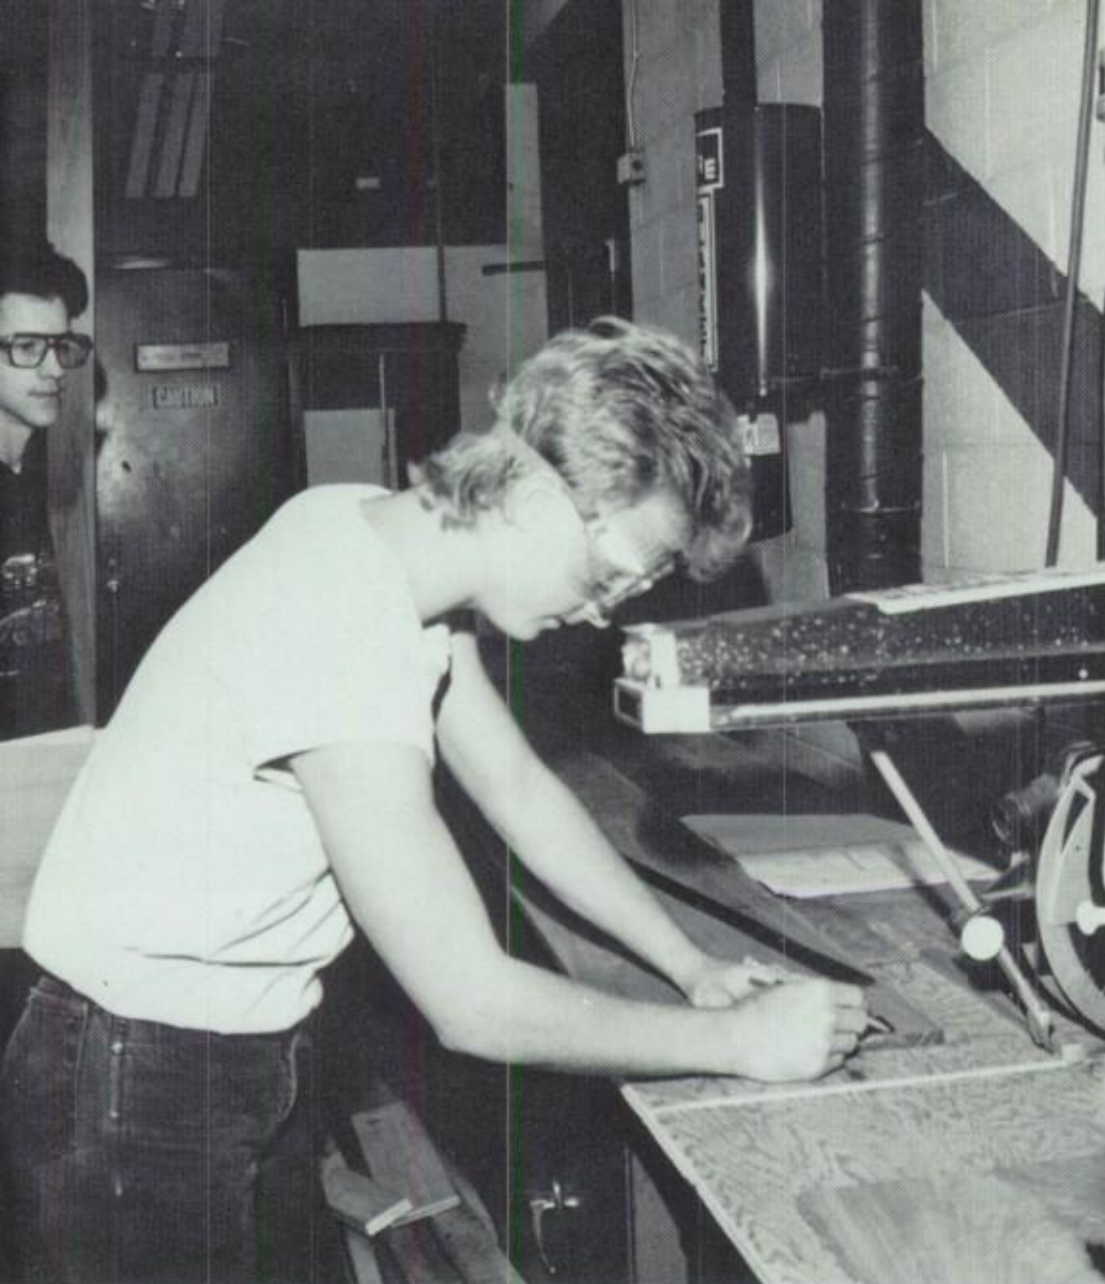

"It's amazing," commented Mrs. St. John, "how many students want to change careers to get more of the good things in life! In the class, however, the students must at least stick with their career choice for the semester."

Sophomore Kristy Michalowicz explained that her enrollment in Child Care was definitely linked to her future plans. "I was hoping Child Care would expand my knowledge of taking on the big responsibility of raising children."

Junior Tanya Kotlarz took the same class for a more professional reason. "I hope to be working in Pediatrics someday, and I thought the class would be a growing experience for me."

Getting The Job Done VOC ED

Over 439 students are learning the necessary skills for a future trade through the Voc Ed department.

Drafting, Electronics, Metals, and Wood Working help students decide what type of career they are interested in.

Drafting has over 109 students enrolled, making it the most popular of the Voc Ed classes.

"I took drafting so I can learn the necessary skills I'll need to eventually design and build my own house," commented Ken Piwko.

Metals, taught by Mr. Kowaleski, includes instruction on sheetmetal and welding.

"Besides getting an idea of the kind of work they might want to pursue," stated Mr. Kowaleski, "many are learning skills for everyday life."

Basic house wiring, what makes radios work, robotics, and fiber optics are some of the areas taught in Electronics.

Wood Working permits students to choose their own projects to work on. Projects range from centerpieces to cabinets and stereo stands.

1. Patrick Gomey works diligently on his wood project.
2. Bob Komoroski and Matt Waterman double check their calculations for Electronics.
3. Kevin Osentuski finishes a mechanical drafting assignment.

In Other Words FOREIGN LANGUAGE

In a year that saw the U.S. sign a nuclear arms treaty with the Soviet Union, it is most evident that our nation must place a high premium on communication with other countries. Foreign language, and the discovery of foreign cultures, is a very important part of the high school curriculum.

French, Spanish, and German have been well established as the backbone of Sterling's language program. French and Spanish, if selected in ninth grade, can be pursued for a full four years.

Studying a foreign language also allows a student to become familiar with the cultures of different countries. Not only is French culture studied in class, but the French Club plans trips to nearby French restaurants.

Fourteen students plan to travel to France during the Easter break with their instructor, Mrs. Lutz.

On December 4 German students attended a Christmas Party at the Bavarian Chateau. Students enjoyed singing German Christmas carols.

Earlier in the year in October Alt Heidelberg Hall hosted the Oktoberfest, an event which many German students attended.

An International Food Festival held in Sterling's own cafeteria in November provided foreign language students with an extra opportunity to promote the cuisine and culture of the country they were studying.

The China program was also expanded this year, with students from Mott, Cousino, and Warren joining Sterling students to pursue the Chinese culture and language. Mrs. Drury's enthusiasm also resulted in a China Club being formed.

Color My World ART

The number of Art classes has decreased in recent years, causing the number of art instructors to be cut back to 1 and 2/5's teachers. Mr. Hakala teaches art full time, while Mrs. Morgan must divide her time between art and English instruction.

One of the difficulties teaching art involves the set up and clean up time that must be scheduled into each class. If one subtracts 20 minutes for such considerations, then only 30 minutes can actually be devoted to art instruction.

When one considers that a class might consist of 30 students, then student-teacher contact time might be limited to one minute per day.

"When students complain to parents that they don't receive enough help, I wish they could understand our predicament," comments Mr. Hakala.

Mr. Hakala has taught art at Sterling since the building opened. His teaching duties were mainly comprised of 2-D Art classes.

Mrs. Morgan instructs two 3-D Art classes each day.

Course offerings include drawing, painting, design and materials, studio art, commercial art, and sculpture.

GYM

News "Splash!" The long awaited re-opening of Sterling's pool finally took place on November 16, 1987. Students would participate in a swim class as part of their gym credit.

"Our instructors are well-qualified," commented Mrs. Dailey. "They will be teaching water safety and basic swimming strokes."

Eventually, the community will benefit from the pool as it will be opened for public recreation.

Gym class has been established as a requirement to graduate. Students can, however, meet the requirement by participating in a sports activity or by enrolling in Marching Band.

Students are taught both the rules and regulations of most sports, as well as expected to participate in many of these same activities.

"My gym classes can contain as many as 55 students, which allows me to organize more teams for activities," commented Mrs. Davis.

Minds Over Matter

SCIENCE

Walkmans, Miniature TV sets. Laser disks. Car telephones. It's almost impossible to overstate the impact that science has on our lives. And each year the picture changes dramatically.

In response, almost 1300 students enrolled in the science curriculum at Sterling.

The most popular course chosen in the program was Chemistry I, with a total enrollment of 275 students. The next most popular selection was Biology I with over 180 students enrolled.

The most challenging science offering? Many would vote for Physics — some students avoid enrolling just to protect their GPA. Dave Mikosz, having already gone through Physics, claimed Biology II is even tougher.

But basic facts are not all that science courses impart. "Science classes can help develop study skills and techniques," commented Mr. Lanier. "They also help prepare students for college and everyday life."

The summer of 1987 saw one of Sterling's science faculty receive special recognition. Biology and Earth Science teacher Bill Feddeler earned the Christa McAuliffe Fellowship award.

Mr. Feddler will share part of a $53,900 prize to institute an awareness program dealing with the water quality of the Clinton River Watershed.

That's Easy For You To Say

ENGLISH

What "affect" do English classes really have on a person? Or is it — what "effect" do English classes really have on a person? Grammar instruction does pay dividends, and can save unnecessary trips to the dictionary.

Seventeen different English classes were available to students during the 1987-88 school year.

College Prep, General, and Basic English were offered at all the grade levels. Journalism, Creative Writing, Twentieth Century Literature, Advanced Comp, Reading Improvement, Drama, Speech, and Advanced Placement English helped round out the list of offerings.

Advanced Placement English was offered for the first time this year. The class of 18 students met third hour for the entire year.

Entrance into the class required a B or better average in English and a teacher's recommendation. In the Spring students could take a test for possible college credit for their efforts.

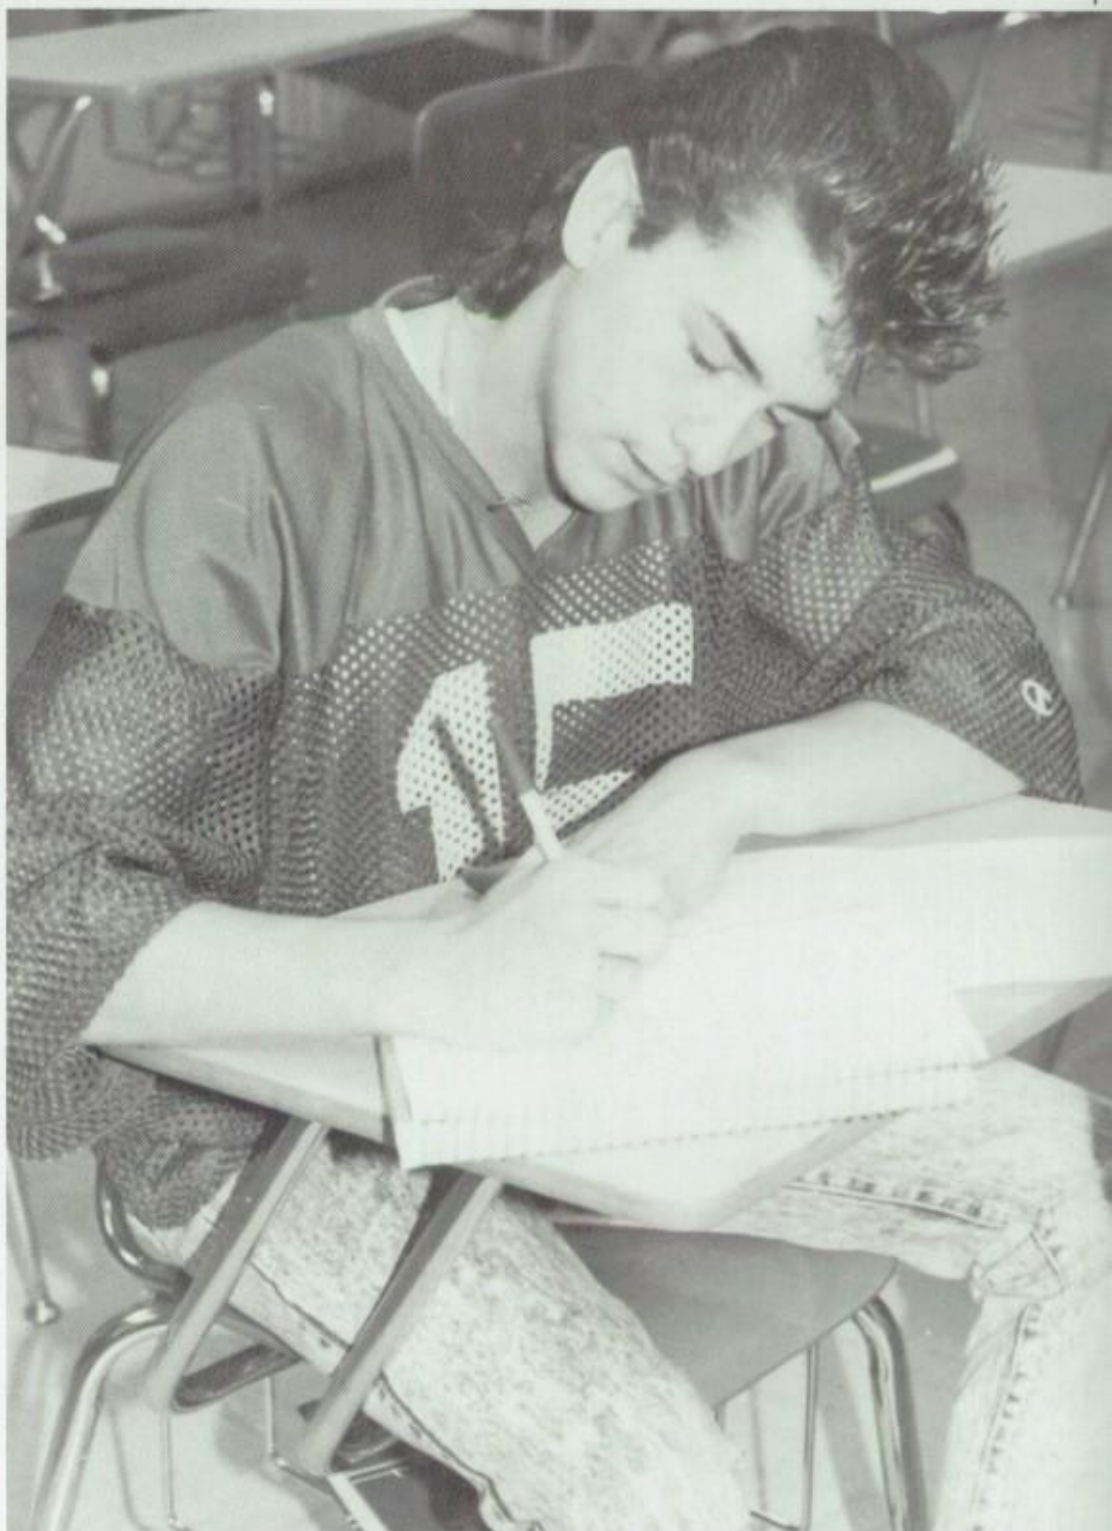

"I love the class," commented instructor Fred Thompson. "It is the most consistently outstanding class I've ever had."

Drama, taught by Mrs. Feeny, included 30 students. Performances were given twice each week, and tests measured the learning of different acting techniques.

What will students remember most about their high school English classes? Will it be the adventures of Romeo and Juliet, Huck Finn, or Beowulf? Will it be doing the research paper, doing vocab skits, or editing themes.

Will they remember the proper usage of "affect and effect"?

Jane Christy

Mrs. Jane Christy, choral director, was honored during the American Education Week in November for being selected as the 1987 "Teacher of the Year."

Mrs. Christy was singled out by her fellow staff members at Sterling for her ability to motivate young people and for her "infinite energy and initiative."

"My aim is to help students acquire an understanding and appreciation for all types of music," commented Mrs. Christy.

Ending On A High Note CHOIR

"Pitches, everyone," commanded Mrs. Jane Christy, as she called her choir classes to order, and prepared for a practice session. Choir classes at Sterling grew to include 149 members, enrolled in four different choir classes.

Sterling Silver won for the second consecutive year at the Northern Regional Show Choir competition; it also took first place honors for choreography.

The group performed at K Mart International, the Festival of Trees at Cobo Hall, and Opening Day ceremonies at Boblo Island.

Chorale and Varsity Choir also took part in a special show called the "Art of Entertainment."

Students got the privilege of working with such professionals as director Fritz Montford and choreographer John Jacobson.

Fifty-three students attended Show Choir camps during the summer. Seniors Ken Habbel and Andrea Cross were invited to attend Fred Waring's U.S. Choir at Penn State University.

A Noteworthy Effort! BAND

"We're having a banner year," commented Band Director Jerry Hasspacher. "I'm very excited about all the groups. We have some very good music students, and they've worked hard to make us successful."

The Band's school spirit was impossible to overlook. Their participation and cheering at the games, their float, and their banner at Homecoming all evidenced the commitment of its membership.

Additional contributions were made by drum majors Sue Chopp and Karen Kinner and the Band Boosters, who stood firmly behind the group's successes.

Sterling's bands were comprised of Concert Band, Symphonic Band, Jazz Band, and Marching Band. Marching Band, the largest of the four groups, numbered over one hundred members.

All four of Sterling's bands competed in the MSBOA festival. Their efforts were compensated with a Class A second division rating.

The bands also participated in many other events including the Michigan Sequicentennial parade, the 25th Anniversary Recognition Dinner, and graduation at the Pontiac Silverdome.

The Marching Band also participated in the Special Olympics Parade in downtown Detroit. The group visited Greektown afterwards.

Taking Care Of Business BUSINESS

Tax forms. Budgets. Checking accounts. Help! Practically everyone has to deal with these responsibilities sooner or later, and business classes such as accounting can give those enrolled a good foundation for understanding such items.

Over 250 students enrolled in Accounting classes last year. "Accounting is quite helpful to anyone keeping personal records," explained Mr. Munn. In fact, accounting is the language of business."

In his second year of Accounting, senior Matt Jaroma commented, "It's helped me a great deal, especially since I'm manager at my work and I need skills in keeping business records."

Office Co-op puts students into the actual business world. Fifty students were getting on the job training working for such businesses as General Motors, K-Mart Headquarters, Rockwell International, and Detroit Plastic Molding.

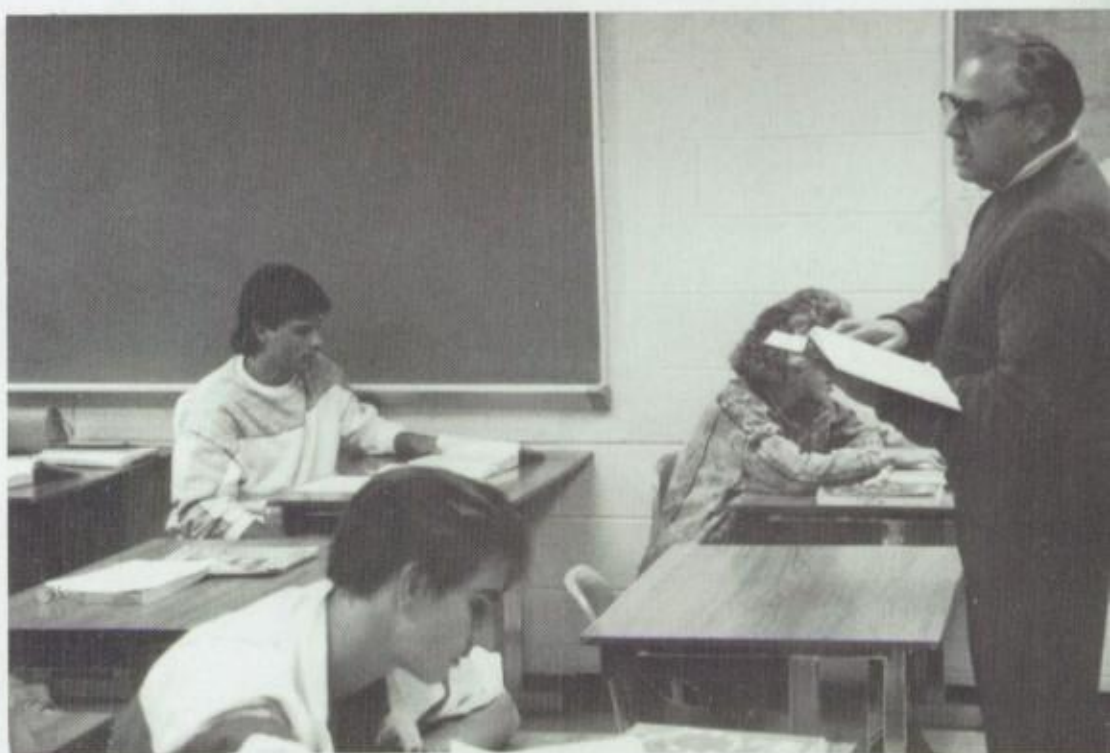

Typing I helps students develop an average typing speed of 35 wpm. Top typist Kelly Pawluk worked her way up to 60 wpm.

Typing II has an average speed of 50 wpm. Eleventh grader Tami Tregembo was typing 70 wpm in the first semester.

Shorthand is another demanding class. "I never thought shorthand would take up so much time and effort," commented senior Shelley Zarzycki. "I spend at least an hour every night doing the homework. It's about the only class I can say I've always got my homework done faithfully."

These classes along with Distributive Ed I and II, Data Processing, and Business Math help round out an excellent program.

All Booked Up LIBRARY

Containing approximately 16,000 books, the Sterling Heights H. S. library is the largest in the district. It is also the only school library in the district that is located on two floors.

Mrs. Evans and Mr. Crandall, Sterling's two librarians, are committed to making the facility a real educational tool. Both librarians have served Sterling since the school opened.

The Sentry electronic security system, which was installed last year, is working well. Inventory reveals that the loss of books has decreased this year.

The Career Room continues to be one of the most helpful facets of the library. It not only helps students evaluate how they may be suited for different career possibilities, but it also serves as a support system for obtaining career materials to help both students and counselors in planning out a program.

This year the "Career Room" concept has been made mandatory for the other three libraries in the district.

Maintaining Order SUPPORT STAFF

Sterling's support staff consists of four security guards, eight cooks, a school nurse, and three different shifts of janitors.

Marge Modrycki is the new school nurse this year. She has been a nurse for eight years, working previously at Henry Ford Hospital.

"I'm on call all day long," explained Mrs. Modrycki. "I travel to Hitema, Wild, Willow Woods, Black, and Flynn — whenever I'm needed."

Nurse Modrycki is in the clinic from 7:15 to 10:00 a.m. four days per week.

Carol Weiss heads up a kitchen staff of six helpers and a full-time baker. "We get about a thousand students coming in to lunch each day," she explained.

"This year the school menu has improved and the food tastes great," commented senior Sue Blaskowski.

The janitorial staff sweeps the hallways at least once each day between 7:30 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. Larry Gregory commented, "The worst part of my job is during the winter months with all the snow."

The security guards monitor the hallways, parking lots, lunchroom, and the detention centers. Sally Dorff commented, "The administration is very helpful in matters of discipline."

Working Things Out CPC

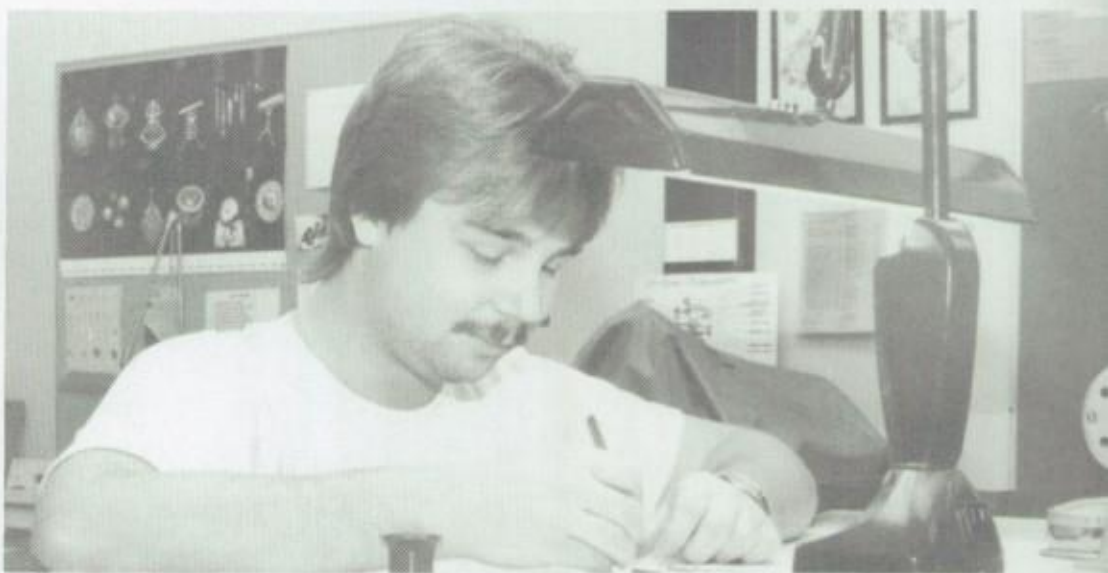

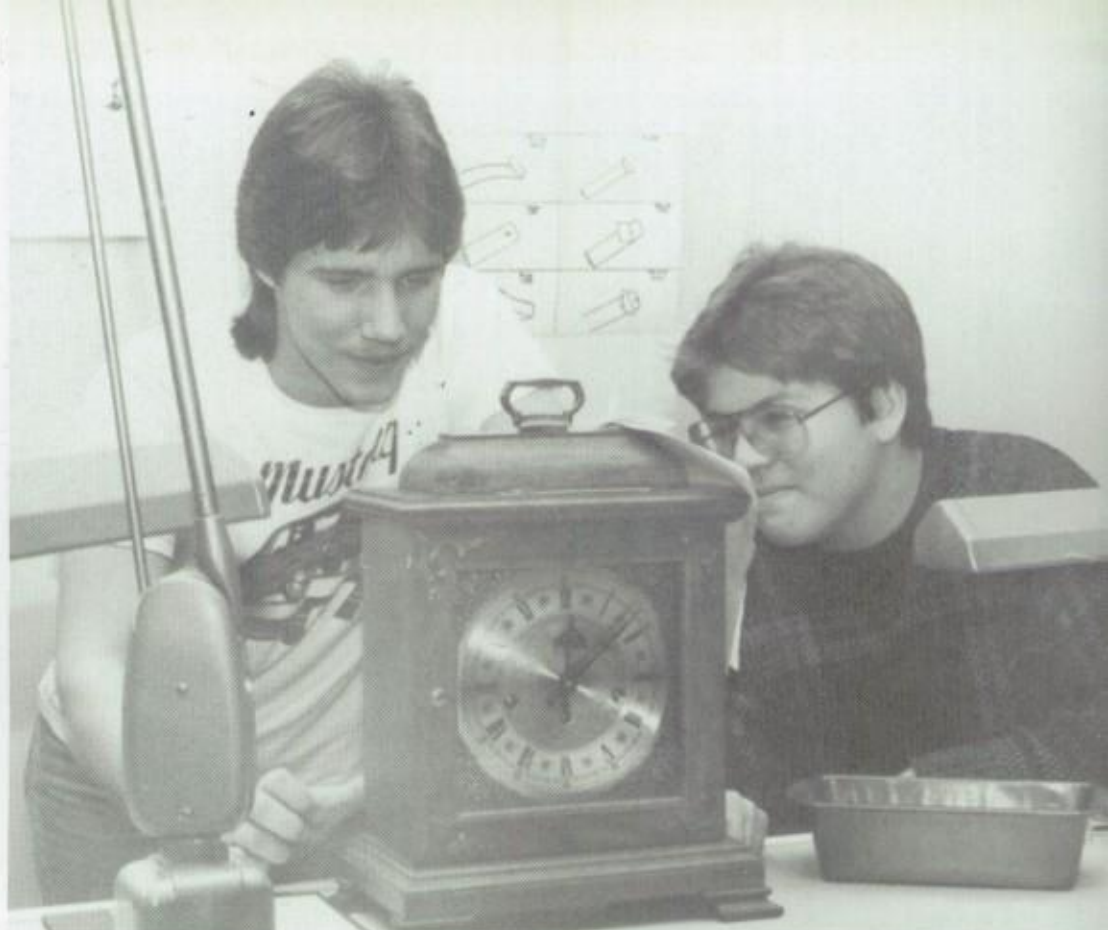

The Career Prep Center services not only Sterling Heights High School, but also Cousino, Mott, and Warren High. The center offers a wide variety of vocational training programs to prepare students for future careers.

The selection of classes varies from auto body to health occupations to food preparation. Most courses offer two years of study, but only in the medical careers is it mandatory to complete the two year program for credit.

Auto Body and Building Trades are popular choices among students. Computer Aided Drafting (CAD) has made a grand entrance this year, attracting the interest of 29 students from Sterling.

"I'm really surprised by how much one covers in a course, and how much of an impression attending CPC has on future employers," stated CAD student Bob Krause.

SPECIAL ED

The success of the Special Education program depends primarily on the more individualized attention students receive in the program. Teachers are able to give students a more personalized schedule, one that is suited for specific needs that they may have.

Students go to the Resource Rooms usually to reinforce what they are learning in their other classes. Reading, math, history, and government are among the many classes where students can receive additional help.

Mr. Miles has been a history and math resource teacher at Sterling for four years. "Seeing improvement is one of the biggest rewards of my job," he stated.

With a department of nine teachers working to maintain and whenever possible improve the grades of approximately 150 students, it is obvious that the Special Ed program is a vital part of the curriculum.

Activities

Spirit Week

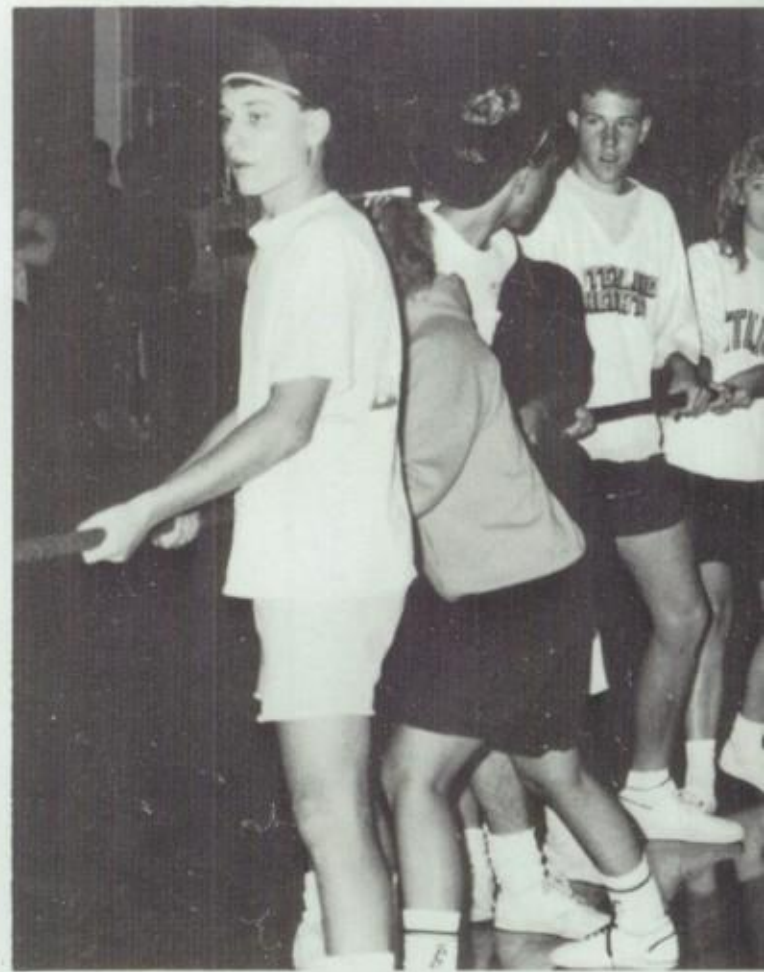

Splashes of red, white, and blue signaled the beginning of Spirit Week as the Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores showed their school spirit. Tuesday saw students display their loyalties to their favorite colleges.

Wednesday was sweats day, while Thursday became the day to show how one could totally disregard the rules of fashion by putting together the most horrendous combinations of colors and patterns.

Friday marked "Black and Gold" Day, as the school readied itself for the Homecoming Assembly.

The Seniors won both the banner contest with their "Chill the Chieftans" motto as well as the traditional tug of war. The Seniors also got credit for having the cutest and most talented "charming cheerleaders." Overall competition saw the Seniors place first, followed by the Sophomores.

1. Al Waldis looks on in anticipation while Mike Silarski, Ed Bellman and Michelle Farmer shout strategies for the tug-of-war. 2. Sophomore Prince Dino Tsitsis and Princess Liz Skeans congratulate Junior Princess Debbie Sollose and Prince Dave D'Alessandro. 3. Stallionette Tammy Lusch helps to "wipe out" the crowd during the pep rally. 4. Homecoming Court member Rob Bible shares a moment with his mother during the Homecoming game. 5. Homecoming

The Stallions handed the Utica High Chieftains a 28-7 loss to help celebrate the 1987 Homecoming festivities. At half-time Maria Tsitsis was crowned Homecoming Queen.

The annual Homecoming Dance was held the very next night, Saturday October 24. The cafeteria was decorated with colorful lights and streamers.

Each couple was presented with a balloon with their names imprinted on it. Music was supplied by a DJ, who was more than happy to set the night rocking.

Nachos and other good things to eat filled the outside hallways. Each couple could also preserve the memory of the evening with a special set of Life Touch photographs.

1. Bridget Alagna and Bob Schultz look forward to an evening of fun. 2. Kyle Tims and Bruce Brandenburg share a private conversation. 3. Gail Marchant and Derek Lubinski view the couples on the dance floor. 4. Denise Williams and Mark Bletch capture the special night with a picture from "Life Touch." 5. Debra Zyczynski, Shawn Dolata, Sue Cummings, and Todd Miller take a break from dancing. 6. Brian Bastien and Lena Guiang sway to the song "Endless Love".

Medieval Feast

On January 14 Sterling's cafeteria was transformed into a medieval castle. The Medieval Feast would be staged for the last time.

King Kevin of Koneval and Queen Kim of Pharo held court together with a wonderful group of peasants. Banners and stained-glass windows adorned the walls, while live entertainment kept everyone in good spirits.

The menu consisted of such delicacies as pita salad, sausage on a stick, vegetable pie, chicken, venison stew, fruit tarts, potatoes, and plum pudding. Wassail and water would quench any thirsts.

MC Vince Wilk introduced the acts, and accidentally became part of one of them when jesters got him involved in a surprise pie and water fight that left everyone laughing. The high point of the evening was the skit "Ye Olde Gong Show" presented by Jim Gucfa and Scott Knapp.

Other activities included jousting, dubbing of the knights, the dance of the wenches, the dance of the lords and ladies, a tug of war, win-lose-or-draw, and the salt, hand washing, the boar's head ceremonies.

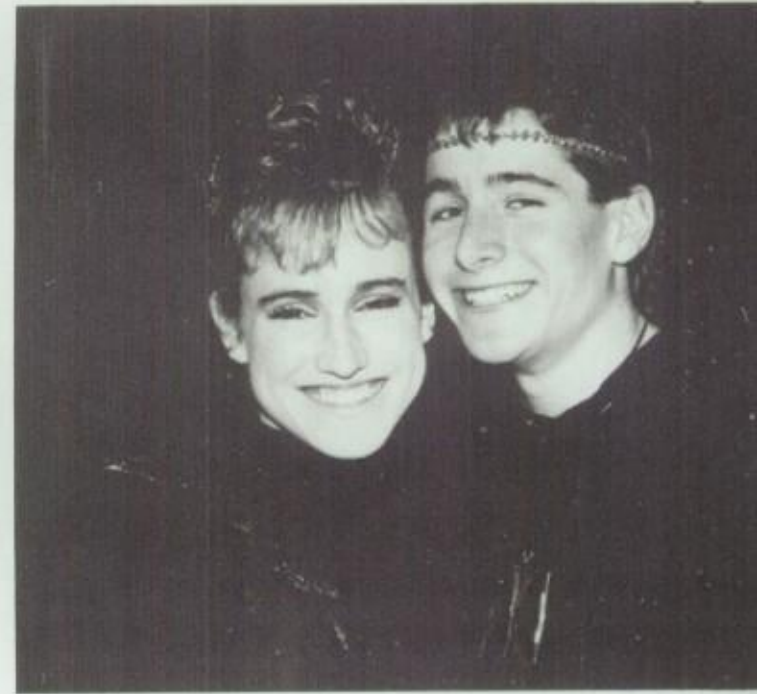

Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Pitt, and Mrs. Cox coordinated the evening's activities.

"Anything Goes"

A cruise ship was the setting for the 1987 musical production "Anything Goes." Performances were on March 20, 21, 27, and 28.

The story, set in the 1930's, centers on a business man who runs into a lost love while seeing his boss off on a ship headed for England. A passport mix-up results in his ending up with the passport of Public Enemy Number One.

Juniors Dana Schmitt and Ken Habbel were cast in the lead roles. Other major contributions came from Jan Robinson and Dave Mikosz, Anna Rodriguez, Mark Dunneback, Vicki Schuaffler, and Dave Saxton.

Choreographers were Robert Schultz and Renee Crawford. The orchestra was conducted by Lisa Spadfora.

Highlights of the show included Mark Dunneback's portrayal of an old woman and Ken Habbel's misunderstanding of certain American slang. Dave Saxton's "Be Like the Bluebird" routine brought down the house.

The play was directed by Joe Sanchez and Jane Christy. "Like all plays, in the end it all finally clicks," commented Mr. Sanchez. "I'm pleased with the way it all turned out."

Winter Dances

Scheduled approximately one month apart, Sterling winter dances were usually well attended and looked forward to by seniors, juniors, and sophomores alike.

Usually the largest crowds would appear after a football or basketball game.

Leadership Class was basically in charge of organizing the school dances: selling tickets, selecting D.J.'s, and decorating the Cafeteria.

Leadership tried to vary its choice of D.J.'s, providing them with a good sampling from which to select the music for the Senior Prom.

Decorating for the dances was handled in a slightly different manner this year. A different class was responsible for doing the decorating at each dance.

The seniors decorated the Christmas dance, the juniors decorated the Valentine dance, and the sophomores decorated the dance held in March. The students from the class doing the best job would be allowed into the last dance of the year at no charge.

Kristen Hill, Kris Hitt, Debbie Polovich, Kelly Hillock, Renee Eahart, and Kristen Raszak await the start of the dance. 8. Cherie Halter and Louie Garafolo enjoy a friendly dance together. 9. Renee Crawford and Stacey Cole find a space on the crowded dance floor.

Talent Show

Ten super acts were showcased in Sterling's annual Talent Show held February 10, 1988.

MC for the evening was Jenny Silagy. The entertainment began with vocalists Dana Schmitt singing "If My Friends Could See Me Now" and Kristi Michalowicz singing "Nobody."

Roadhouse Rock, Contagious, and Free Spirit each made an appearance. Dancers Robert Schultz, Carrie Schultz, Kim Bellisario, and Jill Bulgarelli gave exciting performances.

Brian Salley demonstrated his ability on percussion, while sophomore class council officer did their version of a James Brown tune.

Junior Dana Dobransky also turned in a flawless gymnastic performance.

Science Olympiad

Twenty-two students made the commitment to the Science Olympiad challenge for 1988. Competition was originally scheduled for February, but had to be postponed until March.

The tournament consisted of 23 events which were derived from the three broad categories of science concepts and knowledge, science processes and thinking skills, and science application and technology.

Their knowledge was tested by popular board games, TV show formats, and athletic games.

"It gives the kids a chance to have fun with science while in the midst of competition," commented sponsor Mrs. Basney.

1. Wesley White and Jeremy Way perfect their process of finding the titration rate. 2. Brian Beniot and Ray Kroflach demonstrate their skills at bridge building. 3. Mike Kosong, Brian Schefke, and Laura Reske listen to a description of the Science Olympiad events. 4. Wesley White and Steve Ferguson carefully aim the lazer light. 5. After making his observations Brian Chen decides to "name that organism."

NHS Inductions

On December 14, 1987, the National Honor Society inducted 65 new members. Mr. Gordon welcomed everyone; NHS sponsor Mr. Strong then gave the introduction. An alumni, Dr. Laurie Baxter-Kristy, was the guest speaker.

NHS officers then spoke on the NHS's criteria for membership. Steve Kubiak gave the call for speeches and Maria Fanzone talked about scholarship. Character was described by Christine Malone while George Badalow discussed service. Laura Geldhof commented on leadership. Membership was described by Vince Wilk.

The inductees were then given their roses, candles, and certificates. As the new members left the stage they were able to light their candles.

The ceremony ended with the members reciting the NHS pledge, and then extinguishing their candles.

1. Lori Puchovan lights her candle of acceptance. 2. Anna Rzepka's leadership abilities are honored during the induction ceremonies. 3. President Steve Kubiak congratulates Chris Fernandez on his acceptance into NHS. 4. Dr. Laurie Baxter-Kristy, a past NHS graduate, speaks about her accomplishments after high school. 5. Junior Ring Dinner January 21, 1988 marked the special celebration of the Junior Ring Dinner. The annual affair was sponsored by the Kane Ring Company.

Dinner consisted of pizza, salad, soft drinks, and ice cream and cookies for dessert. Then there was the entertainment.

Hosts for the event were Scott Beach and Mike Medalia.

Among the acts were the band "Over the Influence" which performed "Our Lips Are Sealed," seniors who lipped-synced to the tune "Lollipop, Lollipop," and sophomores who lip-synced to a classy jazz tune.

Juniors performed their version of the famous television show "The All New Dating Game," receiving "roar reviews" from the audience.

1. Vanessa Guiang, Claudine Wayrynen, Jennifer Moak and Lisa Buban show the Junior Ring Dinner is an event to share with friends. 2. M.C.'s Mike Medalia and Scott Beach take time out to enjoy the entertainment. 3. Juniors show off their new class rings. 4. Junior class officers Vanessa Guiang, Deann Scola, Kathy Perez, and Alison Meramonti are glad the evening is a success. 5. Sherilyn Bashaw and Karie Brown are ready to do some serious pizza eating. 6. Mary Velzanvoski receives a birthday surprise.

Bovenschen

The real meaning of Christmas has not been lost in the crowded shopping malls and the anticipation of getting presents. Students who visited Bovenschen for the annual Christmas Party put on for the entertainment of the handicapped children there gave of themselves this holiday season.

The 100 students who went from Sterling included band members who played Christmas carols, Santa (Dave Cutlip) and Elf (Laura Geldhof), and Party Bears John VanAntwerp and Al Chinn.

Chairperson Maria Burke together with the Leadership class had the day's activities well-organized.

"I feel the trip does as much for our kids as for those at Bovenschen," commented Mr. Turk. "We all gained from this experience."

1. Susan Blaszkowski and Kim Allman discuss where to place decorations. 2. Mike Lancot and Annette Canu prepare the refreshments. 3. Santa (Dave Cutlip) asks Mary Avery if he's been naughty or nice. 4. Santa's helper Laura Geldhof helps pass out candy canes. 5. Teddy bears Al Chinn and John VanAntwerp seem to fit right in. 6. Prom '87

Friday, May 15 was a beautiful, warm, sunny day. Pennas of Sterling Heights was filled with maroon and silver helium balloons, white roses, and many other decorative items to set the stage for the 1987 Senior Prom.

The theme was "We've Only Just Begun" and the music was provided by DJ Chris O'Brien.

Dinner consisted of New York strip steak, green beans almonline, baked potato, salad, soup, and ice cream.

Many couples chose to capture the memories by taking advantage of the professional photography services provided by Life Touch studio.

"Everything about the prom was great!" commented Matt Zajac. "It was definitely one of the best times of my high school years."

Kim Densmore added, "The food, the friends, the decorations made the evening extra special!"

1. David Splane and Michelle Despres go in style in a 1932 Buick. 2. Don Marx and Yola Rzepka spend an enchanted evening together. 3. Boys Track Team Gains Valuable Experience

Hard work and team spirit left the Boys Track team with a dual meet record of 4 wins and 4 losses. The four teams that the Stallions defeated were Fraser, Romeo, Warren Woods Tower, and Cousino.

"The team worked hard and deserved everything they got," commented Russ Mester, a senior on the team.

In the Conference meet, the team placed sixth, with Mike Brook, a senior, taking second in the 200 meter and 400 meter races. Brook was also the top place finisher for the Stallions.

"We were a young team," said Coach Arft.

The Most Valuable Player Award and the Leading Scorer Award went to Mike Brook. Steve Kubiak won the honor of being the Most Improved.

The distinction of being Rookie of the Year was awarded to Colin Brown.

"It was a year for rebuilding and redevelopment," summarized Coach Arft.

Lady Stallions Capture Second Place In MAC

Posting a record of eight wins and one loss, the 1987 Girls Track team captured second place in the Macomb Athletic.

"Compared with past teams, this one didn't have as much depth," commented Coach Scullo. "But the spirit of the Stallions pulled us together to overcome adversity throughout the season. The spirit and desire to win was a great inspiration to the team."

Due to many injuries in the later part of the season, the Stallions weren't a threat in regionals when they didn't place.

The team was led by seniors Amy Goeddeke and Amy Sperry, as well as by juniors Annette Blaurok and Tricia Paquette. The girls proved themselves not only by placing second in the MAC, but also by setting new school records.

Amy Goeddeke broke the 400 meter dash with a time of 59.4 seconds, while Amy Sperry and Annette Blaurok broke old school records in the two mile run and 100 meter dash with times of 12:14 and 12.6, respectively.

The team's only loss came at the hands of Sterling Heights Stevenson. In the meet, the Lady Stallions rallied back, only to lose by a few points.

"Losing that one meet to Stevenson was very disappointing," commented Amy Goeddeke. "It was upsetting to lose a meet that close and also have it be the team's only loss."

MVP honors went to Amy Goeddeke, while Most Improved Athlete and Rookie of the Year awards went to Annette Blaurok and Jennifer Wittmer, respectively. Ann Marie Bork tied the record for the 800 meter run held by Lisa Zyczynski.

MAC Conference Generates Stiff Competition

To fully appreciate the Stallion's 10-8 league record in Girls Varsity Softball, one should note the quality of competition in the MAC. The MAC Softball conference contained more state ranked teams than any other conference in the state.

Sterling defeated Romeo and Fraser, both teams occupying first place positions in their divisions. Those wins proved that no single team dominated the competition.

Beating Romeo, who were ranked sixth in the state, helped turn Sterling's season around. Prior to that victory, the Lady Stallion's record was 8-12.

The victory helped restore the needed confidence to enable the team to go on and win the next twelve games.

"Everyone on the team started playing to their potential," commented Coach Roxanne Szczesniak.

During this winning streak Sterling managed to defeat Fraser twice — once in their own tournament.

In the District qualifier Sterling mercied Troy Athens. In their next game, however, they were stopped by Fraser, losing 5-3.

Versatility brought the team much of its success. Amy Tomaszek played both left field and shortstop, while pitchers Traci Ringwelski and Lynn McKerley played second and first bases respectively.

Captain Ann Koenig was selected as team MVP. Linda Kennedy was designated as Most Improved Player. Best Defensive Player honors went to Sue Palitti.

1. The Lady Stallions hear another terrific pep talk from Coach Roxanne Szczesniak. 2. Sue Palitti slides into second base. 3. Senior Annmarie Koenig hits another game winning double for the Stallions. 4. Amy Tomaszek and Coach Szczesniak plan a winning strategy. 5. Deann Scola takes aim for the strike zone.

Girls JV Softball Squad Goes 8-2 In League Play

Determined play and a talent loaded squad resulted in the Girls JV Softball team finishing the season with a league record of 8-2.

The team got off to a solid start, but faltered a bit when they encountered teams from Grosse Pointe South and Grosse Pointe North.

Coach Dave Adamczyk commented, "Out of my three years at Sterling, this team is the most individually talented, perhaps due to the fact that some of the girls have played travel ball for over seven years. When they reached Sterling these girls didn't need much work."

"The team never seemed to give up," he added. Playing Eisenhower, the team was down eight runs in the 7th inning. The team came back with the runs to win.

Catcher Stephanie Moschouris played every single game, giving 110 percent both offensively and defensively. She eventually received the Coach's award and MVP honors.

Shortstop Lana Wirgau was a real team leader, hitting the ball consistently. Pitcher Beth O'Conner was a major contributor on the mound.

DeAnne Scola and Sue Chojnowski were both moved up to Varsity early in the season, leaving the team with some big shoes to fill.

A game the whole squad would just as soon forget occurred on May 16. The team was defeated 4-0 by Grosse Pointe South.

"This made me realize that we were not as good as I thought, that we could lose, and we were taking too much for granted," commented Karen Mulawa.

A couple of fundraisers, one at the Golf Dome and the other at Ark Sterling, helped the team raise money for sweatshirts and jackets.

1. Coach Adamczyk gives Stefanie Moschouris a pep talk before she goes to the plate. 2. The girls celebrate their victory over Eisenhower. 3. Joan Garavaglia shows the form that makes her a good first basemen. 4. Stefanie Moschouris bears down on getting a hit. 5. Lana Wirgau is quick to make sure her opponent won't be safe at the plate. 6. After a tough game, Karen Mulawa takes a time-out. 7. Sandy Hunke throws a runner out at home.

Golf Team Finishes 5th Winning Season

Pacing themselves to another winning season, the 1987 Golf team finished second in the MAC and third in the Conference Meet. Rusty Pendegrass was named All-Conference, and Kenneth Montemayor qualified for State competition.

Anchoring this year's varsity team was senior captain Rusty Pendegrass. Rusty finished the season with an average of 40.6 and a low round of 36.

Five other veterans rounded out the squad: seniors Bob Hengstebeck, Vahan Badalow, Dan Zajac, Ken Montemayor, and junior Scott Janssen.

"I'd like to thank the coach for helping me go to the State Finals," commented Ken Montemayor. "He spent a lot of time with me and made sure I had everything I needed. The only thing he didn't do for me was play."

The team's four losses were to Chippewa Valley and to regional powerhouse Utica Eisenhower.

Bellman, Krause, Gusamano, Serbinski, Vince Wilk, and Bill Welch played in the final varsity match of the season against Eisenhower.

The team finished the year with a father-son "Scotch" golf tourney and a pizza party.

Russ Pendegrass was named MVP, while Bob Hengstebeck received the award for the Most Improved Player.

Coach Bill Yanis looks forward to continued success for the team in the future.

1. Ed Bellman shows great form on his fairway shot. 2. "Z-monster", Dan Zajac, hits his tee shot right at the pin. 3. Bob Hengstebeck and Rusty Pendegrass examine the next hole. 4. Vahan Badalow sets himself for the next shot. 5. Scott Janssen is pleased with his drive. 6. "Beaner", Ken Montemayor, looks like he'll sink another putt. 7. Bob Hengstebeck finishes a shot through the trees.

Stallions Capture Mac Title With 8-1 Conference Record

After finishing second in the Conference last season, the Boys Tennis team rounded out the '87 competition with a 8-1 Conference record (9-1 overall), winning the MAC title.

Singles competition was led by junior Dave Cutlip. Seniors Bill Borovski, Paul Berra, and Mark Ejsmont rounded out singles play, having outstanding seasons in their own right.

Doubles competition included the teams of #1 doubles team Fred Camaj and Terry Solomon, #2 David and Andrew Turzyn, #3 Jack Mefford and Jack Kobus, and #4 Dan Nugent and Scott Beach.

The squad was coached by Paul Bounker.

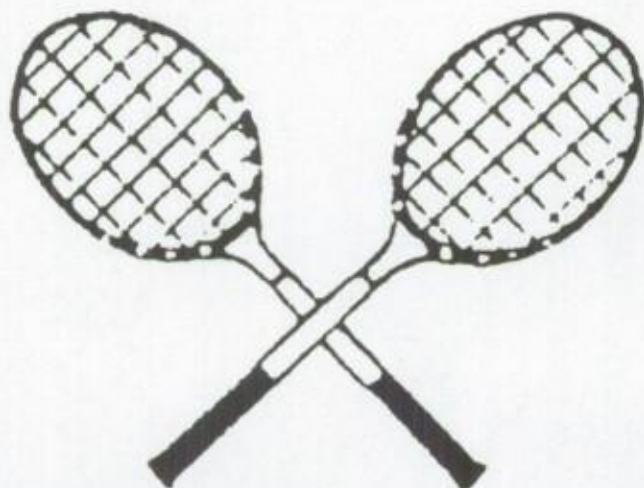

"Everyone was a major factor in our outstanding season," commented junior Jack Mefford. "By our record you know everyone had to contribute."

Dave Cutlip won the team's MVP award for his outstanding play. Dave dominated almost all of his opponents in head to head competition.

All Conference honors were captured by Dave Cutlip and Bill Borovski.

Co-Rookie of the Year honors were shared by the doubles combination brothers David and Andrew Turczyn.

"The team is graduating a lot of players this season," remarked Fred Camaj, "but the nucleus of next year's team should be good, and it wouldn't surprise me if they did better than we did this season."

1. Coach Bounker and Coach Ingram talk over the team's successful season. 2. Bill Borovski, Fred Camaj, and Paul Berra listen carefully for their statistics. 3. Frank Cusenza gets ready to return the serve with a quick backhand. 4. Dave Simek lobs the ball over the net for a game winning point. 5. Scott Beach, Jack Kobus and Dan Nugent wait for the away bus to arrive. 6. Bill Borovski, Dave Cutlip, and Mark Ejsmont listen to instructions from Coach Bounker. 7. Dan Nugent takes time out during a tough match. 8. Terry Solomon and Dan Nugent warm-up for their match against Chippewa Valley.

Varsity Baseball Squad Clinches 1st In Conference

The 1987 Varsity Baseball team ended their Mac Conference season with a record of 13 wins in the conference. The team beat Utica 8-0 in a district qualifying game, but went down to defeat against Grosse Pointe South 4-1 in Regional Competition.

One of the most outstanding contests was against Sterling Heights Stevenson. It was early in the season and Stevenson was already proving its ability.

The Stallions dug in and defeated Stevenson 6-3.

Several school records were broken during the season. Kyle Wolfe broke the single season hitting record. Dave Kalist broke the school pitching record by going 10-0 through the season.

Keith Peplinski broke the RBI career record.

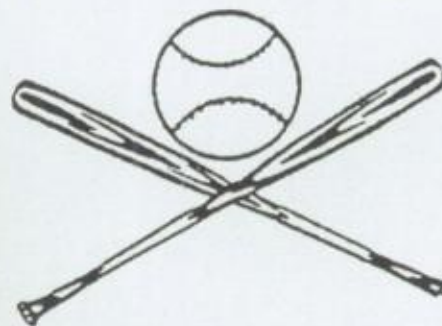

Coach Pat MaCauley was very pleased with the play of David Szpak, Dave Kalist, Chris Demetral, Mike Mosari, Kyle Wolfe, and Keith Peplinski.

"The team as a whole came close to achieving their full potential," commented Coach MaCauley. "It's been a joy to know them and be a part of the season with them."

Jeff Demetral distinguished himself as the only sophomore to play on the team.

Team captains were Dave Szpak, Dave Kalist, and Mike Mosari.

Dave Kalist won MVP honors for the MAC Conference.

1. Chris Demetral is safe after stealing a base.
2. Catcher Mike Moccia discusses the next play with pitcher Dave Kalist.
3. Third baseman Dave Stock throws to first for the out.
4. Kevin Gore glides into home plate easily.
5. First baseman Mark Avery leaps for an errant throw.
6. Matt Carley, Jeff Carrier, Larry Gies, Jeff Demetral, Dave Spock and Paul Sabatini warm the bench.
7. Keith Peplinski sends a liner into right field.

Determined JV Squad Ties 1986 Mark

They weren't selfish," remarked Coach Joe Michalak. "They all played for the good of the team rather than for themselves." The JV squad finished the season tied with their 1986 record of 11-6.

The two co-captains for the team were catcher Mike Suede and short stop Shawn Korich. Mike Suede was voted Most Valuable Player.

"Suede always held the team together by keeping our spirits up," commented Coach Michalak. "He was a very solid player."

First baseman and pitcher Jeff Demetral was moved up to the Varsity about half way through the season. Jeff was a sophomore.

Coach Michalak viewed the Stallions' last game against the Eisenhower Eagles as the most memorable game of the season. The team had to win this outing to tie the previous season's record.

"The team took the lead and held it," commented Coach Michalak. "They played really well."

"We were the only team to beat Eisenhower this year," said Mike Suede. "We beat them in the middle of the season and the end of it was great!"

The final score of the contest was 6-5.

Junior Ron Patalon finished the year with 18 hits, while Frank Ticcione had an outstanding batting average of .500. Ticcione managed to finish the season without a single strikeout. No other member of the squad accomplished this feat.

Varsity Football Squad Enters State Play-Offs

Winning all of its regular season matchups, the 1987 Stallion Football team earned the opportunity to go to the State playoffs. The Stallions got past their first post season contest, but fell to a very good Catholic Central team in a close decision.

One of the great achievements of the season saw the Stallions beat the Stevenson Titans in a very emotional, hard hitting game. It was the first time the Stallions have beaten the Titans.

"It was a total team effort," commented All-Stater Dave Cutlip. "Everybody gave 100%, that's what brought us such a great season."

Quarterback Chris Demetral finished the season with 44 completions on 84 attempts, with 687 total yards and 6 touchdown passes.

All-Stater Kyle Wolfe and Mike Brook were the powers in the offensive backfield. Wolfe finished the season with 1,065 total rushing yards and 10 touchdown runs.

Mike Brook finished with 789 total rushing yards and 14 touchdowns.

Outstanding blocking came from Dave Cutlip, Jim Gucfa, Mike Pittel, Mike Suede, and Jerry Beattie — the starting offensive line.

The defense was led by Dave Cutlip, with 19 solo tackles and 40 assists. Kevin O'Brien and Scott Knapp also had great seasons.

The defense as a whole allowed only 26 points against them in three of the nine regular season games.

"It was a very exciting season," commented coach Bob Miles. "The players' performances were outstanding."

1. Sterling's offensive line fights for yardage against Catholic Central for a tough regional playoff game.
2. Senior Gary Wojichowski attempts to push his way through to the Shamrocks runningback.
3. All-Stater Dave Cutlip plays an important part in destroying the Titans record with the help of fellow linemen Matt Carley and Gerald Beattie.
4. Runningback Mike Brook picks up more yardage for the victorious Stevenson game.
5. Junior Keith Gregoire and Senior Corey Sarkissian listen attentively while Coach McParlan gives them new defensive plays.
6. After receiving the hand-off from quarterback Chris Demetral, Kyle Wolfe prepares to meet the Stevenson defense.
7. Leading tackler Kevin O'Brien takes a breath while the offensive line takes over.

Junior Varsity Posts 7-1 Record For Season

"If there's one word that describes the JV Football team it would be 'character,'" claimed David Kozik. "We worked hard on and off the field, we were committed to excellence, and we never gave up."

The team posted a 7-1 record for the season. Their only loss occurred in a Oct. 8 match-up with Eisenhower, when the team lost by a single touchdown, 14-21.

Perhaps the Stallions most memorable victory occurred when the team played Utica High. Utica had played Eisenhower in an earlier match-up, defeating Eisenhower 37-7.

The Stallions held off the Utica offense, keeping them scoreless. The final score for the game was 15-0.

The team improved steadily as the season progressed. "When the JV squad realized they were good," explained Coach Dan Crandall, "they succeeded by playing better and by scoring more."

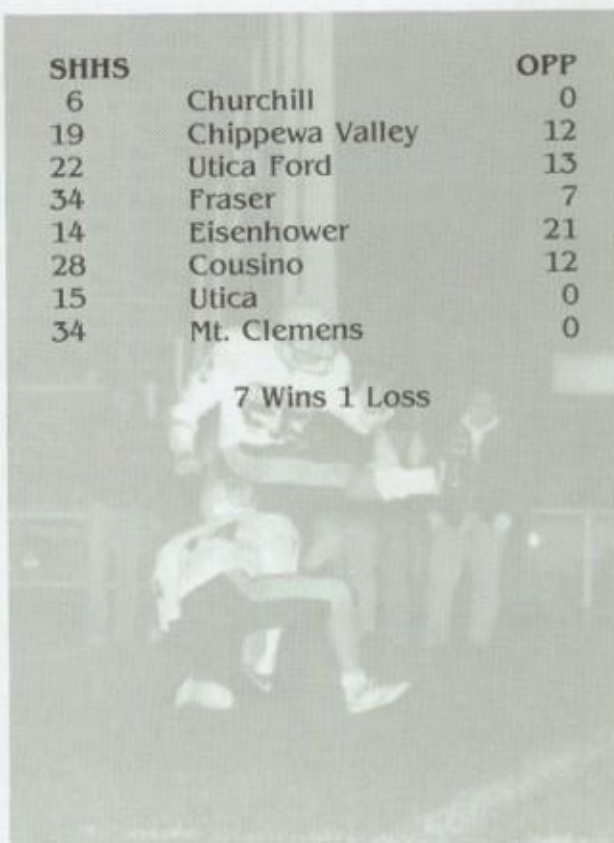

Three particularly strong efforts came from Dan Misiewicz, Chris Armstrong, and Dave Dickens, who played both offense and defense.

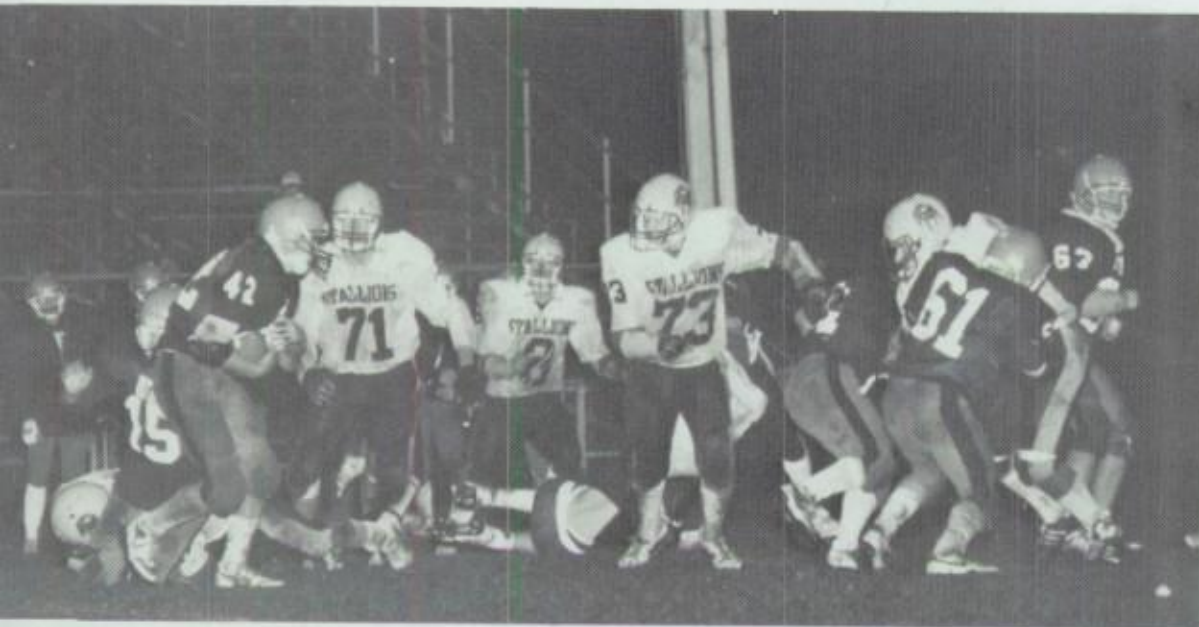

1. Mike Medalia tries to push through Utica's offensive line. 2. Utica scrambles for the ball. 3. Quarterback John Butzu passes off to Mike Beccari. 4. Chris Armstrong, Dan Misiewicz and Mike Medalia are there for the tackle. 5. Craig Lucas defends the pass. 6. The J.V. Stallions prepare to attack.

Girls Varsity Captures Fourth District Title

Establishing a record of 20 wins and 4 losses, the Girls Varsity Basketball team captured the Conference title and their fourth consecutive District title.

"The team's success may have been a surprise to some, but we knew that we had the necessary ingredients to win," commented Coach Tom Dailey. "We had outstanding players, good balance, and a teamwork mentality with positive attitudes."

Seniors Shannon Goeddeke, Sherri Groppi, and Lynn Kwiatkowski led the team to another terrific season. Shannon and Lynn were the co-captains of the squad.

Juniors Karen Groppi, Sandy Hunke, Stefanie Moschouris, Jennifer Rossi, Shiela Smith, and Lisa Wagnier built on their skills from last year to make significant contributions.

Sophomores Karen Barszcz, Renee Ehart, and Jennifer Gunther learned quickly and also contributed much to the team's success.

Even though this year's team was small, they combined quickness and technique with desire and intensity. They were best known for running their opponents from baseline to baseline.

Shannon Goeddeke was voted the team's MVP. The Most Improved Player award went to Karen Barszcz and Sherry Groppi. Best Defensive Player honors went to Lynn Kwiatkowski.

"I thought it was nice that we had faculty and students to support us both at home and at away games," commented Lynn Kwiatkowski. "It gave us a very special feeling to know that they were there."

1. Coach Dailey gives advice to lead the team to another fine victory. 2. The lady Stallions congratulate each other on another terrific win. 3. Jennifer Rossi pulls down another rebound for the Stallions. 4. Lynn Kwiatkowski adds another point to Sterling's score with a free throw attempt. 5. Third team All-Stater Shannon Goeddeke skies above Ford for two more points. 6. Stefanie Moschouris waits patiently for the open opponent. 7. Aggressive Renee Ehardt shows what Stallion defense is all about.

JV Squad Rebounds With Winning Season

The Girls JV Basketball team ended their 87-88 season with a record of 12 wins and 8 losses, placing them in fourth place among their competition.

High scorers for this year were Kristine Michalowicz with 250 points and Kristin Raczak with 156 points. Jennifer Gunther was moved up to Varsity after playing only seven games on JV.

"I was surprised when I was asked to move up," commented Jennifer. "This is only my second year playing basketball. I found playing on the Varsity squad very intense."

Coach Dave Adamczyk commented, "The key to our year was steady improvement individually as well as a team."

The team's toughest competition came against Romeo and Eisenhower. Romeo went undefeated, while Eisenhower finished with a record of 15-5.

"Our most memorable game was against Eisenhower," commented Coach Adamczyk. "In our first match-up they beat us by 30 points and the second game they probably thought they were going to kill us."

"We lost, anyway, but only by four points. Their coach talked to me after the game and told me that the girls played great. That really made me feel good."

1. Denise Allen outrebounds her opponents. 2. Nothing can stop Brook Springer from becoming "number one." 3. DeAnna Dobosz's face shows determination to win. 4. Jennifer Basas drives for the basket. 5. Kristine Michalowicz does a layup to earn 2 more points for the Stallions. 6. Kris Raczak shoots for the winning basket. 7. Brook Springer will not be stopped.

Tennis Squad Competition Proves Very Stiff

With many of the girls returning from the 1986 squad, the 1987 Girls Tennis team was a fairly experienced team. The squad ended its season with a 5 win 7 loss record.

Denise LaDouceur earned the distinction of being the number one Singles player on the team. She had been voted the Most Valuable Player in 1986.

The number one Doubles team consisted of Jennifer Wittmer and Carolyn Zach.

"I joined the team because my friend was joining," commented Jennifer Wittmer, "but I really got into it and now I love to play tennis."

Looking back over her season's performance, Carolyn Zach added, "This year I learned to accept defeat and to be able to inspire myself to work harder."

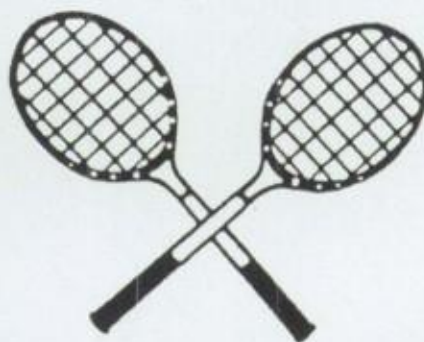

Lena Guiang, who began playing on the team as a sophomore, was voted Most Valuable Player for the season.

Rookie of the Year honors went to Jennifer Wittmer. The Most Improved award was given to Jenni Goble.

Debbi Ferranti was voted Most Inspirational.

One of the most exciting match-ups of the year occurred when Sterling played Southgate. The contest came down to a final match-up between Lena Guiang and her Southgate opponent.

The game went to the third set before Lena was finally victorious.

1. Jennifer Reis and Lena Guiang await the serve from their Mott opponents.
2. Lena Guiang aces another opponent for a victory.
3. Debra Zyczynski takes one last practice before her big match.
4. Debbi Ferranti catches some "zzz" after winning a tough match against Mott.
5. Dana Salansky and Anna Calmi work hard as a team to defeat their opponents.

5 Win 2 Loss Record Good For Third Place

Even though there were only eight girls on the squad, the Girls Cross Country team finished the '87 season with a record of five wins and two losses. The team finished third in their league.

Practice began in August. Daily workouts included running as well as lifting weights. The girls did circuits two times each week.

"Practice was rough," commented Nita Sethi, "but Coach Pankowski made it more fun with the variety of different workouts he gave us each week."

Special recognition went to Melissa Rock, Most Valuable Runner; Leslie Smolen, Rookie of the Year; Anju Shah, Coach's Award; and Nita Sethi, Most Improved Runner.

The team started out the season with only two experienced Cross Country runners, Melissa Rock and Nita Sethi. Neither had run a complete season in 1986.

The other six girls were composed of four juniors and two sophomores.

At the Chippewa Valley meet each of the girls were assigned to a person and were encouraged to try and beat that person's time. All the girls accomplished their goal and Sterling won the competition.

The victory over Chippewa was accomplished in spite of Sterling's number one runner, Melissa Rock, not participating that day.

Another memorable meet came against Mott. Mott beat Sterling during a scrimmage, but Sterling came back to beat Mott when it counted.

1. Anju Shah gives her all at the C.C. meet at Cousino. 2. Stacey Doestz passes her struggling opponents. 3. Debbie Rudnicki pushes herself to the limit as she strives to be #1. 4. Melissa Rock, Neotika Sathi, Leslie Smolen, Anju Shah, and Gretchen Krieg show that stretching is an important part of a successful team. 5. Coach Pankowski gives some last minute advice before the race begins.

Boys Cross Country Squad Progressively Improves

The 1988 Boys Cross Country team improved from years past, and the squad is progressively coming back to some of its old strength, commented Coach Harold Arft. The team placed fifth in their division and sixth in the Conference.

"It takes a combination of having a runner with talent, and someone to bring out that talent as well," said Coach Arft. "It is the addition of more talent and dedication that is making us better."

Official practices started the second week of August. Co-captains were Mike Brozowski and Russ Mester.

In the first half of the season, Senior Russ Mester was the #1 man. But he developed a leg problem that forced him to sit out and watch.

Junior Paul Horvath was strong and came through placing in the top 10 in an important regional meet that led him to make State.

"It was a very pleasant surprise," said Coach Arft. "This was his second year running distance. He was a sprinter in junior high."

"I was both nervous and excited," commented Horvath.

Another major injury was to Colin Brown. A stress fracture injury came back to diminish his chances of having a big year.

Earning major awards were Paul Horvath (Most Valuable Runner, All Division, All Conference), Andy Karpenko (Most Improved Runner), Steve Ruskowski (Rookie of the Year), and Russ Mester (Coach's Award).

1. Steve Ruskowski strives his hardest to conquer his Fraser opponent. 2. Pete Kearly strides his way to the finish line. 3. Sterling pushes their way through for a terrific head start. 4. Jim Elek and Rod Afram endure the struggle together. 5. The Stallions prepare for the Cousino meet by stretching out together. 6. After a great competition, Paul Horvath and Colin Brown congratulate each other with an "up high".

Varsity Wrestlers Post 10-2 Record

The Varsity Wrestling team posted a final record of 10-2, losing only to Stevenson at the dome match and at the District Finals.

The Stallions practiced two and one-half hours a day, three days a week. Practice consisted of conditioning, practicing moves, take downs, and more conditioning.

Three captains led the squad to success. They were Kevin Koneval, Kevin Gore, and Gary Michaels. Commenting on the team's success, Kevin Koneval remarked, "I think what made us a strong team was even though we had no exceptional wrestlers, all our weight classes were strong."

The Stallions won the Macomb Conference Tournament, and the team was first in the Algonac Tournament.

Kevin Koneval made first team All County, while Frank Battaglia made the second team. Gary Michaels made first team Class A All County.

Carl Pelzer, Karl Brohn, and Kevin Gore all received honorable mention.

Sterling wrestlers were notable for always giving every match their best effort.

"Effort is the key word in wrestling. Without effort, you'll definitely be beat," commented Coach Shawn Murray.

Only sixteen people from over three hundred Class A schools placed in the State Tournament. Kevin Koneval and Frank Battaglia brought honor and pride to Sterling by being among those sixteen.

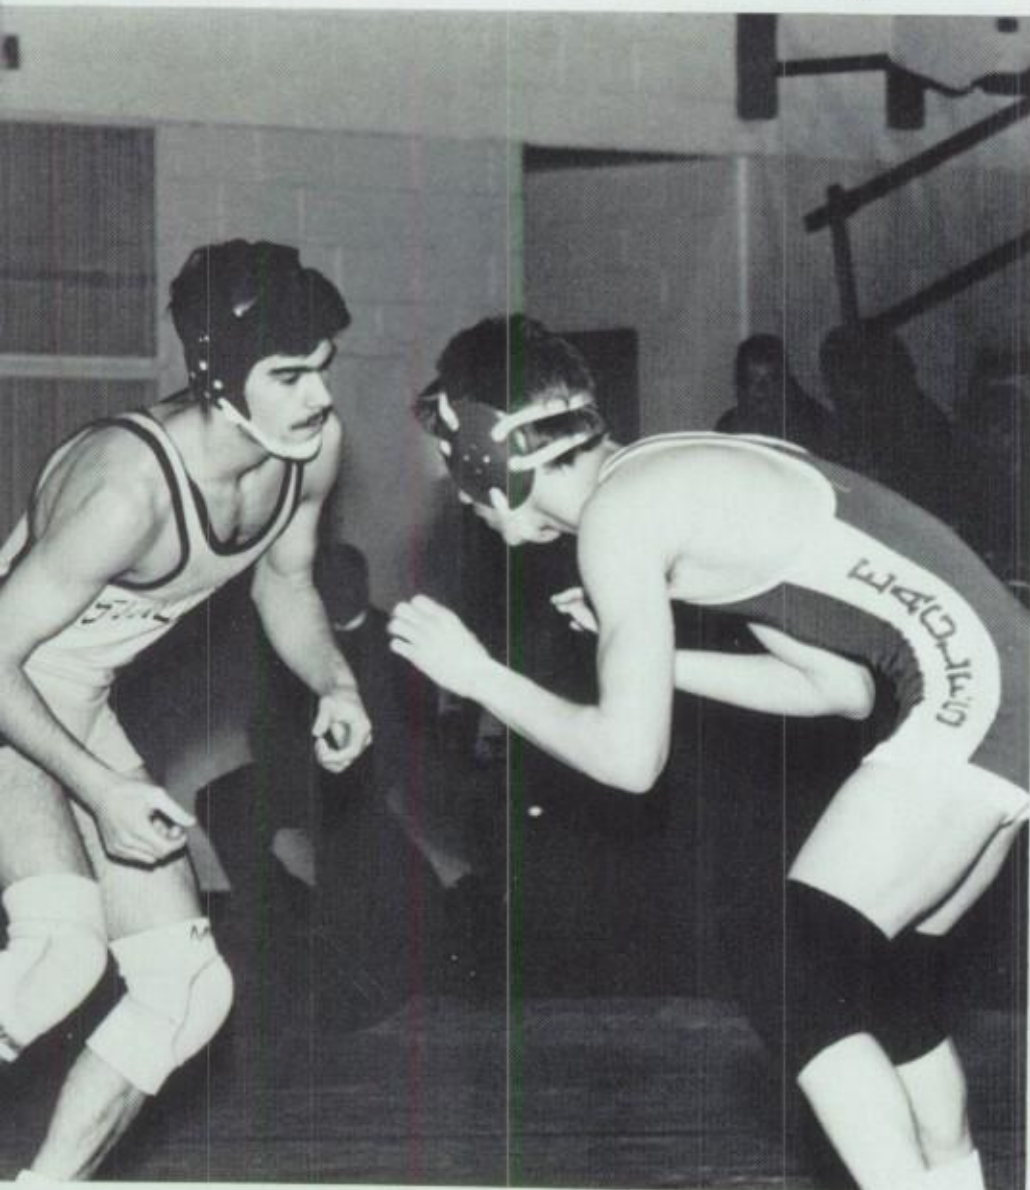

1. Julio Ruvolo encourages his teammates from the bench.
2. Cortland Larry, Kevin Koneval, Tim Wolfe and Julio Ruvolo claim to be the number one wrestlers.
3. Kevin Gore uses all his power to keep his opponent down.
4. Carl Pelzer prepares to shoot in on his opponents leg.
5. Kevin Koneval battles to switch his opponent.
6. Kevin Gore prepares to take down his opponent.
7. Ed Burns attempts to gain control over his opposing teammate.
8. Tim Wolfe rides-out his opponent.

8 Wins And 3 Losses For JV Squad

The JV Wrestling team ended their season with a record of 8 wins and 3 losses. Sterling was defeated by Frazier, Henry Ford, and Eisenhower.

The team's best performance was against Ford. Even though they lost, they held their own until the last match. It took Henry Ford's heavyweight to defeat the Stallions.

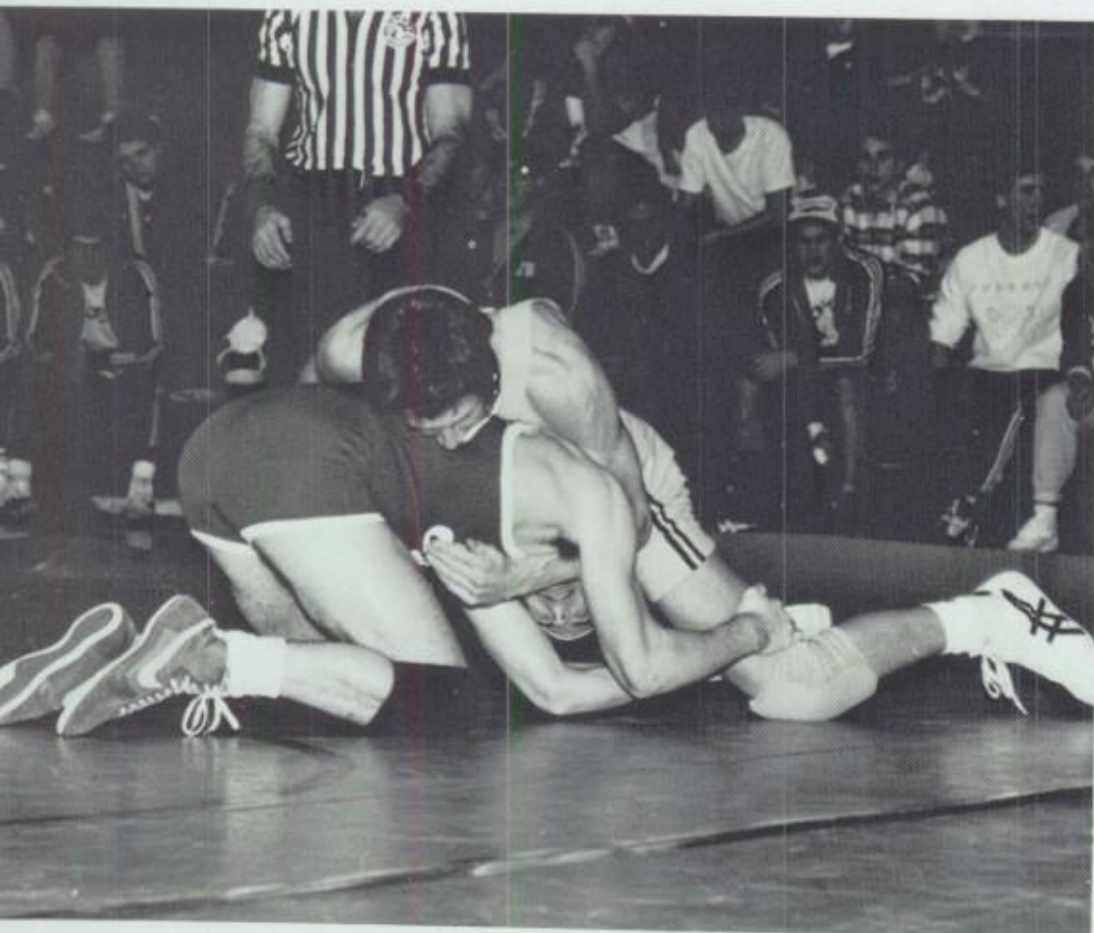

Captains for the JV squad were Brian Truba, Matt Walton, Mitch Buback and Bryan Scherfield. The captains led the drills.

Practices consisted of conditioning, hundreds of push-ups, and steady repetition of the basic moves. The team practiced every day after school.

"The year went really well," commented Coach Shawn Murray. "There were a lot of good sophomores."

The Most Valuable Player award went to Bryan Scherfield, Matt Walton, and Brian Truba. Scherfield was the only undefeated member of the team.

"We all really pulled for each other," exclaimed Brian Truba.

Juniors A Major Factor In Team's Success

The Boys Varsity Basketball team made another strong showing this year. Coach Dick Christy credited the juniors as being a major factor in the outcome of the season.

"At the beginning of the season it seemed like everyone was against us," commented senior Todd Frohner, "but we came through on top and showed everybody what we were made of."

Many of the Varsity's games were close, up-to-the-last-second games.

"The league was very balanced," commented Mr. Christy. "No one team stood out. But we were one of the better teams in the league."

The team's toughest game was at home against Stevenson. The team lost in double-overtime by only two points.

The Stallions sprang back, however, in their next match-up against Stevenson, winning 51-50. Sterling stayed out in front in the first half, but Stevenson bounced back in the second half making it a real contest.

The game went down to the final seconds. Todd Frohner shot and missed, but Kevin Anthony tipped it in.

"At first it was a real disappointment. I thought I lost the game for us, but when Anthony tipped it in, I was ecstatic," said Frohner.

He added, "Even though we didn't win the conference, we did beat every team in the conference at least once."

1. Tom Eisenbrenner shoots three points for the Stallions. 2. Dave Horvath and Matt Roman trap Lamphere's offensive man. 3. The Stallion coaching staff gives support from the sidelines. 4. Kevin Anthony wins the jump ball. 5. Todd Frohner and Kevin Anthony fight for a loose ball. 6. Matt Roman jumps high for the Stallion offense and adds two points to the score. 7. 15 Wins 5 Losses

Strong Defense And Effort Spell Success For JV Squad

Strong defense and a solid team effort carried the JV Basketball squad to a 15-5 record.

The team's most exciting game was their first against top ranked Eisenhower. They won the match-up by 13 points.

"Eisenhower had the best team in the league," commented junior Dino Tsitsis. "It was a great feeling for us to win that game, and an inspiration to keep improving."

The Stallions managed to maintain their first place ranking throughout the better part of the season. It wasn't until near the end that they dropped to second place.

The few games that were lost were not dropped without a fight. A disappointing moment was the tough loss to Cousino in the final ten seconds of the game.

The team was composed of many talented players. Mike Owens, who started in mid-season, led the scoring.

Tommy Marra played a strong point guard. Brian Serowik, Todd Schill, and David Kolasinski were moved up to Varsity. Also promoted to Varsity was Mike Radke, after recovering from an ankle injury.

"The team was hardworking with good team effort and a great defense," commented Coach Rich Dobrzynski. "They got along well, and no one tried to dominate."

Coach Dobrzynski has been coaching at Sterling for three years.

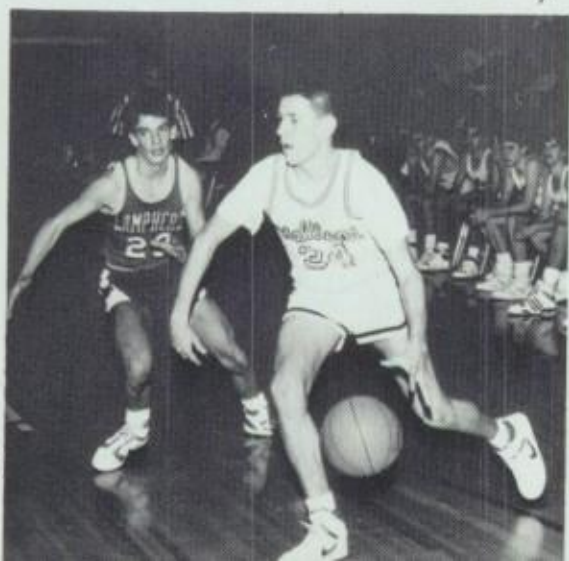

"People don't appreciate the solid foundations the kids have," added Coach Dobrzynski. "These athletes are hard working individuals. There is a very positive atmosphere."

17-10 Record Reflects Experience And Talent

The Girls Varsity Volleyball team ended its '88 season with a 17-10 record.

Seniors Annette Blaurok, Lori Latra, Roseanne Ventimiglio and co-captain Suzi DeVriendt helped lead the charge.

Juniors Jennifer Rossi, Sharon Bobowski, Janet Wlosinski, Dana Gildersleeve, Lisa Toth, Laura Costie and Teri Morton were strong competitors. Sophomore Brook Springer really distinguished herself by making the team as a 10th grader.

Coach Paula Catalina summed up her formula for success: "We always had to stay fired-up because enthusiasm, fun, and teamwork makes a winning team."

The match against Eisenhower was a memorable one, hammering the Eagles to their second loss. Senior Rosanne Ventimiglio commented, "We were able to pass the ball well enough to our setters in order to produce strong hits and we moved quick to defensive coverage."

Senior Lori Latra was the team's most prominent setter, while Annette Blaurok was an outstanding primary hitter and Suzi DeVriendt was a consistent server.

In their tournaments the team finished with a 10-5 record. The team made it to the quarter finals in three of the four tournaments.

"We were determined to win because we tried to improve ourselves and our game for the season," remarked Suzi DeVriendt.

Rookie of the Year honors went to Lisa Toth, while Annette Blaurok won the MVP award. Other awards were received by Annette Blaurok, best offensive player; and Suzi DeVriendt, best defensive player.

1. Lori Latra sets Laura Costie up for the kill. 2. Teammates Suzi DeVriendt and Roseanne Ventimiglio congratulate Annette Blaurok on a terrific play. 3. Tough Competition For JV Squad

The JV Volleyball team ended their season with a disappointing record of 2 wins and 10 losses. But their talent could not always be measured by the scores.

The team was led by 15 players who were rotated through the starting roster. The coach for the squad was Betty Norman.

Primary hitters were Kristine Woerl and Julie Schachermeyer. Beth Mease and Tammy were the two best setters.

Kristine Woerl was the strong server for the team, while Lori Michaels played a prominent part in keeping the team in many matches with her great saves.

Captains for the squad were Lori Michaels, Beth Mease, and Julie Schachermeyer.

There were only two juniors on the team.

"A coach needs to have juniors on the team to be leaders," commented Coach Norman. "Since they already know what the coach expects, they get the job done with no questions asked."

Coach Norman emphasized the value of teamwork for any real chance at success.

The most memorable game was the first match against Utica. The team was very consistent with their game plan.

Kristy Michalowicz commented, "We won our first match and we felt that we could come back and win the second match and we did just that."

1. Lori Grenier bumps the ball over the net. 2. Diving low to save the ball is Denise Divina. 3. Bridget Killianek sets up the ball for her team. 4. Christine Woerl bump sets the ball. 5. Tammy Quainton jumps to her tip-toes to hit the ball over the net. 6. Lori Michels uses her power to return the serve. 7. Tammy Quainton prepares to slam the ball back over the net. 8. Renee Peri bumps the ball to her teammates.

Varsity Cheerleaders Reach For Success

"You just gotta REACH for it," exclaimed Senior Laura Geldhof. R.E.A.C.H. became the motto for the 1987/88 Varsity Cheerleading squad, standing for Readiness, Excellence, Attitude, Challenge, and Heart.

Early summer saw these athletes begin excessive training for both competitions and the football season. "The summer practices were long and strenuous," commented Tanya Kotlarz, "but it was all worth it when the time for payback comes."

NCA Cheerleading Camp welcomed them with an "Award of Excellence," which qualified them for Nationals in Dallas, Texas. Unfortunately, the girls were not able to partake in the Nationals competition.

Late September brought yet another pleasant surprise with a "first place" award in a competition at Boblo Island. The victory inspired the girls to work even harder.

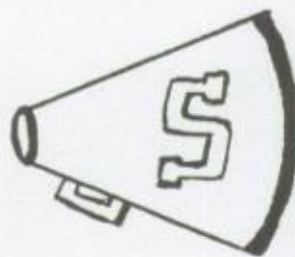

"The key to success is to move forward after every practice, game, or competition," stated Charlene Klinkner. "Setbacks are then eliminated."

This attitude brought them a "first place" trophy at the annual Pistons competition hosted at the Silverdome. It was the fourth consecutive year they have captured the position.

Their continuing success has got the squad recognized and appreciated by a lot of people.

As Coach Terri Cassels Kalinowski put it, "This year has been really fun and challenging. These girls are true athletes with a lot of potential and talent. They're a pleasure to coach and watch — I expect big things to happen at State."

This year's State competition was scheduled in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan in early March.

JV Cheerleaders Capture First Place Medal

The JV Cheerleading squad was always anxious to see their teams finish in the victory column, but the competitive spirit caught the girls as well. Their major accomplishment of the year was capturing a first place medal in the Oakland-Macomb Competition.

In addition, they received a second place finish at a DECA competition and a third place award at the Pistons' competition.

Usually the girls practiced two to three days per week. But when they were going to attend a competition, they would usually work out every single day.

"Even during the long, hard days of practice I knew it would be worth it in the end," commented Melissa Sharer.

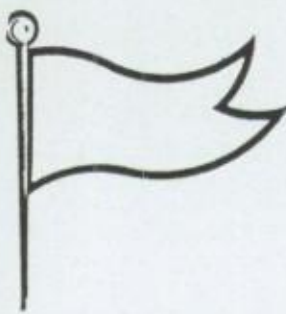

Their summer was full of activity. They attended a NCA Cheerleading Camp at Saginaw State College to improve their skills. They also had fund raisers that included car washes, raffles, and candy sales.

Making the nine-girl squad was a real honor for the girls. "It was the best thing that ever happened to me," exclaimed Dana Ramel.

The girls were very helpful during Spirit Week.

They also took time out on Saturdays to teach elementary school girls the basics of cheerleading. At a junior high school competition they helped by tallying the scores for each school.

The squad was coached by former Varsity Cheerleader AnnaMarie Marossey.

Stallionettes Provide Spark At Half Time Shows

They go by the well-recognized title — the Stallionettes. Their speciality is entertainment, and their halftime performances during football and basketball games is almost as exciting as the contests themselves.

Seventeen girls made up Sterling's renown Stallionette dance team. The squad was coached by Mary Jo Kerr, who has extensive background in dance and has taught gymnastics for many years.

During the summer the team had practices three times a week for two to three hours a day.

Their practices paid off. For when they went to camp for a week in July at Oakland University, they placed second in the competitions that were held.

When school started, the team tried to learn a new routine for each performance. Such a schedule demanded a great deal of commitment and hard work.

Later, in November, the girls were again proving their skill as entertainers when they entered an evaluation at Hazel Park High School. The squad did very well.

In March the team planned to enter another competition against several other schools in the area. The Stallionettes placed second in this regional competition last year.

There were two seniors on the squad: Charla Nowak and Doreen Anthony. The team does not elect captains any more.

In February the squad will introduce a "rookie" routine, which will feature sophomores who will be making up their own dance routine.

Tryouts for the squad are usually scheduled for April.

Flag Corps Provide A Class Act

Former Flag Corps member Alyce Polulak returned to work with the 1987 Flag Corps, helping them to create a new look and a completely new routine for their half-time performances this year.

Captain Mary Beth LaBuhn and Co-Captain Kathy Shulte helped lead the group through a productive and exciting season.

Practices were held twice a week throughout the summer, with the entire group returning in August to attend a special Marching Band camp held at Sterling.

The group also marched in the "Columbus Day" parade in downtown Detroit. After the parade the Marching Band and the Flag Corps spent an enjoyable day at Greektown. The Flag Corps also performed for the Special Olympics held at the G.M. Tech Center.

Along with the Marching Band, the Flag Corps competed in the MSBOA competition in October, receiving a second division rating.

Another trip to Cedar Point in May is planned to wrap up another exciting year.

"Being on the Flag Corps is fun," commented Junior Niki Addington. "It teaches precision, teamwork, and careful attention to detail. They provided a half-time show along with a first class band for a championship football team this year."

Swim Team Returns To Make A Splash!

Sterling's pool remained off-limits for seven long years. But the fall of 1987 saw the pool open again to Sterling swimmers, and a swim team was organized to compete against the three other high schools in the district.

Dan Nugent and Jan Robinson were selected as senior captains of the squad, while John Gusumano and Cathy Gazepis were selected as junior captains.

Practices were held from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. everyday after school and 6 a.m. to 7 a.m. Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

The girls team remained undefeated through the season. Brenda Polin commented, "Awesome! It was great! We really accomplished something and all that hard work paid off. It's really great for our first year."

While the guys team lost only to Mott in the district competition.

Some of the major events were the 200 yd. Medley Relay, the 500 yd. Freestyle, and the 100 yd. Medley.

The team was coached by Andrea Keller and Ken Roski and managed by Connie Rudnicki.

No! They are not simply roaming the halls. They are doing their jobs. Most often, if you are needed in the office or have a counseling appointment, you have been summoned by one of them. They are the OFFICE AIDES.

"Office aides perform such tasks as filing, attendance card collection, summoning students, delivering messages, and answering telephone calls," explained Mr. Varney. Each center is in charge of their own students.

There were approximately 35 students involved in the program. Of the 35, two were boys.

Senior Holly Anderson, an office aide for East Center, commented, "It's repetitive work, but you get a chance to meet a lot of different people."

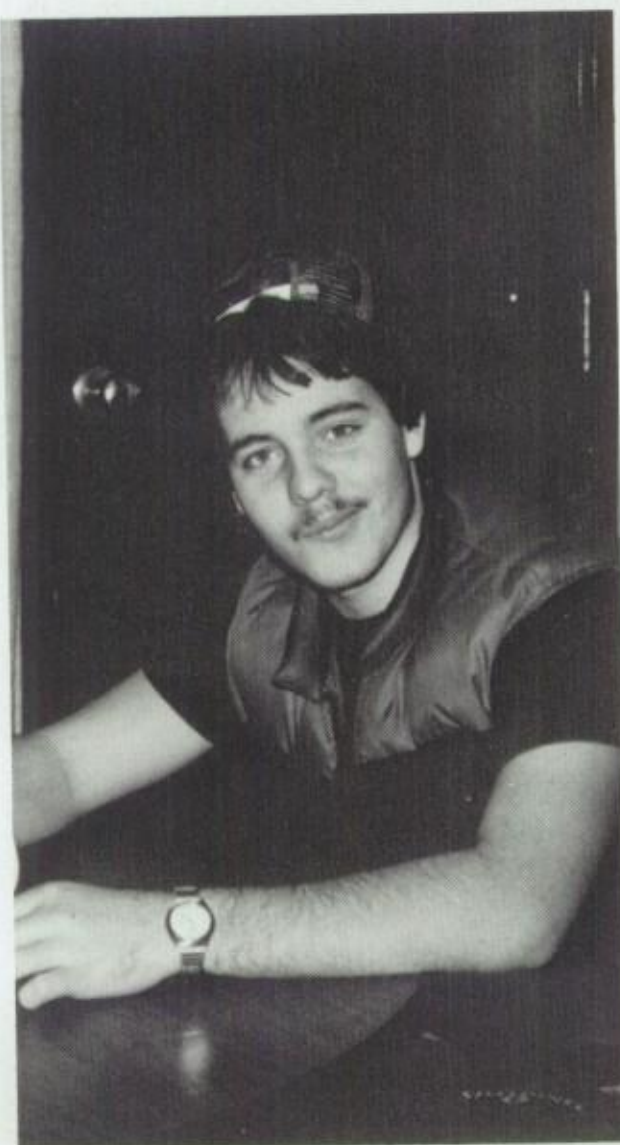

Mrs. Joan Laskowski, Mr. Tropea's secretary, added, "I couldn't function without them. They are invaluable. If I lose one of them, I always try to find a substitute."

Information is the key. And the library aides and audio-visual aides are some of the key people who help dispense that information in a timely and efficient manner.

Library aides check books in and out, inspect and shelve books, take inventory, and help maintain the security of the library's monitoring system.

AV aides make minor repairs on equipment, pick up and deliver equipment, and occasionally operate some of the equipment for teachers.

Being a library aide does not mean just sitting around. "It is just like a regular class," commented Warren Wilson. "You are expected to do work, and there are assignments, too."

Mrs. Evans is in charge of the AV aides, while Mr. Crandall is responsible for the library aides. Mr. Crandall summed up the importance of the library aides with the following comment: "We couldn't run the library without them."

1 Sterling's office co-op program places Juniors and Seniors into office jobs, giving them hands on experience. The course earns 3 credits, towards graduation.

Rockwell, K-Mart International, local banks and dentist offices are just a few of the many companies which hire students through the program.

Mrs. Horton is in charge of the 50 plus students enrolled in the class. The basic purpose of the program is to improve students secretarial skills and give them experience needed to succeed in the business world.

Students work between 18 and 20 hours per week, work time usually includes the last 2 hours of the school day. Most of the jobs pay over minimum wage and provide a business atmosphere to work in.

Senior Lori Kepsel commented, "Working at Rockwell has given me knowledge of the business world and matured me in many ways. I had to be a teenager at school but an adult at work, but it's worth it!"

"Working while earning two credits, plus learning marketing skills in class worth another credit, has definitely made DE II my most worthwhile class," said Senior Lisa Curtis.

Distributive Education II is one of Sterling's most popular classes, with a 76 student enrollment.

"We know that the majority of SHHS graduates are going to be working in the business/marketing area or studying business in college. The Marketing and Co-op programs offer these people a head start on a successful career path," stated Mr. Haley.

Students study product development, pricing methods, and business management. They are required to read Monday's business section of the Detroit Free Press along with the current consumer magazine.

Students are employed by such businesses as Hudsons, Penneys, Sears, ACO, and some car dealerships. Students must work at least 600 hours before the end of the school year.

Employers must fill out an evaluation sheet every card marking.

SENIOR COUNCIL

1 The new school year began by "chilling the chieftains" with the aid of the arctic penguin, who was the guest of honor on the Senior Class Homecoming float. It drew to a close with reflections on the All-Night party.

Senior Class Council was responsible for many of the activities that made the senior so memorable.

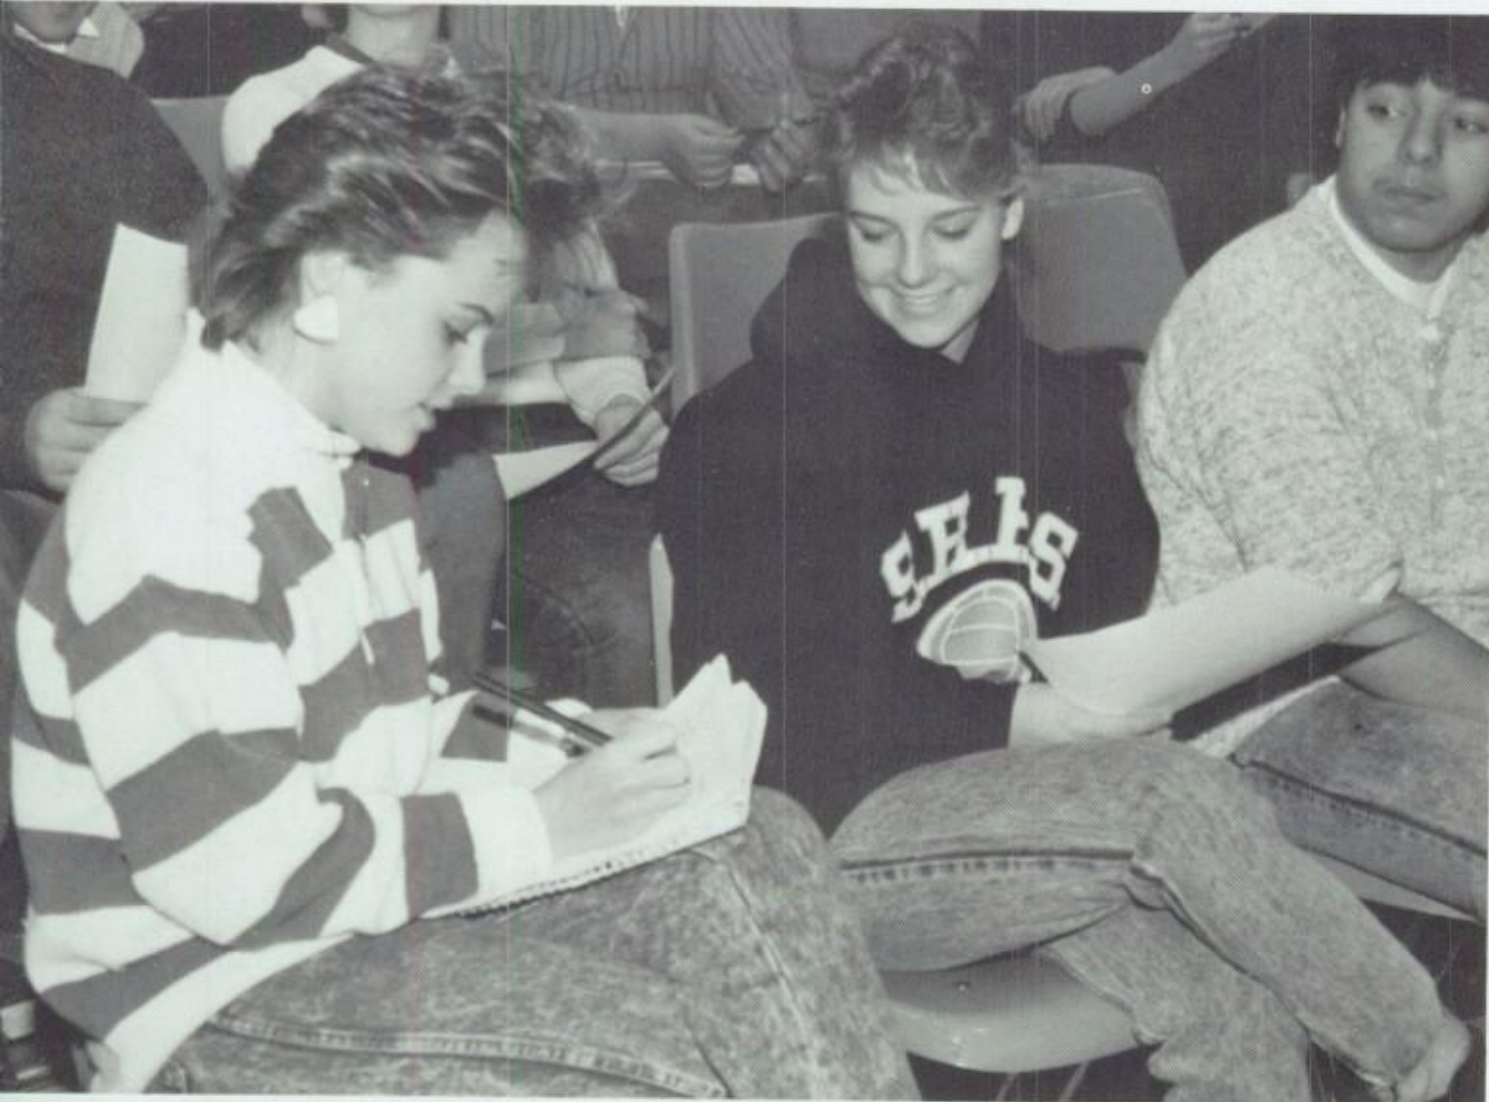

"We got to voice our opinions," commented Lori Puchovan. "And we got involved in so many things that senior class entails."

A group of 97 members assembled to form the Senior Council, which helped plan Homecoming competitions, the Bovenschen Christmas party, and the school dances.

Mr. Turk served as council advisor. Officers were Maria Tsitsis, president; Anna Rzepka, vice-president; Lynn Kwiatkowski, secretary; and Colleen Ford, treasurer.

President Maria Tsitsis and Vice-President Anna Rzepka go over the schedule of events for the senior activities this year. 3. Tricia Schuchmann and Rachel Kravens discuss their opinions on the topic at hand. 4. Roseanne Ventimeglia suggests a theme for this year's prom. 5. Christi Girvan and Candy D'Angelo volunteer their help with Homecoming preparation. 6. Colleen Ford appoints a chairperson for the prom set-up committee.

1. Liz Skeans and Beth Mease sign up for the decorating committee for the dance. 2. Vice-President Angela Ciraulo briefs the council. 3. Michelle Splane and Jill Bulgarelli discuss plans for a pool party. 4. Sophomore Council votes for the Homecoming float theme. 5. Jennifer Gagnon asks her friend Sarai Doyle why the council decided to take on such a big job. 6. Sophomore Class Council Officers: Beth Lialios, treasurer; Carol Kir, secretary; Angela Ciraulo, vice-president; Matt Nash, president; and Mrs. Daily, advisor.

Publication of the "1990 Newsletter" marked one of the most significant accomplishments of the Sophomore Class Council. President Matt Nash was inspired to produce the publication to provide the class of 1990 with an up-to-date accounting of 10th grade news items.

V.P. Angela Ciraulo commented, "It is important for a council such as ours to take charge and complete as many goals as we possibly can. We must strive for new and inventive ideas."

Plans for a sophomore "pool party" to compliment the Junior Ring Dinner and the Senior All-Night Party was yet another example of how the sophomore class council were committed to making progress.

The council provided sophomores a chance to meet new people and make new friends.

"Uncle Sam" was the product of the sophomore float competition. It didn't win first place honors, but it did display the spirit and enthusiasm of the class of '90.

Without the strong support and help of over 50 members and the leadership of the class officers, the Junior Class Council could not have taken credit for a proud second-place finish in the Homecoming competition.

The float was assembled at the home of Deann Scola, Junior Class president. Other officers were Kathy Perez, vice-president; Alison Miramonti, treasurer; and Vanessa Guiang, secretary.

The council was advised by Mrs. Daily. She helped the council to plan the leadership Christmas activities and take part in the Bovenschen Christmas party.

"There aren't enough students attending the meetings and more people have to get involved in the activities," commented Mrs. Dailey. "A few can't do it alone."

The possibility of an informal junior prom was being discussed by the council.

Student Senate consisted of approximately 140 students. A representative and alternate was elected from each English class to attend meetings and report back to their rooms.

Mrs. Wagner completed her first full year as Senate advisor. "It has been an exhausting, yet fulfilling challenge," commented Mrs. Wagner. "I was able to work with a great group of kids."

Each Student Senate meeting brings together representatives from each of the three classes to participate in school-wide decisions. Everyone has an opportunity and responsibility to state their opinions.

"I find what we say to be very effective and looked upon with seriousness," explained Jeff Chastian.

Senate officers were Crissi Mennucci, president; Ken Habbel, vice-president; Sue Blaszkowski, secretary; and Dave Youngman, treasurer.

FRENCH CLUB

Students enrolled in any of the French classes had an extra opportunity to learn more about the French culture as well as have a great time. The French Club welcomed one and all to partake of its many activities and outings.

This year's president was Laurie Pachucki. Other officers were Vince Wilk, vice-president; Lisa Buban, recording secretary; Chris Nugent, corresponding secretary; and Jeff Stacey, treasurer.

The club sold M + M's to help raise funds to visit nearby French restaurants and to pay for a skiing trip. In November, the members tried a new outing, a wallyball tournament. They also participated in the International Food Fest.

Plans for later in the school year included a trip to a Red Wing game, the Mardi Gras celebration in February, and another Spring fashion show.

The club was lucky to have Mrs. Lutz sponsor the organization. The time and commitment she put into the club made it a really enjoyable experience for all.

Complimenting Sterling's China studies program, the China Club was stronger than ever in '88 with its 28 active members.

President of the club was Elizabeth Thomas. Tanya Kanir served as VP, while Ho Ta served as treasurer.

The club planned to go to Toronto in December, touring the city's China Town as well as its museums, art galleries, and other points of interest.

The most ambitious plan that the group was entertaining was an actual trip to China in the early summer, taking five students and having them board with families living in the Chinese city of Beijing.

The five students would also attend a Shanghai study program at East China Normal University.

Bob Schultz really thought the program was worthwhile. "It's an excellent chance to get to know the language and culture," he remarked. "The US will be conducting more and more business with China in the future."

"The Math Club is a place where the kids can demonstrate their academic ability in a friendly and fun competition," explained sponsor Larry Ervin. "They can improve on their Algebra II, Geometry, and Trigonometry skills."

Having completed five of their six competitions, the group found themselves in 7th place out of a total of 80 competitors.

At the end of the competitions, there is a winner for the state and for each county. There are also individual awards within each state and county.

"I enjoy the challenge of competition," commented Jeff Stacey. "Also I get extra-credit in my Calculus class."

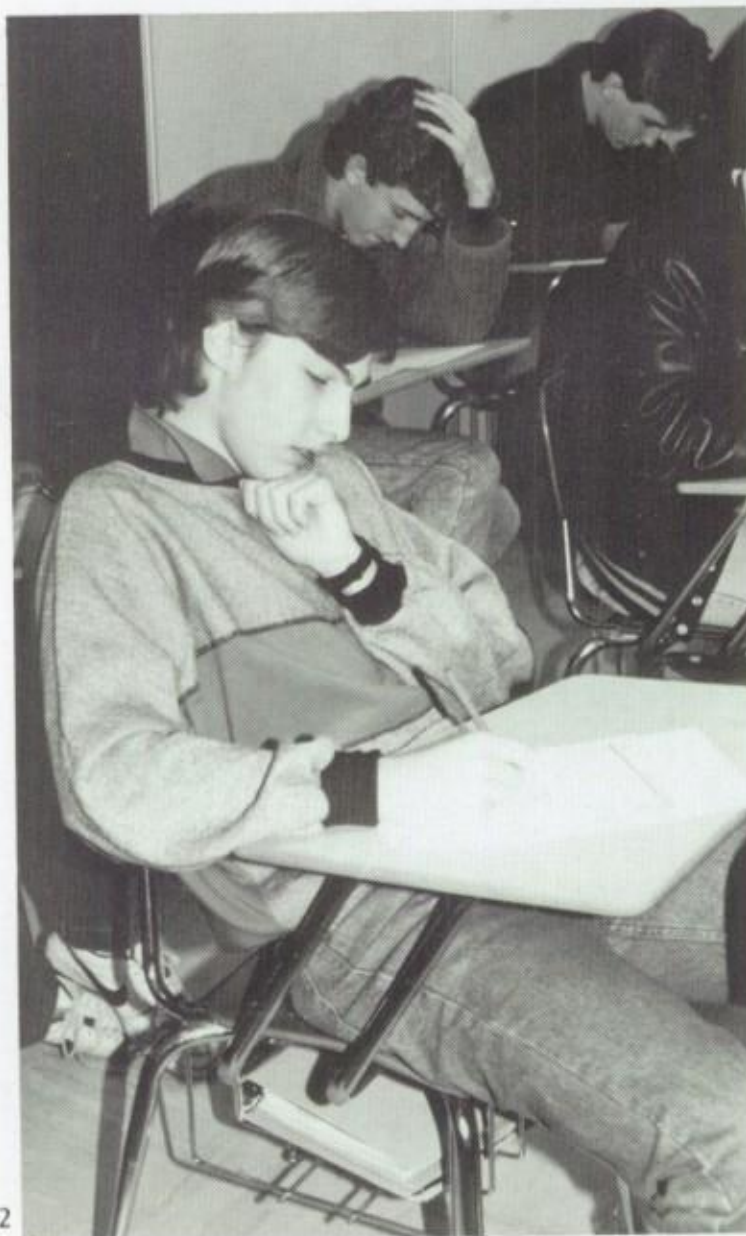

"The competition aspect makes it more fun," added Andrew Turczyn. "It's really rewarding when you do well because the problems are so challenging."

1. Mr. Ervin carefully checks the results. 2. Steve Fergeson ponders a difficult problem. 2. Sam Samhouri finishes up the last problem, "no sweat." 4. Audra Meng strives for a perfect score.

Sterling's Computer Club entered its second year of existence, with the club's five members committed to mastering the technology of tomorrow.

Sterling Computer Club competes against other high schools in the area. Usually a team will use a single computer to solve a certain number of problems in a limited amount of time.

The team are then judged for accuracy and speed.

Last year's club was ranked in the top three out of nine schools. Mr. Strang, the club's advisor, expected this year's group to do just as well.

Sophomore Rafia Lodhi was the only underclassman on the otherwise all-senior team. "Being the only sophomore and also the only girl is a challenge in itself," commented Rafia, "but in the future I hope to be a major contributor to the team."

No specific classes are required to participate in the group. Programming experience and a basic knowledge of computer language are the only prerequisites necessary.

ELECTRONICS CLUB

Meeting at least once per month, the Electronics Club was sponsored by Mr. Denhard. The organization provided an interesting accessory to the Electronics Class.

The club had over twenty-five members. To help raise money for special equipment used in Electronics Class, the group sold M&M's and Reese's as fund raisers.

"Being with a group of students who share the same interests as me is great," commented senior Steve Gaffke. "I also liked the opportunity the organization provided to help people who are less fortunate than us."

The Electronics Club sponsored a special canned food drive this year. Almost 1700 cans of food were collected in school for distribution to low-income families in Sterling Heights at Christmas.

Officers of the club were John Ogier, president; Jenny Blake, vice-president; Brian East, secretary; and Janice Darroch, treasurer.

Some of Sterling's most creative and intelligent students met during sixth hour every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday to participate in the Future Problem Solvers program, supervised by Mrs. Adrienne Allard.

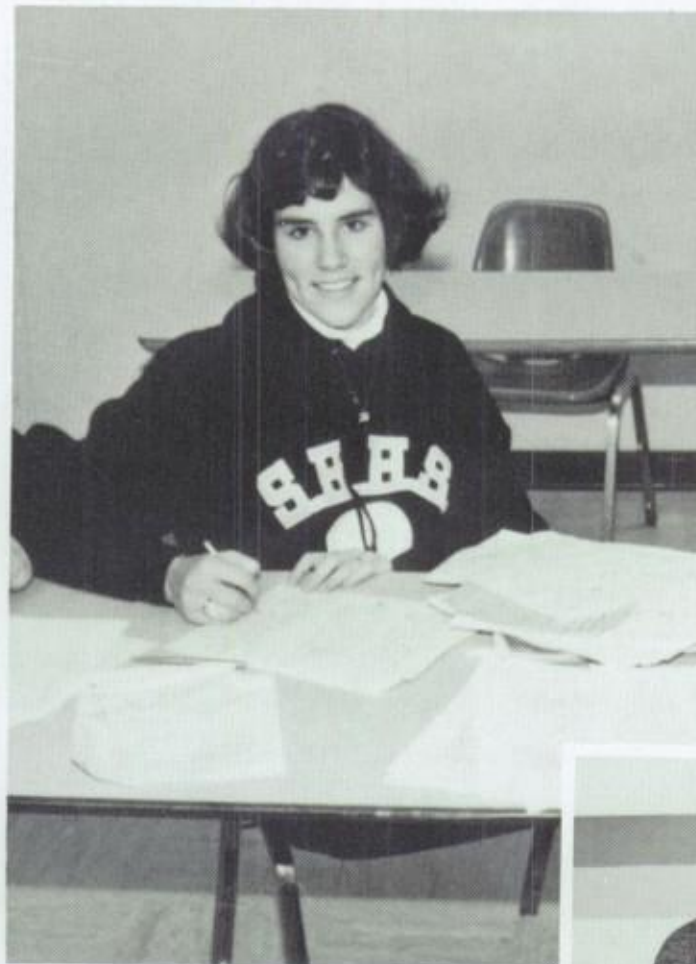

The class's assignment was to take an imaginary look into the future to determine what some of the main problems of a certain topic would look like, then to try to find solutions to some of those problems.

This year the group focused on space travel, problems of the elderly, and acid rain.

Twenty-eight students participated in the program this year. Ten of them were returning seniors.

Even though the class doesn't usually have written homework, they are required to watch some TV. "Our assignment is to watch 'Jeopardy' everyday," explained junior Angela Ellis, "then to tell Mrs. Allard what the final 'Jeopardy' answer was."

Many of its members also participated in the Science Olympiad and the Quiz Bowl.

FUTURE PROBLEM SOLVERS

Approximately 80 in number, Sterling's Booster Club is made up of dedicated parents whose main objective is to see that Sterling's athletic program remains sound and strong.

Officers for 1987-88 were Jim VanAntwerp, president; Ray DeVriendt, vice-president; Barb Avery, secretary; Bruce Julin, treasurer; and Joanne VanAntwerp, fund-raiser chairperson.

"We are a non-profit organization whose purpose is to encourage partial funding, if necessary, to maintain the quality of Sterling's athletic endeavors," commented Mrs. VanAntwerp.

Over $30,000 was raised this past year to redo the weight-training room in Sterling's gym.

The groups fund-raising efforts have also made it possible to purchase a pitching machine, video camera, and a computer to use in the athletic program.

Booster club parents can usually be seen helping out at games, making Sterling's athletic contests truly enjoyable experiences.

One of Sterling's most prestigious organizations is the National Honor Society. To become a member, students must maintain a 3.2 GPA and show involvement in extra-curricular activities and community service.

Members sold M + M's to raise money for Children's Hospital, and to help defray the costs of a special ski trip to Mr. Holly that was planned for February.

Officers were Steve Kubiak, president; Maria Fanzone, vice-president; Chris Malone; secretary; Laura Geldhof, treasurer; and George Badalow, historian.

One of the basic improvements NHS has done for the school is give it a sense of pride. Steve Kubiak remarked, "The pride one feels when one is honored by this organization results in pride in our own school."

The group was also very active in planning and participating in the annual Bovenschen Christmas Party.

Sterling's S.A.D.D. chapter began the 1987-88 school year hoping to find new ways to put an end to the drinking and driving problems in our area.

In December, several students visited local elementary schools teaching students K-6 how to say "No!" to drugs and alcohol.

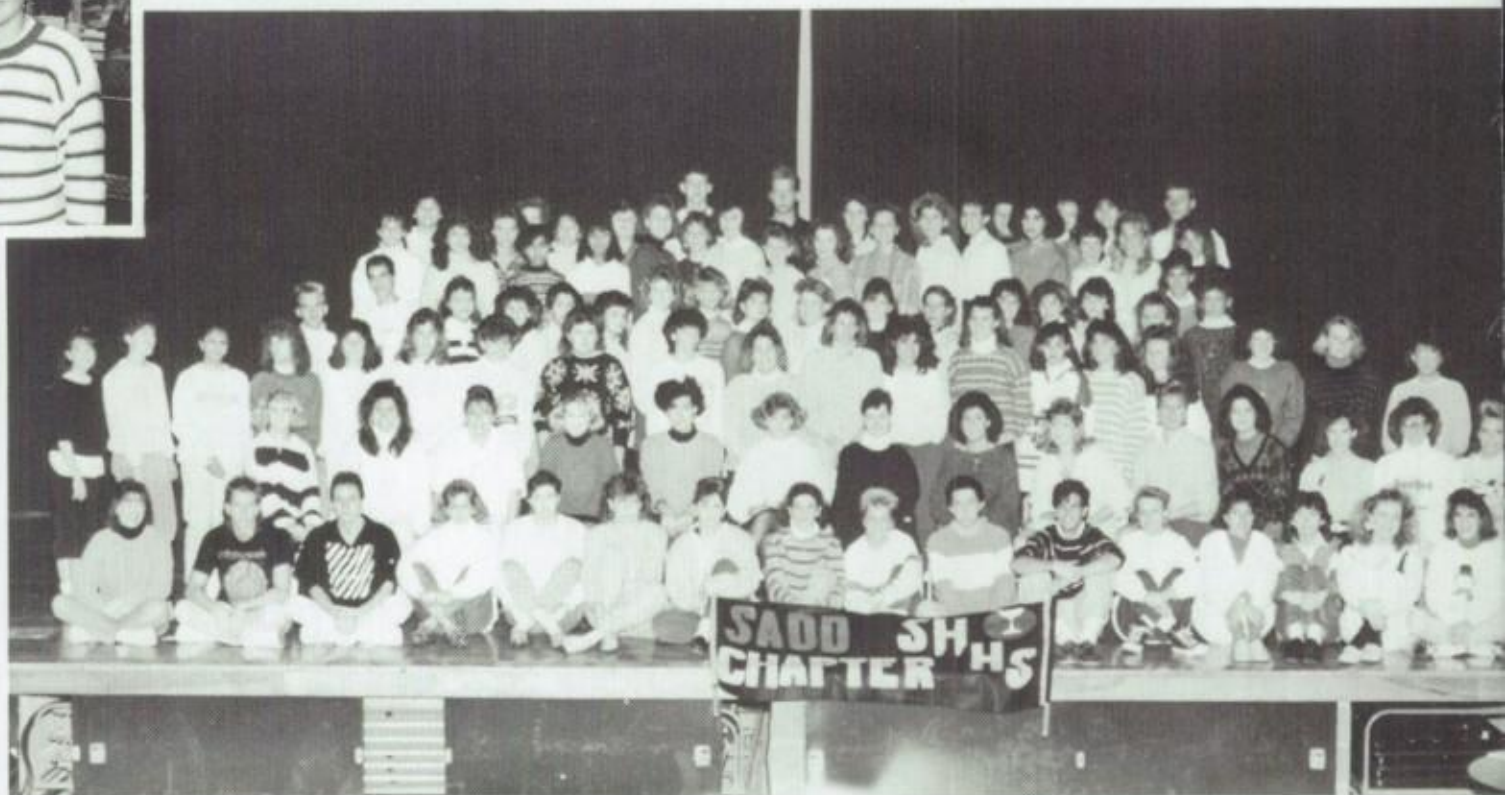

A committee of senior S.A.D.D. members attended a Project Graduation Student Leadership Conference at the Warren Chateau in November. They also planned to attend the Greater Metro Detroit Rally on Project Graduation.

Another goal was to promote the Pro Challenge Crackdown of Drugs. This contest was aimed to make more students understand what's happening in the schools, and why students drink.

S.A.D.D. also worked hard to get more parent commitment. They passed out pledge sheets asking parents to agree to pick up their teens if they were drinking or were with someone who was drinking and driving, no questions asked.

Profits from the sales go directly to beneficial funds for various school organizations. SADD, Student Council, Newspaper, Project Close-Up are just a few of the groups that receive help from the School Store.

"We are not here to make money off the kids," commented Coordinator Mike Haley. "The students don't realize the deals we have."

Mr. Dehring directs the program.

"Working in the School Store gives me a chance to meet new people while learning the basics of business," commented senior Debbie LePage.

FORENSICS/DEBATE

Sterling's newly formed debate team consisted of Sangeeta Patel, Russ Mester, Marcy Gorajczyk and Lori Puchovan.

The topic selected for the year was "Resolved that the United States should adopt a policy to increase political stability in Latin America."

Since it was the first time for the team to debate, the initial competitions were in a novice tournament held at Utica High School. The debaters qualified for the varsity tournament held at Henry Ford High School.

"The experience really helped me to speak with confidence in front of others," commented Lori Puchovan.

Marcy Gorajczyk added, "The class helped me learn research technique and how to obtain the most current information."

Seven students went to the forensics competition. Lora Geldhof, Julie Mistretta, Terry Smith, and Deann Scola did "Sorry, Wrong Number." Lori Puchovan did a serious interpretation, while Marcy and Sangeeta did humorous interpretation.

The Peer Education Program is designed to give students a chance to talk about a problem or situation that they are experiencing with someone their own age rather than an adult. Peer educators are trained on subjects such as suicide, abuse, teen pregnancy, rape, death, and just good listening skills," says PEP member Rachel Cataldo.

The group began last year, with 30 members. Now in its second year, there are approximately 55-60 students working as "PEP'ers."

Approaching a PEP'er may seem hard, at first, but they are all friendly, caring people that are willing to listen and help.

"Confidentiality is a number one priority to the group," commented PEP member Rachel Cataldo. "All PEP'ers should respect the privacy of those people who talk to them. We are supposed to report child abuse and suicide remarks, however."

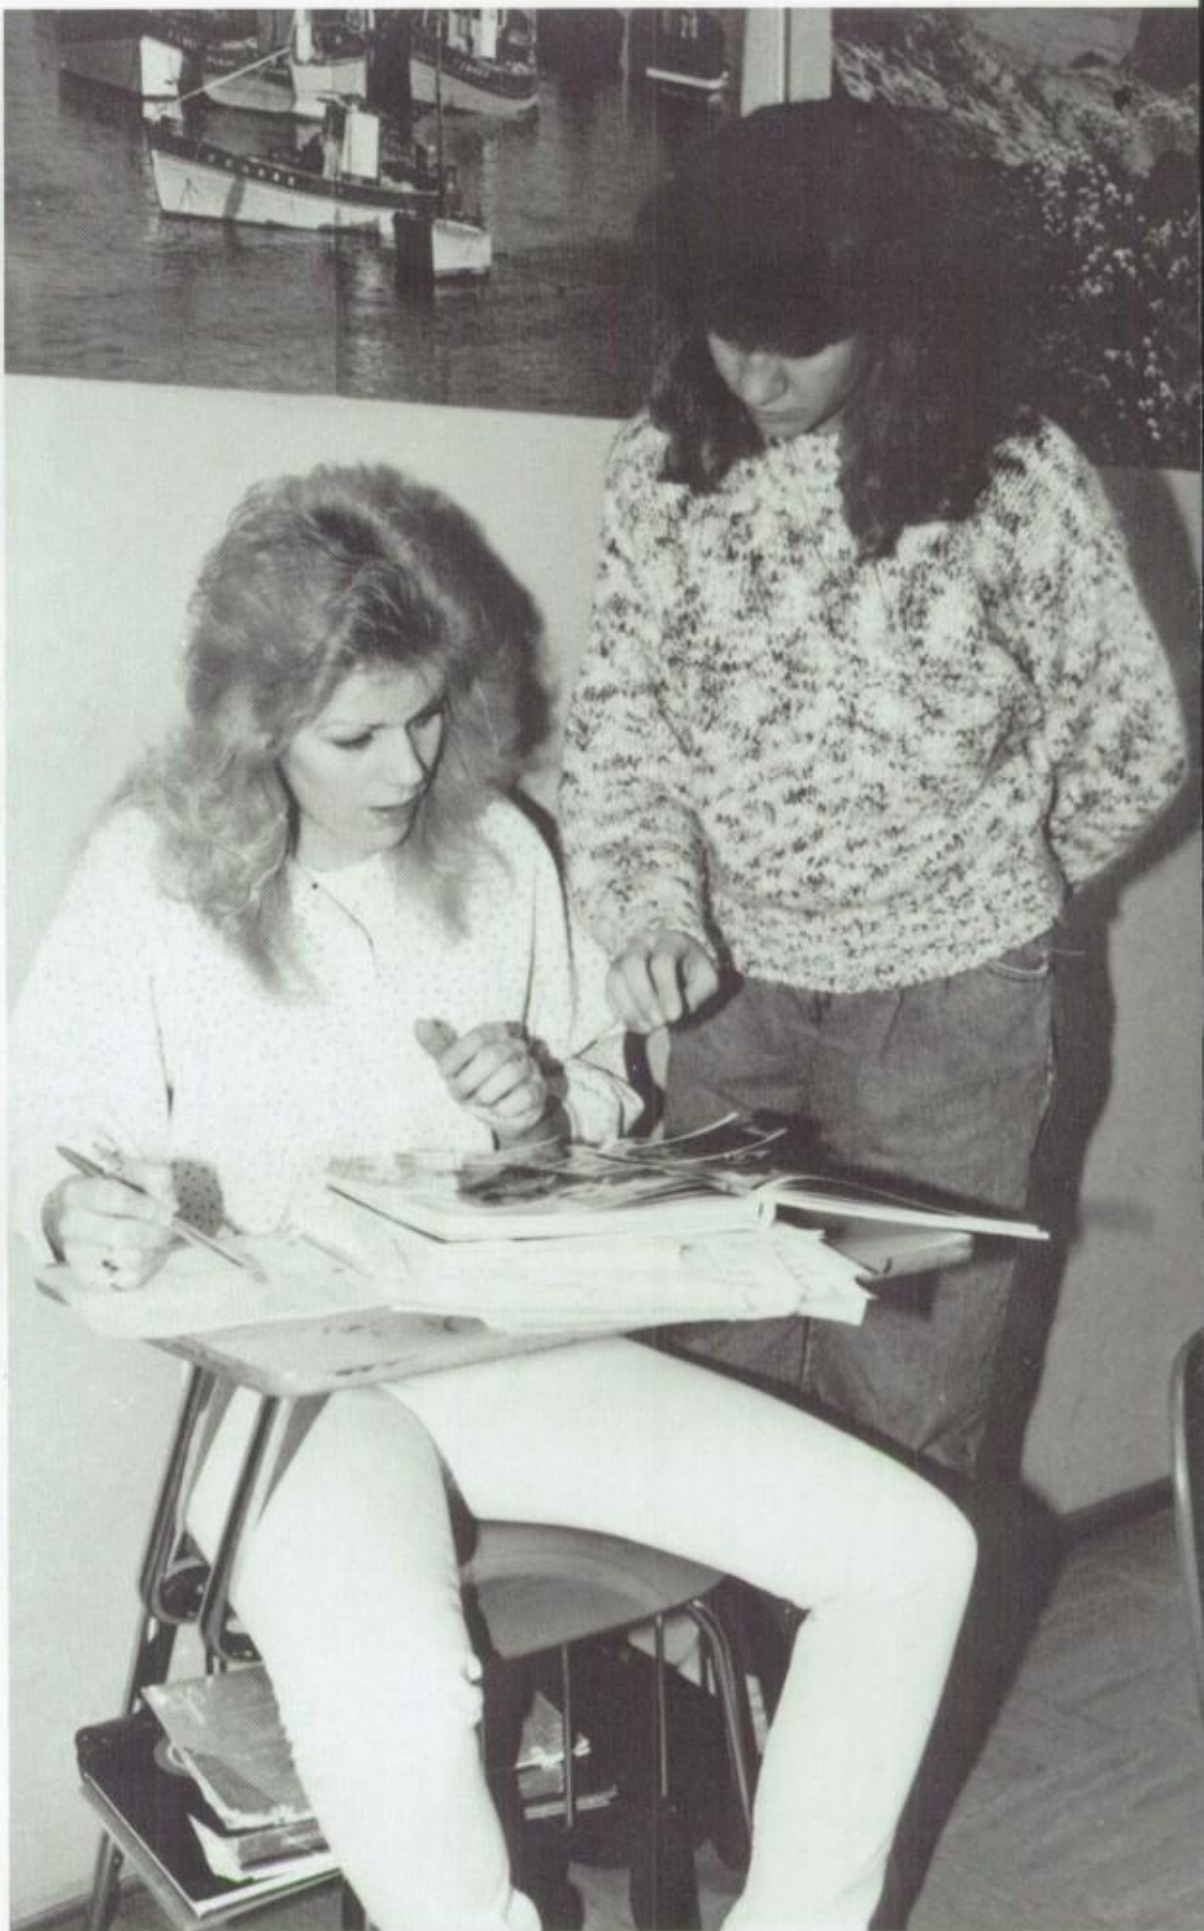

Access is the organization sponsoring PEP. Over the summer, there was a conference in St. Louis in mid-June. Susan Blaskowski represented out school.

The year began with eight returning staffers and fourteen new recruits. It wasn't long before deadline pressures set in and the staff really had to depend on each other.

A select group of staffers were able to attend Yearbook Camp at Oakland University for four days in June. There was also a one day workshop at MCC Center Campus in October that the entire class attended.

LANDMARK TREATY — Ronald Reagan and Soviet head of state Mikhail Gorbachev begin the first of three days of summit talks, which ended in the signing of a treaty banning medium- and shorter-range nuclear missiles from Europe and Asia.

TEARFUL MELTDOWN — Televangelists Jim and Tammy Bakker watched their PTL empire fall in March after alleged corruption and wrong-doing within the organization.

PAPAL VISIT — Laguna Seca Raceway in Monterey, Calif., was just one of Pope John Paul's stops during his nine-city tour of the United States in September.

NUMBER ONE — Marlee Matlin signed her thanks at the 1987 Academy Awards after winning the award for Best Actress for her role in "Children of a Lesser God."

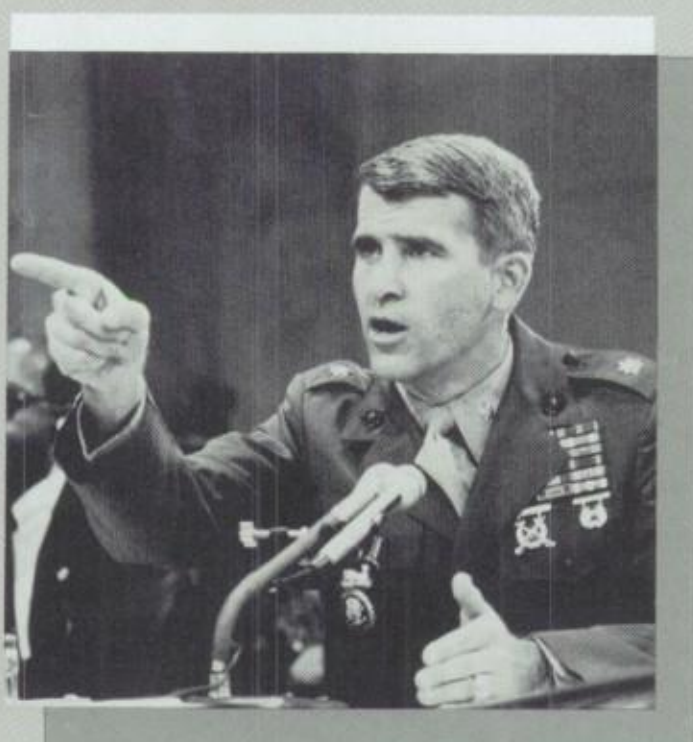

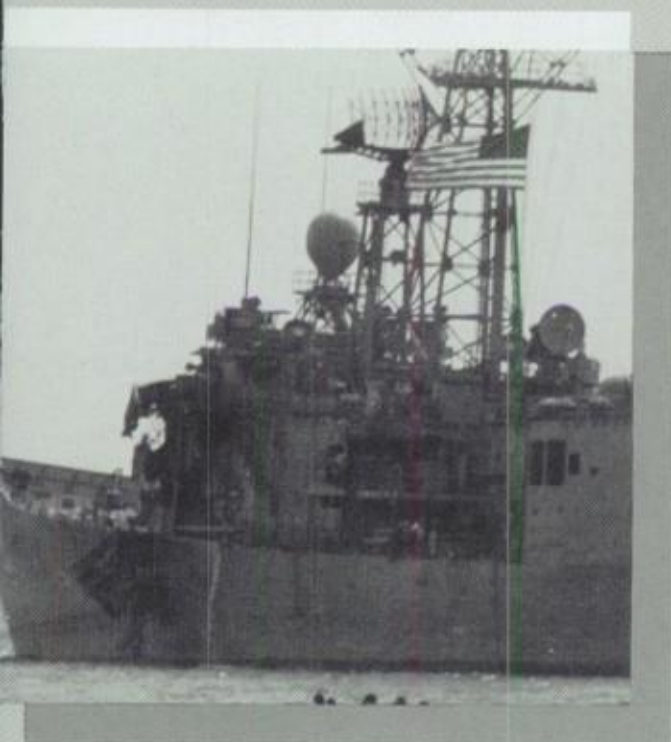

LET FREEDOM RING — Fireworks above Independence Hall in Philadelphia celebrate the 200th anniversary of the U.S. Constitution.

A GIANT WIN — New York Giants teammates Brad Benson and Phil Simms celebrate their 39-20 victory over the Denver Broncos in Super Bowl XXI.

EVENTS

1988

WAR ZONE — While patrolling international waters in May, the frigate Stark was hit by Iraqi missiles, killing 37 crewmen.

HEAT WAVE — Lt. Col. Oliver North seized the spotlight for six days in July during the Iran-Contra hearings. Despite the wave of "Ollie mania," many Americans felt North broke the law.

BLACK MONDAY — The Dow Jones industrial average plunged 508 points to an all-time low following the biggest one-day selloff in history October 19.

FAREWELL

POP ARTIST — Andy Warhol, 58, immortalized the Campbell's soup can and brought pop art to life in the 1960s. He once proclaimed everyone would have 15 minutes of fame.

"HOW SWEET IT IS" — Jackie Gleason, 71, created Brooklyn's rotund bus driver, Ralph Kramden, in television's "The Honeymooners."

TV FAVORITE — Lorne Greene, 72, played the father to three boys in the television series "Bonanza" for fourteen years. He later used his gentle, but rugged, appearance in TV commercials.

1. David Vervaecke receives his special ribbon from Mr. Dundas. 2. Thanking Mr. Dundas for his ribbon is Matt Wilk while Brian Dolinar and Lori Skonieczny anxiously stand in line. 3. Does Corina Hausherr look upset because Jeff Stacey was in line first? 4. Lori Tedrow and Sue Nasiatha enjoy a special "All A's" breakfast. 5. Jenni Goble, Laura Willick, Dana Ramel and Kristen Herman think the milk and doughnuts are delicious. 6. Corina Hausherr, David Turczyn, Jack Kobus, Andrew Turczyn, Ariel Smits, and Vicki Smolen are well deserving of the honors. 7. Kristen Herman shakes hands with Mr. Dundas while Mike Kosonog calmly waits for his turn. 8. Mr. Dundas gives Sue Nasiatka her ribbon while Lori Tedrow looks on.

All A's

This year 52 students received all A's on their first report card for the school year. The accomplishment earned them a special honor — a breakfast and congratulations from the faculty and administration of SHHS.

Mr. Dundas awarded each all-A student a ribbon which recognized their accomplishment. Both Mr. Gordon as well as Dr. John Pagan offered words of praise for the select group who had worked so hard.

Of course, these high marks will serve well when the time comes to apply for admission to college. GPA's are usually examined very carefully when admitting students.

But many of Sterling's finest work hard for other reasons, too. Sometimes it's the challenge of the moment, sometimes it's the quest for recognition, sometimes it's just the incentive held out by one's parents.

But no one can really dispute the difficulty of the task. Congratulations are certainly in order.

All A's: Seniors: Mark Avery, Vahan Badalow, Anne Marie Bork, Maria Fanzone, Steven Ferguson, Laura Geldhof, Denise Gohr, Marcy Gorajczyk, Cherie Halter, Corina Hausherr, Eric Hermanson, Karen Kinner, Lynn Kwiatkoski, Thomas Lenda, Christine Malone, Jerel McPhearson, Dan Nugent, Lori Puchovan, Anna Rzepka, Kevin Schemansky, Dana Schmitt, Lori Skonieczny, Jeffrey Stacey, Maria Tsitsis, Jeremy Way, Carolyn Zach. Juniors: Jennifer Goble, Jack Kobus, Audra Meng, Ariel Smits, Victoria Smolen, Andrew Turczyn, David Turczyn, Laura Willick. Sophomores: Brian Chen, Brian Dolinar, Gladys Galicia, David Hagen, Kristen Herman, Christopher Hermanson, Michael Kosonog, Beth Lialios, Thomas Marra, Matthew Nash, Susan Nasiatka, Dana Ramel, Samer Samhouri, Lori Tedrow, David Vervaecke, Lorraine Waldis, Wesley White, Matthew Wilk

Fall. School reopens, old friendships are renewed. And the excitement of another football season, homecoming, and trips to the cider mill make it a very special time of the year.

"I really like fall," exclaimed Sue Blaszkowski. "I like to take walks and look at the colors. All you need is a sweater."

But as the leaves begin to turn, winter can't be too far behind. It's not easy to prepare for all the snow and ice.

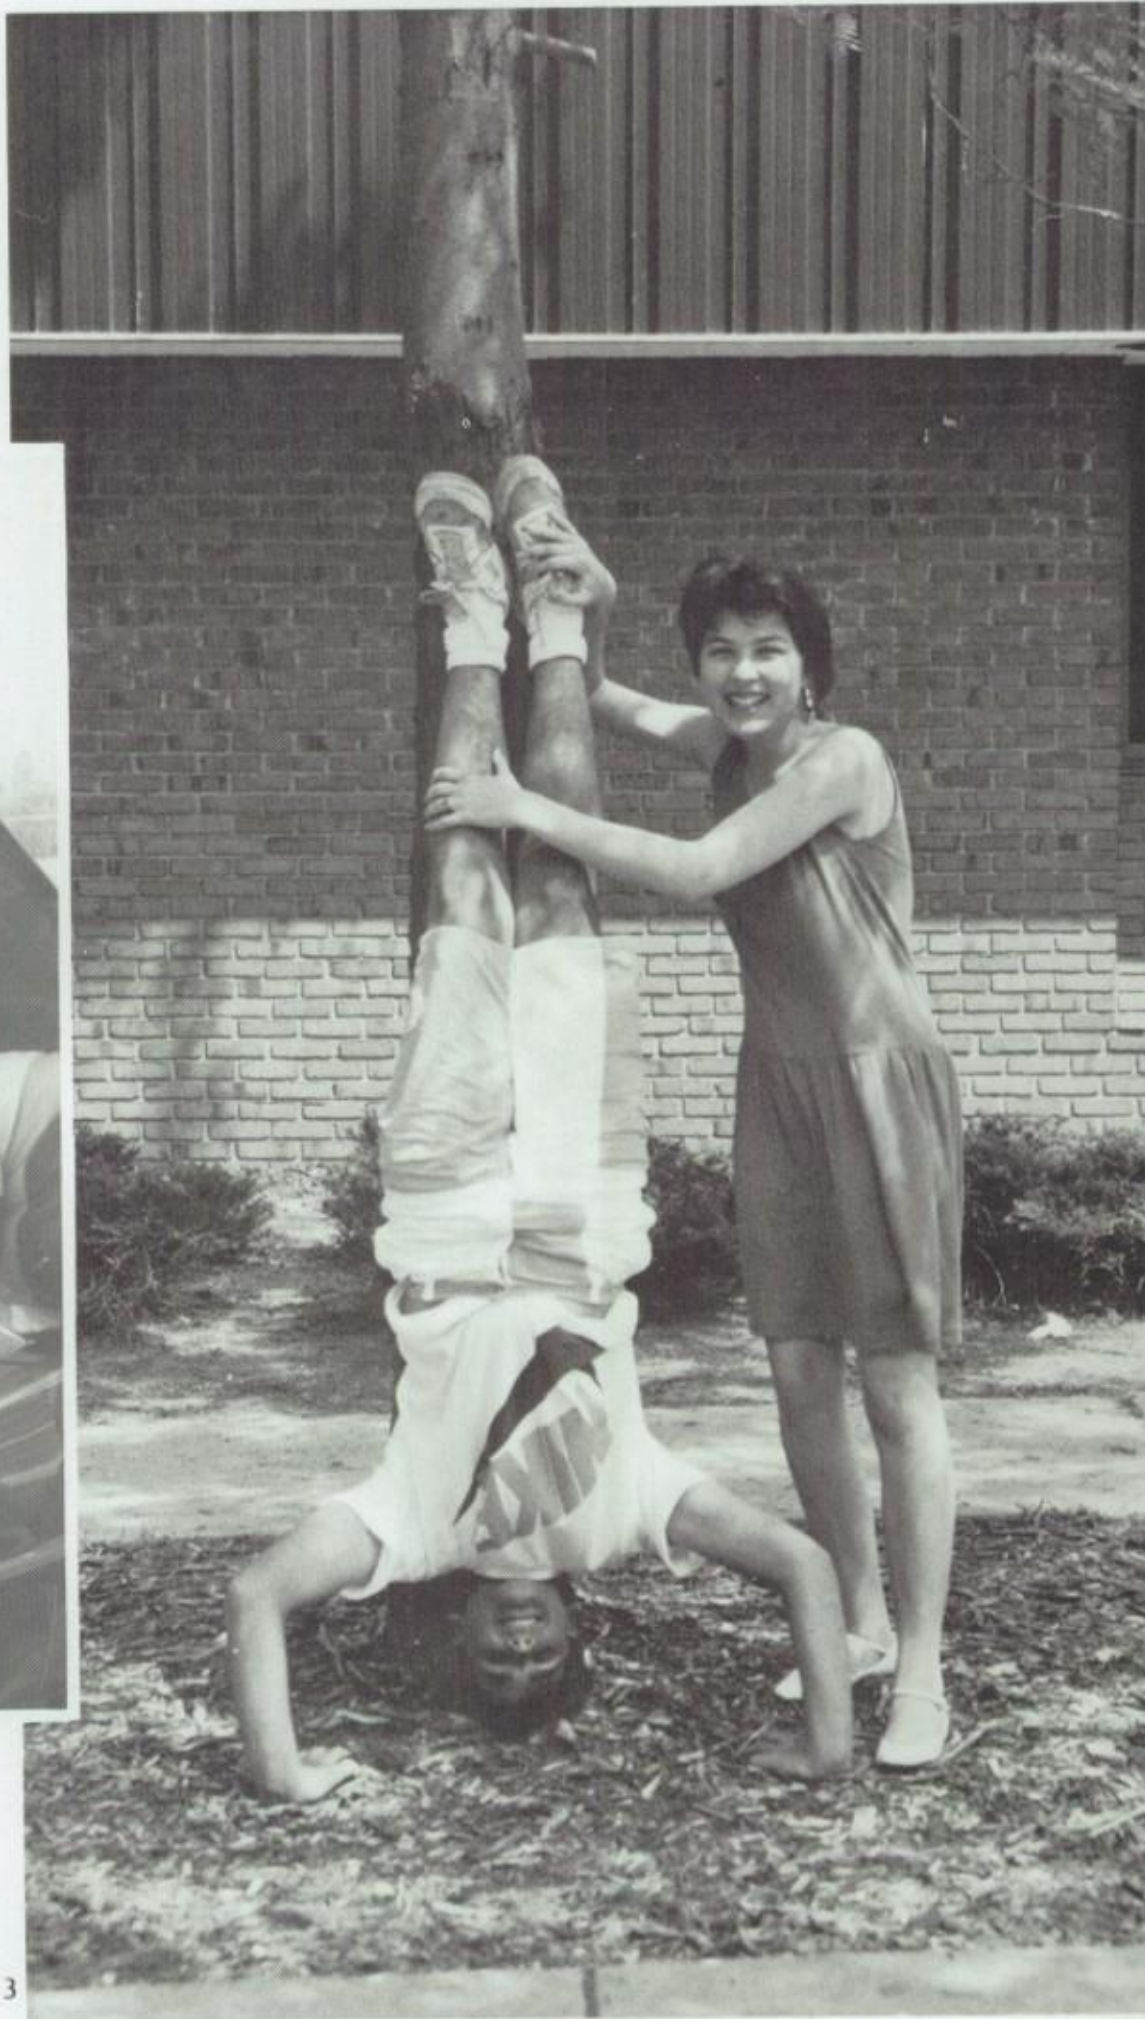

For many winter is the worst season of the year. People get sick. Driving can be treacherous. And it gets dark so early.

But then there is another side. For some, snowball fights and skiing can mean a lot of fun. Christmas and New Year's have a special way of making everyone happy.

Snuggling up to a cozy fire in the fireplace can also be a special treat.

Spring means flowers, leaves, baseball, and for some — a trip to Florida. Prom and graduation can't be far off. A sense of new beginnings is in the air.

Summer is a time to be outside. Whether its the beach, the pool, or just driving around with all the windows down — summer means vacation, and just taking things easy!

The Changing Of The Seasons

1. Jackie Segal and Lisa Beaumont sit outside during lunch and enjoy the spring breeze. 2. Dave Roznowski and Tim Nichols have a bit of car trouble in the dead of winter. 3. Marcy Gorajczyk is excited about the fall season, but Ken Montemayor is definitely head over heels! 4. Kelly Blanchard, Berry Crawford, and Becki Gigliotti have learned to appreciate the air conditioning at Sterling in June. 5. Jennifer Rick and Christine Pfeiffer have a friendly snowball fight. 6. Dave Mikoz decides that the spring weather doesn't really require a jacket. 7. Matt Power, Bryan Newcom, Lou Evola, and Mike Silarski the day before they caught a bad cold and had to stay home from school.

1. John Gusemono works hard to please his customers. 2. Andy Russell's attitude at Valu Land is all smiles. 3. Kim Thomas is on her way to waitress at Monte Carlo. 4. Lending a helping hand at Saint Malachy Church is Susan Blaszkowski. 5. Cheryl Ruatto gives her services to the Children's Department at Sears. 6. Monica Paoella shows one of the delicious goodies available at More Than Ice Cream. 7. Bill Frohreis's main rule at Meijer is, "Don't squeeze the Charmin!"

They Work Hard For The Money

MONEY. The whole world seems to revolve around it. After school and on the weekends many a Sterling student can be seen putting in his time working a variety of part time jobs.

Earning minimum wage, or perhaps a little better, students find themselves saving for school, making money for car payments, and just acquiring that much needed cash for clothes, records, and dates.

Spring Break also looms importantly on the horizon for many senior job holders who dream about getting away early to that place in the sun, and living up those final moments of being a senior.

Senior Lena Guiang is one of a few who actually hold down two jobs. Working as a coop nurse's assistant and waitressing at Olga's, Lena says, "Well, I need the money. Besides, I like what I do, and both jobs are fun."

So Happy Together

"People were meant to live two by two in this world," says the Stage Manager in Thornton Wilder's play Our Town. Sterling couples seem to have gotten the message.

Walking down the hallways, holding hands. Saying goodbye to each other outside the door of a classroom, if only for an hour. Couples are pretty easy to spot around the halls of Sterling.

Some couples seem to get together only a few weeks. Others go together for years. But having that special someone who is always there, whom you can talk to when you really need someone who understands, can really mean a great deal.

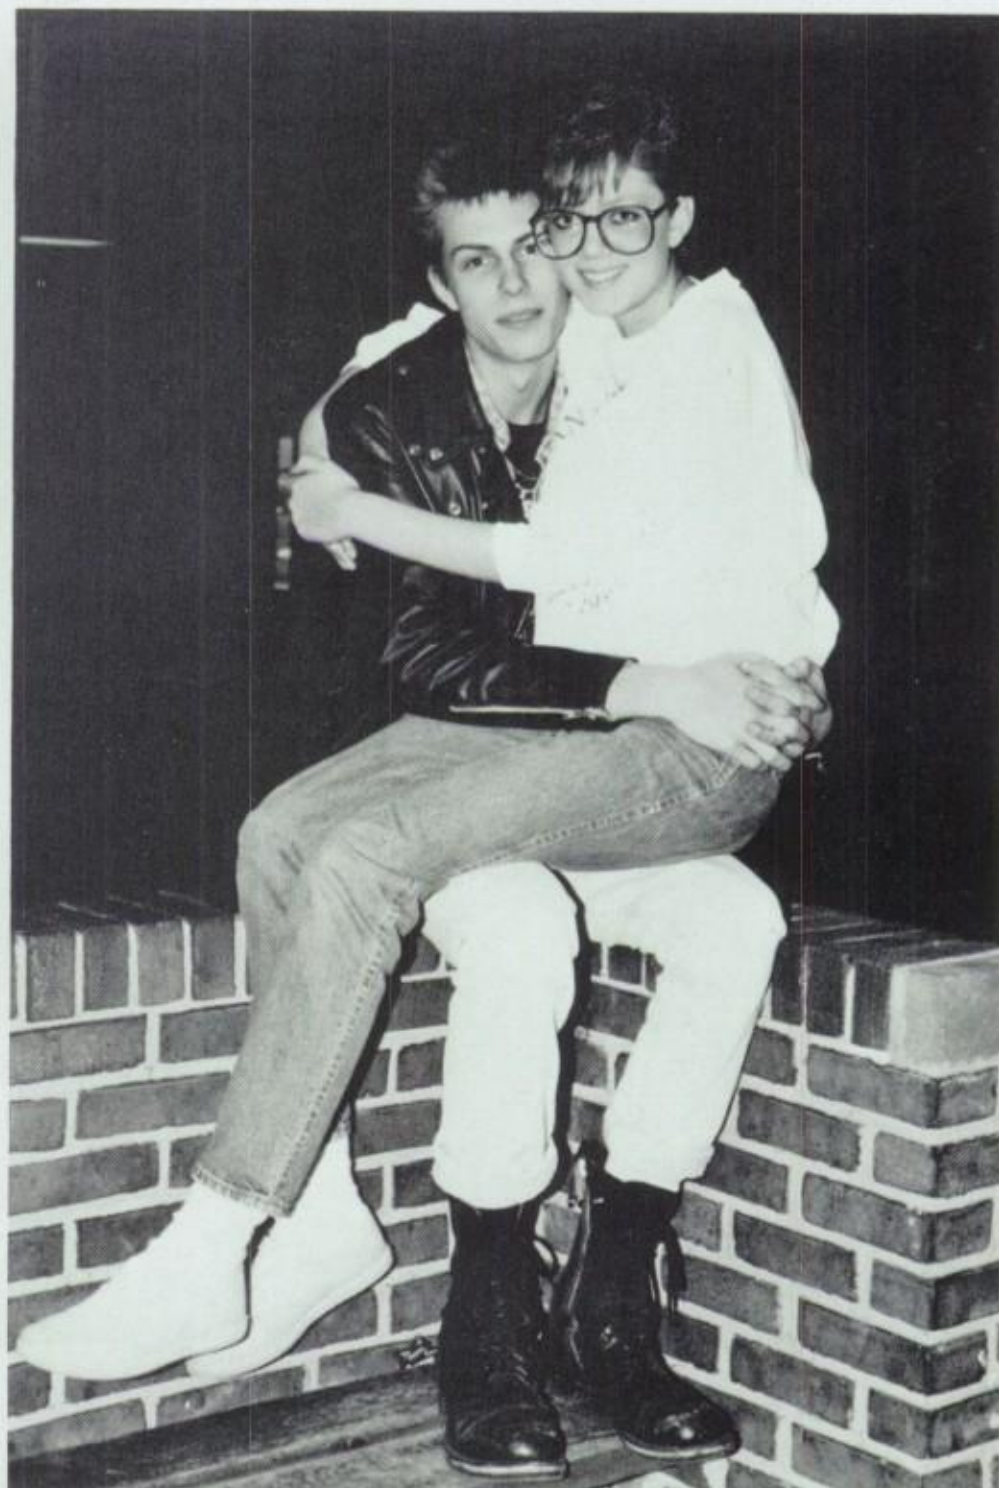

Some people may think these couples are just "tied down," but to each other it's a totally different feeling. "I don't really feel tied down," comments Maria Fanzone. "I can spend more time with my friends when I want to, and I still have plenty of time to devote to my boyfriend."

Couples will bring back very special memories in the years that lie ahead.

1. Nikki Addington and Matt Schabath look quite content by each other's side. 2. Lena Guiang gives a warm hug to Brian Bastien. 3. Jerry Beatie gives Maria Fanzone twenty-four long stemmed roses for their one year anniversary. 4. Tiffany Heavin and Brian D'Ambosio dress formal for an evening out on the town. 5. Ron Roemer offers a comfy seat for his girlfriend Michelle Gamez. 6. John Espina and Angela Ellis prepare for a wonderful evening at the Homecoming Dance.

Making The $ Stre-e-etch

Making the dollar stretch! It's no easy task. Even without run-away inflation, it can be a very difficult task to make a dollar go the necessary distance to cover one's expenses.

Owning a car can really test a young person's ability to manage money. Gas, insurance, and maintenance can really eat into the pocketbook. Sometimes you wonder if you own the car, or if the car and all its expenses really possess you!

Clothes and entertainment are next on the long list of budgetary concerns. There's that pair of stonewashed jeans you really wanted to have, or that new jacket that looked so sharp in the display window. How can you really get by without those new Reoboks, and that new necklace would sure look good with the outfit you bought just last week.

Football games, basketball games, dances and concerts. They all take their toll on the wallet. Buying the latest record or tape is also a worrisome item to squeeze into a budget that's already in shambles.

Then, how can one overlook the expenses involved in holding back hunger pains. A MacDonalds hamburger, fries, and a coke, a snack from the School Store, and those M&M's that someone one aisle over was selling all have a tendency to add up — steadily draining those hard earned dollars that you were paid just last Friday.

We're all glad to have money — the problem is keeping it!

Can Sterling Throw A Party!

"Mardi Gras" was a night of feasting and fun as the French Club members went all out to put on a party to top all parties. Both the food and the entertainment were exceptional!

Entertainment for the evening consisted of comical skits, numerous song and dance routines, and a breathtaking juggling act. Plus, what French party would be complete without a classic rendition of the Can-Can!

"Participating as a Can-Can dancer was fun and well choreographed. It got me more interested in the French Club, too," commented Senior Barb Grieshaber.

"The Dating Game skit was the best," exclaimed Junior Colleen Hofmeister. "It was funny and kept the audience's attention."

The evening also had a few surprises. Mrs. Lutz's two sons, Jonathan and Erin, sang along to John Cougar Mellencamp's "Papa On Fire." Then, Mrs. Lutz was serenaded by Eric Hermanson and a group of singers with a rendition of "You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin'."

By Any Other Name

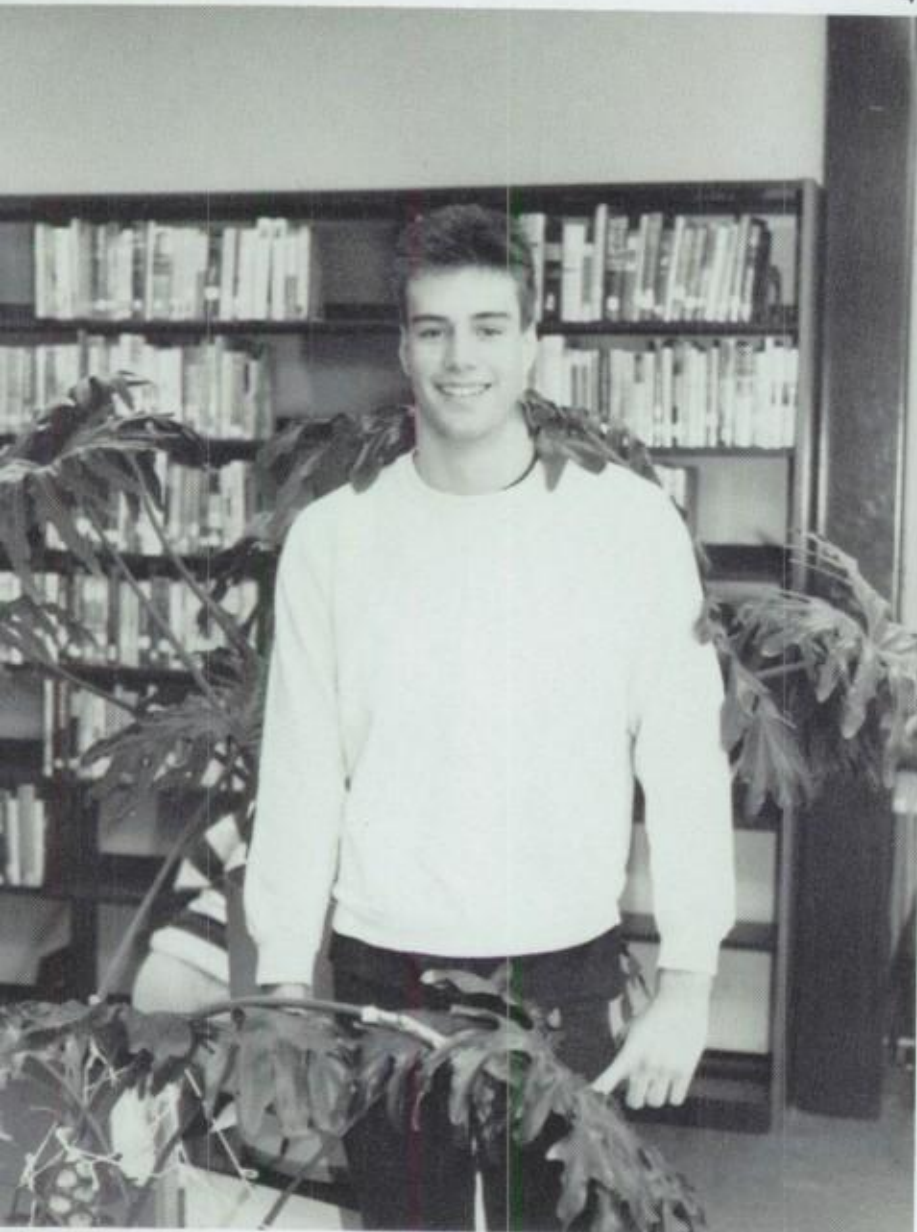

Practically everyone has a nickname. It could have been given to you when you were little by your parents. Or you could have picked it up from your friends.

Nicknames abound at Sterling. Some are take-offs on a real name. Notable examples include Tom Eisenbrenner, Eyes; Kevin O'Brien, O; Dave Roznowski, Roz; Lynn Kwiakowski, Ski; Eric Fischer, Fish; Jenny Settle, Settlement; Jeff Cojocar, Co; Jackie Segel, Jackson; Matt Wilk, Wint; Dave Kolasinski, Aristotle Kolas; and Beth Lialios, Lollipop.

Still others pick up their nicknames from personality traits, contacts, or major blunders. In Spanish Brad Compton acquired the name "Paco." Kevin DiMiglio earned the moniker "OJ" for spilling 17 cups of orange juice at a basketball game.

Other nicknames include Matt Carley, Bo; Dave Cutlip, Huey; Lena Guiang, Bene; Kyle Wolf, Wolfman; Stef Moschouris, Nooli; Eric Wandrie, Beeker; Jim Wade, Chills; Nancy Zolnoski, Rodney Dangerfield.

FRIENDS, PALS AND BUDDIES!
What could you do without them? Friends are people you can depend on to make you laugh, cheer you up when you are not in the greatest of moods, act as strange as you do, or just sit around and talk to.

Whether it is going to the mall, catching a flick, or just sitting around and doing nothing, the time spent with your friends is special. Everything and anything that you do with your friends always means something.

The SPIRIT OF '90. You might catch its expression on the face of a cheerleader inciting on a team. Or you might note its presence in the extra effort of an athlete giving 110 percent.

You're bound to see it surface in the bleachers, rallying on a victory.

'90 will be a great year. It's also the mark of a great class.

Sophomores '90 Sophomores

Not many sophomores enjoy the opportunity to go out for lunch. Most do not have access to a car — and must be content to remain at school.

Lunch doesn't just mean 30 minutes to quench an appetite. Of course, there are the hot lunches, pizza, chips, bagels, rolls, cookies, and ice cream. But there's more!

There's also the opportunity to visit with friends, and catch up on the latest news.

1. Meri Djurovski indulges in another can of Hawaiian Punch. 2. Ken Allmacher would rather eat than ... just about anything else. 3. Sophomore Prince and Princess Dino Tsitsis and Liz Skeans enjoy the Homecoming Dance. 4. Mike Rath and Sandy Stefaniak pose for a Lifetouch picture before the dance.

OLYMPIC HOPEFUL

Watching the Olympic Games is exciting. Participating in them must really be an experience of a lifetime. Dana Dobransky would like to feel that sensation.

Dana has participated in gymnastics for 9 years. She is ranked 1st in Michigan and 16th in the U.S.

Her commitment means practice 4-5 hours per day, 6 days per week.

Dana has competed in meets in Argentina, Israel, and Bulgaria. In Israel she took first in all the events except for the bars, where she took second place.

Out of the 32 countries present at the Bulgaria meet, Dana took 10th all around.

"I'm going to keep working and see what happens," said Dana.

KEEPING A WATCHFUL EYE

"Lifeguarding teaches you responsibility and self-discipline because the safety of the people in the pool depends on you," explained Cathy Gazepis, a two year veteran lifeguard at Warren City Pool.

Other members of the Warren Lifeguard crew were Brenda Polin, Nicole Ulewicz, and Chris Howe.

All guards must take a Life Saving class, a Water Test, and CPR training. They enjoyed their jobs, and especially liked working with co-workers and supervisors that were about their same age.

In the summer the guards teach swimming classes. "What a great way to get a tan," exclaimed Brenda.

"AUF WIEDERSEHEN"

On November 10 Christian Borowski said farewell to his fellow classmates at SHHS and prepared to make the long trip back to Oer-Erkenschwick in his native country of West-Germany.

Chris participated in a foreign exchange program where he came to SHHS to sharpen his English skills and learn about American culture.

Just before leaving his third hour English class gave him a farewell party which included a delicious chocolate cake from Hazel Park Bakery brought in by Daniela Trpkovski.

The class chipped in to buy him a SHHS sweatshirt which will help him remember the good times at Sterling.

SWEETEST DAY

Every third Saturday in October a day arrives which gives friends and couples a chance to say — "you're special."

Sweetest Day has its place, too, in the tradition of giving flower grams to that special person at Sterling.

This year Sweetest Day fell on October 17. Office Co-op class had a flower sale October 12-15, selling multi-colored carnations for one dollar apiece.

The flowers were delivered October 16 during the first four hours of the day.

Profits were used to help cover the cost of the Employer-Employee Banquet held at the end of the school year.

QUITE A BALANCING ACT

Some people collect stamps. Others might prefer listening to music collections, trading baseball cards, or watching their favorite sports team perform.

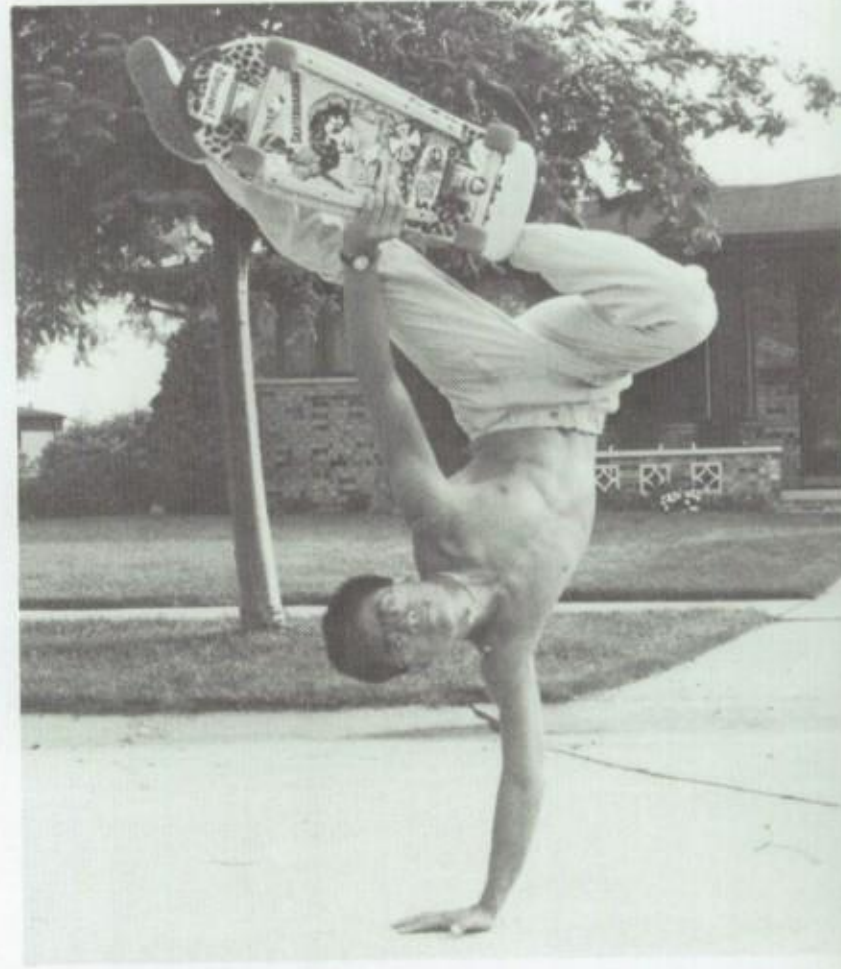

Ramil Manrique has his own idea of how to pass the time. For the past three years, Ramil has been polishing his skills on the skateboard.

His cousin first introduced him to the sport of skateboard competition. With the family behind him 100%, his mother gave him his first professional skateboard.

Skating on area streets, in plazas and shopping centers, Ramil has built up a repertoire of moves and maneuvers to impress just about anyone.

Why does he love skateboarding so much? "Because it's aggressive and fun, and it gives me a challenge," comments Ramil.

Ramil took first place in a competition hosted by Albe's Skate Shop last summer, winning $25 for his efforts.

1. Lana Wirgau knows that part of a model's training is learning the most effective ways to apply make-up. Modeling is something that just comes naturally to Sheila Smith.

MORE THAN A PRETTY FACE

Modeling professionally is just a dream to most high school students, but to a select few, it's a real experience. While the jobs may not pay hundreds of dollars an hour, it still gives some students some spending money.

Sheila Smith attended classes before she started modeling. Her parents viewed her as a natural, declaring, "You better be a model."

Lisa Scalzo has been modeling for fashion shows like "Hit or Miss." Lisa plans to make a career of modeling.

Lana Wirgau attended John Casablanca's Moedling and Career Center.

"Modeling is something I've always wanted to get into," commented Lana, "and finally I'm starting to achieve my dream."

A LONG WAY FROM HOME

Laura Gentner spent two months this past summer visiting a Japanese family in a small city near Tokyo. The trip was arranged through the Youth for Understanding program.

Laura learned to eat with chopsticks, and even developed a tolerance for squid and raw fish. She found Japanese school-life "very hard."

"It was an experience I'll never forget," said Laura.

Jane Cvetanovski spent her summer in Yugoslavia with her brother and sister. She stayed in Belgrade and Bitola.

Jane also spent some time in Greece. "One thing different is that the teenagers have more freedom there than we do," said Jane.

ON THE ROAD AGAIN

Feel the need to escape? How do you get away from it all? To some daring individuals, the answer is a bike.

Eric Swensen has been riding for seven years. He wants to follow in his older brother's footsteps.

"You need to put a lot of time and effort into riding in order to be good at it," commented Eric.

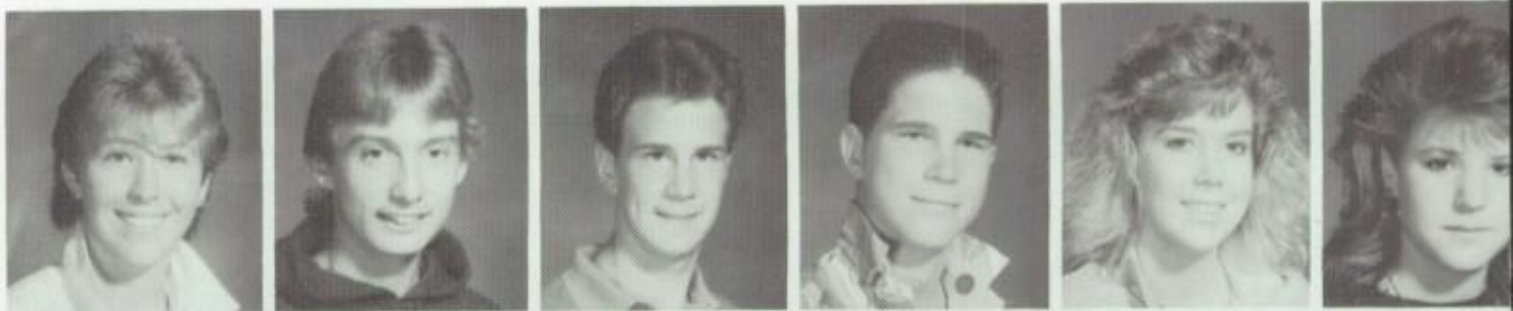

Eric tries to ride every weekend with his older brother to stay in competitive condition.

While Eric prefers a dirt bike, Todd Ryan prefers the comfort of a road bike.

Todd remarked, "You feel free when you ride a motorbike, and it's a lot of fun!"

Todd was introduced to motorbikes by his father. Compared to a bike, Todd feels driving a car is boring.

Some Seniors Roam; Others Stay Home

So, what did you do over the summer? The question is sure to be asked those first few days of school.

If you're one of the lucky ones, and you went white water rafting in North Carolina or surfing in California, the question is a cinch to answer.

But for some less fortunate seniors who had to stay close to home and work, the reply is a little less dramatic.

Still, many a homebound senior can talk about trips to Cedar Point and Boblo. Then there's always the concert scene to review: Pine Knob, Freedom Hill, and Joe Louis Arena.

Symptoms Of Senioritis Threaten GPA's

It may begin with an extreme disorientation, making it very difficult to concentrate on anything related to academics. One may feel a hyperactive drive to party or cruise the city.

Most susceptible are 12th graders. In fact, the disease is even named after that specific group. Parents and teachers alike know it as SENIORITIS.

Is there a cure? Some say the only real solution is graduation. Others believe that you simply have to fight off the onset of the disease with scholastic dedication and resolve.

Whatever the case — the disease can reek havoc on GPA's!

Go-Getters Find The Easiest Route

Homework over Christmas vacation? Research in the library over Easter break? Are there really people with that kind of enthusiasm? You bet there are!

Not everyone procrastinates until the very last possible moment to start on an assignment or to finish a project.

The go-getters and self-starters have already learned that life is a lot more enjoyable when you have control of the situation.

These people get the job done. Then, while everybody else is scurrying about, trying to squeeze eight hour's work into four hour's time, they stretch back and relax with a soft chuckle to themselves.

Fashion Trends Encourage Individual Expression

What was the well-dressed senior of SHHS wearing in '88? No single style dominated the scene. The fashion was to do your own thing.

Mini skirts were back in style. The layered look was also very much in vogue.

Stone washed denim jeans were a favorite, and loose fitting sweatshirts were both comfortable and warm.

The preppie look was still very popular, with plaid skirts and cordoroy slacks a common sight.

The look was laid-back, relaxed, and slanted to individual expression.

Drama And Intrigue Invade Sterling's Campus

On October 8, 1987 Kevin Anthony's rubber chicken mysteriously disappeared from the bumper of his truck. A ransom note was found attached to the door handle.

Instructions told him to go to Magnolia Park on Saturday if he ever wanted to see his chicken again. Fearing the worst, Kevin took along an army of friends: Scott Bischoff, Laura Geldof, Dan Zajac, Todd Frohner, Steve Kubiak, Jeff Bachert, and Tom Eisbrenner.

Kevin found Sue Chopp with his chicken at the park. After asking a few questions, he decided to visit the home of Iza Musial, taking with him water balloons, eggs, shaving cream. Justice was served.

1. Kevin Anthony at the scene of the crime shows his ransom note. 2. Tricia Paquet convicted of chicken-knapping. 3. Iza Musial, also convicted of chicken-knapping.

You're Invited To Join The Pepsi Generation

Are you a member of the Pepsi generation? Or do you prefer the bold taste of Coke? Do you like the new Coke, or do you prefer Coke Classic?

The cola wars were a major part of the advertising hype that pervaded TV and radio. The talents of such giants as Michael Jackson were enlisted to influence the tastes and buying habits of the American public.

Sterling Seniors made their own choices. And whether they chose Coke, Pepsi, Dr. Pepper, or 7-Up, they were simply reflecting the wide range of tastes and habits of the Class of '88.

1. Tom Bringard and Matt Carley disagree on the best thirst quencher. 2. Brian Bastien and Tim Nichols have different ideas about what tastes best.

Academic Competition Challenges Seniors During Spirit Week

Senior intellects were challenged during Spirit Week as academic competition was introduced into the week's activities. Even though the seniors did not know what to expect, they came through victoriously in all three events.

The English competition consisted of a video game played on the reading lab computers where competitors shot down synonyms of words.

Mark Avery, Karen Kinner, Scott Knapp, and Maria Tsitsis combined talents to dominate the math competition.

Jeff Bachert, Andrew Brooks, Steve Kubiak, and Jeff Swiakowski captured first in the current events competition.

False Moves Can Be Hazardous To Your Health

Stairs require a certain degree of focused concentration. Letting the mind wander to other considerations while bounding up a set of stairs can have disastrous results.

Given the fact that Sterling seniors tend to have a lot on their mind, is it any wonder that some embarrassing incidents will inevitably occur, just when you least expect.

Moreover, leather soles and slippery tile do not go well together. The halls of Sterling can be a challenge, especially when the warning bell rings and you still find yourself quite a distance away from your next class.

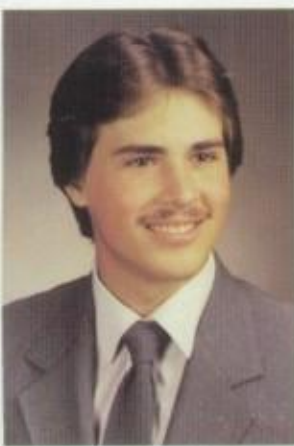

1. Craig Marx has a problem with one of the many stairways at Sterling. 2. Anita Schmidt gets some help carrying her books from Kim Burrell. 3. Kevin Gore acts the perfect gentleman, giving Rachel Kravens some assistance.

Popular Hangouts Offer Food, Fun, And Fellowship

Little Ceasar's, Taco Bell, Kentucky Fried Chicken. Big Boys. Hardy's. Sterling seniors know where to find good food, good fun, and good friends.

Lunch doesn't allow much time to grab a quick bite to eat, then return to Sterling. But there are many who don't need to go back to school after their day is done.

Then there are the football games, basketball games, and dances. Afterwards, most seniors look for a place to go where they can stretch the evening's fun.

Noted for their healthy appetites, the Class of '88 will be remembered for their selective choice of retreats.

1. Maria Burke and Andrew Brook's favorite hangout is in a tree. 2. Scott Oliverio, Er Hermanson, and Chris Nugent like to frequent Little Ceasar's.

Heavy Schedules Prompt Unscheduled Snoozes

You were only going to lie down on the couch for a couple of minutes before you started your homework. You had no intention of falling asleep.

You thought you were listening in math class. Suddenly, you realize that you can't account for the activity of the last five minutes.

Sound familiar? Then maybe you're a victim of the "too heavy schedule" syndrome. At the drop of a hat you can fall asleep, no matter where you are or what you still have to do.

If only someone would come up with the thirty-hour day — you'd never fall behind again!

Anticipation Intensifies For Graduation Day

The big day is not very far away. Invitations to graduation parties have gone off in the mail, and it finally hits you that the friends and teachers and building that you have known so well over the last three years are about to become history.

Final exams still lie ahead, but you know that the year is winding down and it's only a matter of days now that you'll still report at 7:30 to SHHS.

Hard to concentrate — you bet it is! Thoughts of a new kind of freedom race through your mind. Twelve years of school is a long time. You're ready to celebrate a real accomplishment!

1. Kevin Koneval, Renee Crawford, and Tom Denek are proud to graduate from the home of the Stallions. 2. Paul Sabatini, Todd Miller, Renee Crawford, and Stacey Col get just a little excited as the big day approaches.

One Day We'll Always Remember

Class Poem

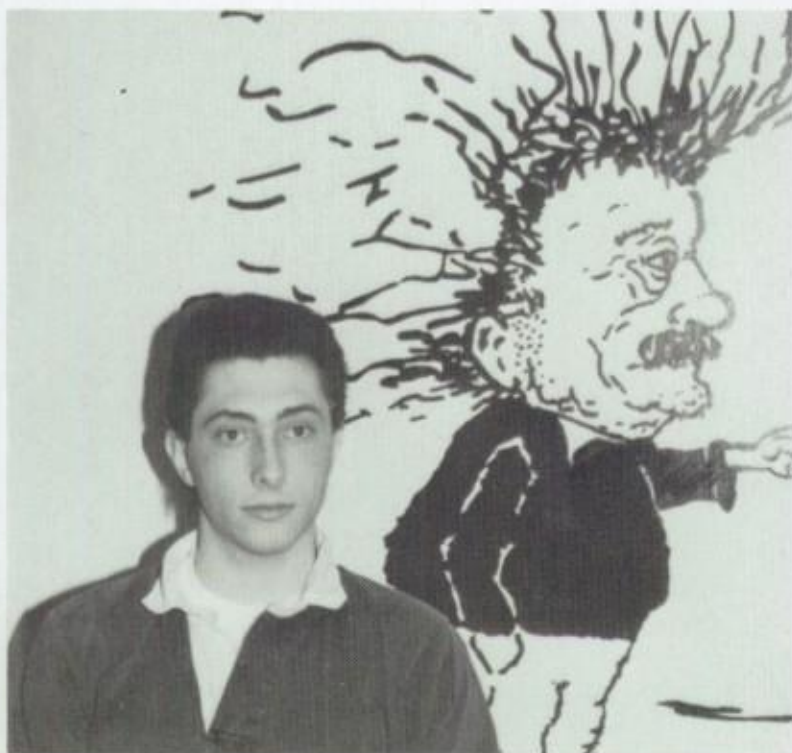

School Day Memories

As we reach out our hand
The diploma we grasp,
While we think of the memories
Of the years in the past.
Tears fill our eyes
Because it's all gone,
We're starting a new life,
We have to move on.
We hope friends will keep in touch
As the years pass us by,
Although it hurts inside
We'll try not to cry.
We think of kindergarten
And our first day,
Now we've reached the end
We are going away.
How do you say good-bye
To friends who mean so much?
Will there be time
To sincerely keep in touch?
You'll always have the memories
Of your schoolyears from day one,
Don't think of school as ending-
Think a new life has begun.

Class Song
We Say Hello, Goodbye
-Phil Collins

Turn your head, don't look back
Set your sails for a new horizon,
Don't turn around, don't look down.
There's life across the tracks,
And you know it's really not surprising
It gets better, when you get there.

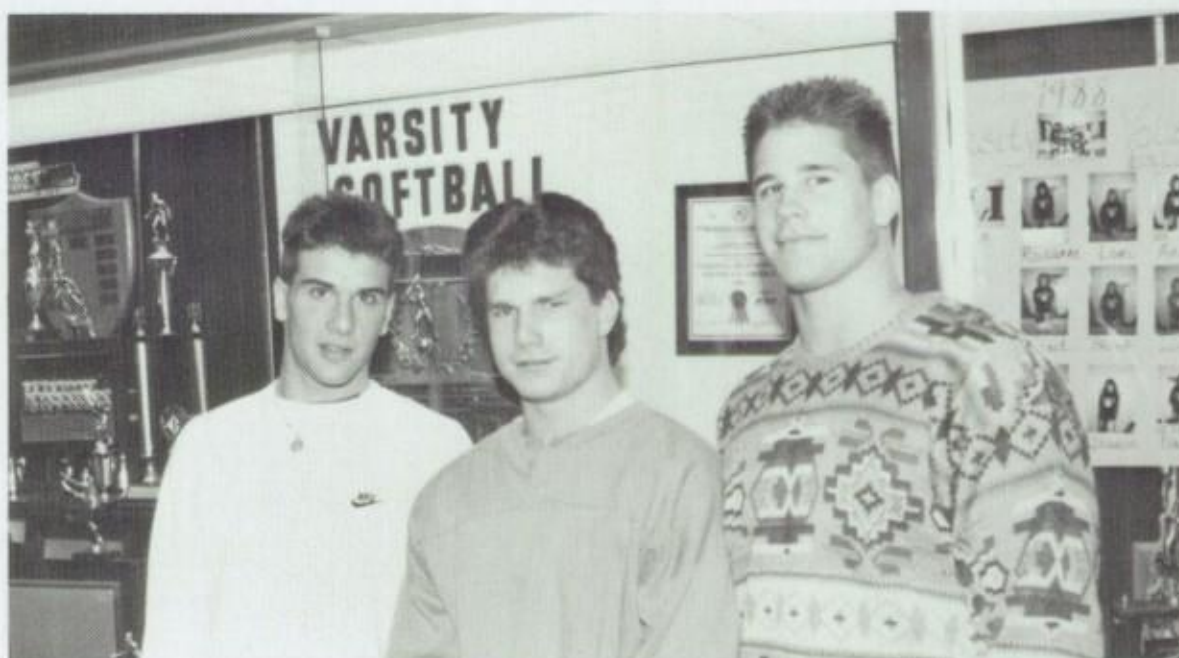

DAVE YOUNGMAN won the grand prize in the Tubby's annual art contest. He also won first place at Sterling. Dave won a $1000 scholarship to the school of his choice along with $500 to the school art fund and $500 to the art teacher in the form of a travel voucher.

CHRIS LAMPHEAR has won ten District Writing Awards. His stories have appeared in a variety of magazines. Chris's first acceptance was from Merlyn's Pen, for a story entitled "A Hasty Decision". Chris's published stories have appeared in the magazines The Goofus Office Gazette, Aliens & Alchemy, and From Sctrach. In January of 1988, Chris received a prestigious writing award from the Detroit Auto Dealers Association for his story, "El Impresor." The award was presented by Lee Iacocca and earned him a prize of $500.

SHANNON GOEDDEKE, LYNN KWIATKOWSKI, and ANNETTE BLAUROK had very outstanding sports careers at SHHS. Shannon was a team captain and MVP in basketball. She was also in the top ten of the basketball players in Michigan. Lynn was an honorable mention, All-Suburban, and All-Metro basketball player. Annette broke the record in the 100-yard dash and was the most improved athlete in track. She was also a MVP and a honorable mention in volleyball.

DAVE CUTLIP, KYLE WOLFE, and CHRIS DEMETRAL had very successful sports careers. Dave Cutlip made All-Conference in tennis. He was the Macomb County 18 And Under Champ and the Sterling Heights Mens Champ. In football Dave was voted MVP and was All-State, All-Suburban, All-Metro, and All-Conference, and All-County. Kyle made All-State, All-Suburban, All-Metro east, and All-Conference in football. Chris Demetral made All-Conference and All-Metro East in football, while in baseball he made All-Conferenece.

Seniors

Margitt Brigant will be visiting Russia this summer as part of a new Soviet-American cultural exchange program. She was introduced to the program through her Polish dancing class.

Susan Blaszkowski was one of the one hundred students selected from the state of Michigan to attend the 1987 Summer Institute of Arts and Sciences at Grand Valley State College.

Michele Landino has been ice skating for 11 years. She participated in the 1988 Winter Olympics as a precision skater, which is an exhibition event. Michele is a 4 year member of the Fraserettes, the current national champions of precision skating. She plans to continue her skating and dreams of becoming a coach.

Seniors with a grade point average of 4.0 or above included CHERIE HALTER, CHRISTINE MALONE, ANNE MARIE BORK, AMY HAGEN, MARIA TSITSIS, DAN NUGENT, JEFFREY STACEY, MARIA FANZONE, ANNA KUZMIK, CAROLYN ZACH, JEREMY WAY, VINCENT WILK, STEVEN FERGUSON, CORINA HAUSHERR, and LORI SKONIECZNY. The colleges these students will be attending are University of Michigan, Wayne State, Central Michigan, Michigan State, Ferris College, Wheaton, and West Point.

Another year has come and gone. The year-book staff of 1988 has tried to capture the many memorable moments the year has brought. Hopefully, our book will help you remember, each time you look at these pages.

We would like to extend our gratitude to the following:

The faculty and administration for allowing our numerous interruptions.

Life Touch Studio, Stewart Patricks, and Jostens Publishing Co. for their help in printing pictures and publishing the 1988 year-book.

Shannon.
Hey Dude! Guess
What! IT IS THE
END OF THE SCHOOL
YEAR! What a bummer. Well we have one more year to go. I think we will make it with a without them. (You know who I'm talking about. This year has been a blast and a tragic one. But thanks for being there for me. I might of been a pain but you helped me through my bad times. You know which problems I'm talking about well good luck next year with the guys or guy and the graces too.
Can't forget them now & we should do have a great summer & we should do something. Let it go it, Jelly Bean.
Can't live with them
Can't live without them.

Class of 1990
1991

Love
Zak

Shannon, I don't regret ever have meeting you or having a close relationship with you. I wish things could have been a little different though. Even so you are still one of the sweetest girls
 I have ever met and one of the best looking soccer players I've had the honor to know. Good luck in the future, may our paths cross.

Shannon
 what a year, huh? Comptons was a blast, though and that's because you were in it. I hope we have more classes together next summer. Yea! Have a great year
 Love,
 Karen '89
 Otterson

Shannon,
 I'm glad we got to have another class together this year! You're a real sweetie & you always make me laugh. Don't ever forget our hilarious pranks!
 I hope you remembered to put your face on the side of a milk can - d
 Love, Carrie '89

Shannon,
 Hey! How's it going? It's been real, esp. in soccer.
 This season was so fun, wasn't it? ---

Hey Chickie Baby!
you have been the greatest! Thanks for telling me to go out for a week it was so much fun! Just wait till next year then I'll really have the hang of it, I just might decide to see what being goalie is like too!
Now you don't have anything to worry abt.
It's also been great in having Mr. Farnolds class too Always remember "Oh well" there's no one in 1st hr. anyways
Do you think we hurt Corey's feelings? Naw! K.I.T. 934-9342
Love Julia Robinson

What a great hope you know good. And you have you! Haha. And you
Viala guess summer. I have a Jibin Sk, 6879 & no pranks.
